TRUMAN CALLS FOR COOPERATION

Dulles Informs Red Bloc U.S. To Stay Strong

Firm Policy In U. N. Shaping Up Quickly Following Election

PARIS, Nov. 5 (AP)—John Foster Dulles told the Russian bloc today that the United States has stopped disarming and "intends to be strong" so long as fears grip the free peoples of the world.

From the tone and manner of his speech it was apparent that a firm American policy in the United Nations Assembly is shaping up quickly after last Tuesday's presidential election.

Dulles, the Republican Party adviser on foreign affairs, thus indicated the election had not changed in any way the general foreign policy supported by both Republicans and Democrats.

He denounced as "vicious falsehoods" Russian charges that the United States aims for world mastery. Dulles told the United Nations Political Committee:

"Our growing national strength no doubt displeases some; but it does not, I believe, frighten any. I ask each delegate to search his own mind and come to his own conclusion as to who and what his nation fears. I shall be satisfied with a silent verdict, for I know that some fear even to express their fear."

No Apology For Decision

Americans, Dulles said, make no apology for their decision to stop disarming "because our strength is not for ourselves alone." He added: "It is our purpose to so unite and strengthen the forces of freedom that they will not have to fear."

Dulles spoke in a debate on the Balkanls. He said Americans had organized "no disloyal groups, no fifth columns, to do our will" in Europe after withdrawing all but a fragment of the huge armed forces which fought in the war. He said this was proof that the United States has no aggressive ambitions.

Elsewhere in the United Nations:

1.—Britain said she will ask the Security Council to extend to all of Palestine the council's order to Jews and Arabs to give up positions in the south won during the United Nations truce.

2.—The Budgetary Committee agreed to advance $5,000,000 out of the United Nations working capital fund as part of a relief program for some 500,000 refugees in the Palestine war.

The debate in the Political Committee centered around the report of the United Nations Special Commission on the Balkans. That report accused Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania of helping Communist-led guerrillas fighting the Greek government.

Vishinsky Remark Called Insult

The United States, Britain, China and France have urged approval of the report by the Assembly and an extension of the life of the commission. Russia has called on the Assembly to discontinue the commission. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky has described the UNSCOB findings as a "pile of garbage." The committee may reach a vote on the issue tomorrow.

Dulles said Vishinsky's remark was an insult to an organ of the United Nations. The American delegate pointed out the Soviet bloc states have devoted many hours to attempts to discredit the report.

"Why have they done so?" he asked. "Because they are afraid to let those findings go unchallenged. Their conduct here is unmistakable proof, if indeed proof was needed, that nations whose conduct threatens the peace do fear the consequence of exposure."

Hector McNeil, British Minister of State, and Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, of the Philippines, lectured Vishinsky for using intemperate language.

Fighters Corral Two Brush Fires

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—Red-eyed, sweating crews of firefighters apparently were holding their own tonight against two brush fires which had swept an estimated 15,000 acres.

Predicted high winds did not develop and a long precision fight to strengthen positions in the Santa Monica mountains and Santa Ana Canyon apparently had paid off.

Still on the alert for dangerous outbreaks, fire officials had not taken time to make detailed checks of losses, and many areas were still too hot to survey.

The Santa Monica fire apparently had covered nearly 3,000 acres and levelled at least 24 homes, although some police estimates ran from 100 to 200. The Orange County blaze—which on one spurt covered 10 miles in four hours—had swept at least 12,000 acres, but had burned only five cabins.

Late today they reported that with the exception of one "hot spot" at the head of nearby Santa Ynez Canyon, they believed the conflagration had been corralled, but not controlled.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5 (AP)—Seven persons convicted of conspiracy charges in connection with interracial tennis matches in a city park today filed a motion for a new trial.

Task Of Preparing North Atlantic Pact To Start Next Week

Europe Union Wants To Submit Treaty To Congress In January

PARIS, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Brussels Alliance will begin next week the outline and perhaps the actual draft of a proposed North Atlantic pact with Canada and the United States, British and French sources said tonight. The object is to have the treaty ready to submit to Congress in January.

This development followed the disclosure that the United States already has re-equipped three French divisions in Germany from surplus material. The Russian-licensed press in Berlin termed this action the implementation of a new "Truman doctrine for France," a reference to American military aid for Greece and Turkey to prevent the spread of Communism.

High American, British and French commanders in Germany will confer this weekend with Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, chief military planner of the Brussels Alliance, to map strategic plans for European defense, dispatches from Frankfurt reported.

Confer At Hannover

This will take place at Hannover, residence of the British military governor of Germany, even before the representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg gather in London next week to discuss the projected North Atlantic pact.

The Frankfurt dispatches explained that the United States is automatically committed to the defense of Western Europe—regardless of the existence or non-existence of a formal alliance—so long as American troops are in Germany. Any attack on Western Germany would involve American troops immediately, it was pointed out.

Arrangements for alliance talks were speeded up by the re-election this week of President Truman, French and British informants said. Whether a go-ahead from Washington actually had been received was not disclosed.

They said, however, the Brussels pact powers expect to be ready for a formal full-scale conference with the United States and Canada to be called in Washington early in December. The ambassadors of the five countries would head delegations to the conference which would include military and political experts.

January Deadline

The powers hope to have the North Atlantic pact ready for the consideration of the United States Congress in January, they added.

It was believed ambassadors of the other four members of the Brussels pact will meet with Gladwyn Jebb, British representative, in London to whip into shape their STRANGLED — The body of William Gervais (above), 13, a suspected sex attack victim, was found in a Chicago manhole yesterday a few hours after his mother suffered a fatal heart attack while reporting him missing. The youth had been strangled.

Body Of Missing Chicago Youth Is Found In Manhole

Mother Of Victim Dies In Hospital

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—The body of a boy, a suspected sex attack victim, was found in a manhole today, a few hours after his mother suffered a fatal heart attack while reporting him missing.

The victim was 13-year-old William Gervais. His body had been dumped into an electrical conduit vault on the south side that youngsters had been using as a playhouse cave. Although a blood-stained 18-inch bar was found near the body, Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's physician said the youth had been strangled.

Dr. Kearns said the victim apparently was strangled by hand. The killer used such a vicious grip, he said, that a muscle in William's throat was broken.

His mother, Mrs. Clara Foote, 45, a widow, was stricken last night in the stockyards police station. She died in a hospital early today before William's body was found.

Detective Timothy O'Connell ordered a roundup of known sex offenders in the neighborhood of Fuller Park, 45th Street and Princeton Avenue, where the body was found. He also ordered a search of sewers in the neighborhood on the theory that another boy in the neighborhood, missing for four months, may have been slain and disposed of in similar manner.

Kiss By Fiance's Brother Changes Fraulein's Mind

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 5 (AP) — Maybe Ralph Gaber should never have let his 19-year-old sweetheart be kissed by his kid brother the day she arrived from Kassell, Germany.

Because now she wants to marry the kid brother.

Elizabeth Sauer flew from Germany to marry Ralph, 33, the man she met three years ago. Karl, 25, was there to greet her with the rest of the family.

Says Elizabeth:

"Karl shook hands with me and kissed my cheek. I knew there could never be anybody else but him."

Tydings Rejected Nomination Chance

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5 (AP) — Sen. Tydings explained today he was "in the middle" on the states' right question during the political campaign and turned down a good chance to get the Democratic nomination for President.

"I really had no home at the convention," he said. "I didn't see eye-to-eye with the southerners and I didn't agree with what the others were trying to do to them. I was in the middle."

"I told him that I was for President Truman and that the Maryland delegation had been instructed for President Truman," Tydings said. He quoted Sen. Russell as replying:

"If you won't take it, Millard, I'm going to take it myself. But I am under instruction to get a definite 'no' from you first."

Sen. Russell mustered 261 votes at the height of the southern drive to keep President Truman from getting the nomination.

Capital Gives Nation's Chief Gala Welcome

Cheers, Flags, Music Greet President Who Wouldn't Be Beaten

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—The Capital proudly poured forth its people and its plaudits today in roaring acclaim of a returning President who wouldn't be beaten.

From the north portico of the White House he will occupy for four more years, Harry S. Truman responded simply and humbly:

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

He looked across swarms of people on the White House lawn, crammed along broad Pennsylvania Avenue and overflowing Lafayette Park. His warm smile disappeared for a moment. He remarked gravely:

"I shall look forward to the help and co-operation of all the people, because we are faced with great issues now which I think we can bring to a successful conclusion."

Sharing the tumultuous welcome, as he shared the triumph of Tuesday's election, was Sen. Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, the next Vice President.

But mostly Washington and the folks of nearby Maryland and Virginia turned out to thrust out a friendly hand to the man who almost alone carried the Democratic banner to an upset victory.

Police Form Honor Guard

Three quarters of a million strong, the little people and big men of government and the diplomatic corps shrieked out their welcome to the Chief Executive.

With Barkley by his side, sitting on the folded top of a long, black car, Mr. Truman paraded slowly along the historic Pennsylvania Avenue route from Union Station to the White House. His hat and grin were going strong.

All the motorcycle police in Washington, an even 100, formed the honor guard ahead. Fire trucks swung 100-foot extension ladders across the avenue in tremendous, bunting-bedecked arches. Huge banners hanging from them proclaimed: "Welcome home, Mr. President."

They waved banners and balloons and tossed torn paper by the fistful. Some sported blue "I told you so" buttons. Maids in hotels fluttered sheets and towels from upper windows.

Signs along the way jeered at poll takers and political experts who had predicted that Republican Thomas E. Dewey would capture the White House. A sample: "Truman Gallup-ed to victory."

"Overwhelming" Welcome

"Welcome home from the crow eaters," the Post said.

Here in Washington, which takes even its visiting kings and potentates pretty much in stride, President Truman never had seen anything like today's reception. The Democrats flunked out of school when they tried to stage a gala welcome when Mr. Truman returned from a campaign swing last September.

But this time it was a champion returning from his Missouri home.

The President's special train backed into Union Station late this morning, Mr. Truman on the rear platform waving his hat to hundreds of people strung along the track to greet him.

Families Of U. S. Military Personnel Will Leave China

Marines Might Be Moved To Shanghai

NANKING, Nov. 5 (AP)—The 1,000 wives and children of United States military personnel in China are being sent home and all other American civilians are being urged by the embassy to leave the Shanghai-Nanking area for fear of Communist invasion.

In addition, Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger said in a news conference in Shanghai that he might shift some marines from the Tsingtao base to Shanghai, "but only as a protective force."

Adm. Badger, commanding the United States Western Pacific Fleet, said, "the marines hold special status and can land on a foreign shore without constituting an act of war. They are recognized by international law as international policemen."

"We may have to bring some to Shanghai."

Won't Abandon Tsingtao Base

He said he had no intention of abandoning the Tsingtao base on the North China coast but was prepared to evacuate Americans and citizens of friendly nations "on a humanitarian basis."

It appeared that the American steps were taken only after the embassy's military staff advised it that the Chinese government no longer had the physicial power to keep the war away from the national capital.

Chinese spokesmen declined public comment, but one high official said the American action "appears unwarranted."

Both Nanking and Shanghai are south of the board Yangtze River, but both could be cut off from the sea.

Nanking is linked to Shanghai by a 193-mile railroad which follows the river's south bank. Shanghai, although a great port, is 13 miles up the Whangpoo River, which flows into the Yangtze estuary.

Strikes May Delay Evacuation

Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, director of the United States joint military advisory groups in China, said all the groups' dependents would be returned to the United States as rapidly as water transportation becomes available. With the United States West Coast strike tying up a majority of ships that normally ply to China, accommodations may be hard to get.

Gen. Barr said military personnel all were remaining.

There are about 7,000 American civilians in China. Nearly 4,000 are in or near Shanghai and Nanking.

Latest pro-government military reports said the Communists were attempting to bypass Suchow, big government base 180 miles northwest of Nanking. The aim apparently was to isolate possibly 400,000 government troops in the Suchow sector.

Sen. Barkley Predicts Some Price Controls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Vice President-elect Alben W. Barkley said today he believes the new Congress will approve some legislation aimed at controlling prices.

"I think Congress will deal with the subject and give the President something like the authority he asked for before," Barkley told a news conference.

Mr. Truman had asked the 80th Congress for stand-by authority to limit prices of certain scarce and critical commodities, plus restricted allocation and priority powers.

Barkley, speaking to approximately 100 reporters in the big Senate caucus room, also said he thinks the Taft-Hartley Labor Act should be repealed and possibly replaced by some modifications of the original Wagner Act. He declined to speculate on what form they might take.

He also predicted the extension of federal rent controls beyond March 1 and said he thinks President Truman again will call on Congress to enact civil rights legislation similar to that which split the Democratic Party this year.

"I assume the President will recommend a program in accordance with the platform on which he ran and on which we all ran," Barkley said.

The veteran Kentucky lawmaker said he does not forsee any major difficulties ahead for the President's recommendations because "the verdict of the people has been pretty decisive approval of our program."

Meanwhile, Sen. Scott Lucas, of Illinois, in a separate news conference, said he is "available" for the Democratic whip (assistant leader).

Barkley was asked whether there will be reprisals against legislators who supported the States' Rights Democratic ticket headed by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina.

"We'll cross that bridge when we get to it," he said. "It may not even be a bridge when we get to it."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Vice President-elect Barkley today laughed at suggestions for a lavish official home for the Vice President. "I told the President that if they build a $2,500,000 house for the Vice President nobody would want to run for President," Barkley told a news conference with a chuckle.

Salesman Admits Waldorf Slaying

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—(AP)—A Canadian businessman was found beaten to death in the fashionable Waldorf Astoria Hotel today and less than 12 hours later police said they had a confession from a 19-year-old salesman.

Assistant District Attorney George Monagha nsaid tonight the salesman, Ralph Edmund Barrows, haw admitted "full participation" in the fatal beating of Cameron MacKellar, 56-year-old textile company official.

Monaghan said Barrows made the admission in a verbal statement in the presence of high police officials.

Barrows, six feet tall, dark-haired and well-dressed, was being held at a police station for further questioning.

Monaghan said there was "no question" that police had the right man. Monaghan said police were preparing to take a written statement from Barrows.

The match-book listed the name and address of a tavern. Later Barrows was found in the tavern, police said. They gave no details of how Barrows was spotted.

Police advanced no motive for the crime immediately.

Previously police had listed as clues a pair of highball glasses and some setups for whisky drinks found in MacKellar's room.

They said the glasses indicated that MacKellar, general sales manager of the Dominion Textile Company, Ltd., of Montreal, had had company in his room.

Truman Accepts Young Pastor's Casual Invitation

NEW BERN, N. C., Nov. 5 (AP) — A young preacher's casual invitation to "come down and worship with us some time" will be accepted Sunday by President Truman.

Rev. Thomas Waitt Fryer, 40-year-old pastor of the First Baptist Church here where the Truman family will attend services, said he extended the invitation when he visited the President two months ago.

"After I invited him, he said he never could tell but that he might be down to see us some day," Fryer said. He added that he knew nothing about the acceptance until Secret Service men contacted his wife here yesterday and disclosed the plans.

Fryer said he hadn't yet planned the sermon he will preach Sunday. He said he hoped there would be no fanfare about the President's visit. The church seats about 500.

B-25 Bomber Missing

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass., Nov. 5 (AP)—Air Force officials said tonight a B-25 twin-engined bomber from Bolling Air Force base at Washington is missing and is believed to have crashed near Argentia, Nfld. The Air Force said six men were aboard.

North And South Senators Predict Democratic Unity

O'Mahoney, Johnston See Party Harmony

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—A forecast of party harmony in Congress between northern and southern Democrats came today from two senators in the previously opposed camps.

It came in separate interviews with Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), identified with northern and western members of the party, and Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), one of the original leaders of anti-Truman forces among southern Democrats.

Both also predicted that the new Democratic majorities in the Senate and House will await word from President Truman before acting on price controls, housing, repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act or other major campaign issues.

O'Mahoney said one of the factors in the GOP defeat was "failure of the Republican Congress to do anything to hold prices in line."

"For two years GOP congressional leaders have been campaigning for the presidency instead of legislating for the country," he added.

O'Mahoney and other Democrats said they expected no reprisals against southern Democrats who opposed Mr. Truman's nomination or supported the States' Rights ticket.

"That all will be forgotten," O'Mahoney said. "We'll have real unity in Congress including support from most of the liberal Republicans."

Johnston, who battled Mr. Truman's nomination but later voted for him, returned with O'Mahoney and numerous other Democratic law makers today to take part in the capital's reception and welcome for President Truman.

"I saw the President and talked with him," Johnston said. "I think we'll have harmony in the next Congress."

O'Mahoney introduced a price stabilization bill during the last Congress. It would have required notice and a "cooling off" period before any basic industry—such as steel, coal, automobiles, foods, and others—could increase prices.

"But we'd better find out what the President and his economic advisors suggest before we try to act," O'Mahoney said.

Johnston said the recent decline in the price of some foods and other commodities may take care of the price situation between now and the time Democrats organize the Congress in January.

Kroll Sees T-H Repeal

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5 (AP) — Director Jack Kroll, of the national CIO-PAC, today said he was certain the next Congress would repeal the Taft-Hartley law.

CIO Backs Labor Dept. Revamping

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray today visited President Truman and later told reporters CIO favors "complete reorganization," of the Labor Department.

"I hope, now that the people have spoken, it will be."

He emphasized he had not discussed these things with Mr. Truman in their 20-minute private conversation.

"I just extended my compliments to the President on his election and that's all," he said.

Murray said he believes Congress should return to the Labor Department, skeltonized by the Republican 80th Congress, all the services which were taken from it. These should include, he said, the conciliation service, now an independent agency, and the United States Employment Service, now part of the Federal Security Agency.

He praised Labor Secretary Maurice Tobin as an "admirable" cabinet officer "possessed of all the qualifications to have an excellent Secretary of Labor."

When reporters asked whether he felt that the labor vote was the biggest single factor in the election of President Truman, Murray replied with a grin:

"Well, it isn't for me to beat my breast about those things."

Student, In Suicide Note, Admits 'Phantom' Killings

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 5. (AP)—A University of Arkansas freshman ended his life here today and later a note was found in his room in which he admitted committing two "double murders" at Texarkana in 1946. A wave of unsolved slayings in the Texarkana area—there were five in all—were attributed to a "panthom" killer.

Sheriff Bruce Crider, of Washington County, said the student was H. B. (Dooty) Tennison, 17, a member of a widely known Texarkana, Ark., family.

He said the youth took poison. A poem found on a dresser said that if the puzzle it contained could be solved, it would disclose how to open a strong box in Tennison's room. Authorities, instead, broke up the strongbox by force. The note was inside.

Sheriff Crider said the note read: "Why did I take my own life?" You may be asking that question? Well, when you committed two double murders you would too. Yes, I did kill Betty Jo Booker and Paul Martin in the city park that night, and kill Mr. Starks (Virgil Starks) and tried to get Mrs. Starks."

Miss Booker, 15, and young Martin, 17, were the third and fourth victims of the so-called "phanthom" killer, who kept Texarkana in a state of tension for months.

Earlier, Richard Griffin, 29, and Polly Ann Moore, 17, had been slain. They were the first deaths in the grim series. In May, Virgil Starks, 36, was shot to death in his farm home and his wife was shot and wounded seriously.

38 Missing On Three Planes In North Pacific

SEATTLE, Nov. 5. (AP)—Thirty-eight persons were listed today as missing on three planes along the rugged North Pacific rim.

Combined searching operations were probably the most extensive ever carried on for missing aircraft in the Pacific Northwest-Alaska sector.

At least 40 searching planes were scanning vast areas extending over thousands of square miles of land and sea between Washington State and the Bering Sea. They failed to find any clues.

Two of the missing planes are Navy craft with 21 men aboard.

The other is a DC-3 transport of the Pacific Alaska Air Express on a flight from Anchorage to Seattle. A report from Anchorage, Alaska, said today it carried 17 persons.

State's Rights Democrats Eye Truman Bandwagon

From States' Rights and regular southern Democrats came telephone calls to Washington sounding out wisdom of switching any or all of the 38 electoral votes scheduled now for South Carolina Gov. J. Strom Thurmond for President and for Mississippi Gov. Fielding L. Wright for Vice President. Any switch, they made clear, would be to President Truman and Sen. Barkley (D-Ky).

Democratic National Committee representatives said the votes could be switched from the States' Rights candidates to the Democratic candidates unless specific state laws prevent it.

Twisters Hit Five States; Eight Killed And 67 Hurt

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5 (AP) — Eight persons were killed and 67 others injured when small tornadoes and heavy windstorms ripped through sections of Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia early today and tonight.

A vicious tornado smashed through Cedartown, in Northwest Georgia, tonight, injuring five persons, wrecking several buildings, and leaving the town in darkness and confusion. Police Lt. A. J. Barrett said those injured were cut by plate glass blasted from downtown show windows.

Tornadoes struck early this morning at Ripley, Miss., close to the Tennessee line; near Benton, Miss., in the central area not far from Jackson, and in rural Catahoula Parish (County), La., about 38 miles northwest of Natchez, Miss. A tornado also lashed a community eight miles south of Vicksburg, Miss.

Violent winds also swept the central section of Kentucky causing injuries and damage. And another hard wind struck near Alexandria, La.

And in Arkansas last night a small-scale twister concentrated on the municipal airport at Searcy, Ark., wrecking two hangars and demolishing nine planes. No one was hurt.

Most casualties were in the Benton, Miss., area where the Red Cross reported six killed and 30 injured. Dead were 6-year-old Georgia White and five negroes. The child's parents and seven brothers and sisters were among the injured. Their plantation home was blown into a field.

TRUMAN CALLS FOR COOPERATION

Firm Policy In U. N. Shaping Up Quickly Following Election

PARIS, Nov. 5 (AP)—John Foster Dulles told the Russian bloc today that the United States has stopped disarming and "intends to be strong" so long as fears grip the free peoples of the world.

From the tone and manner of his speech it was apparent that a firm American policy in the United Nations Assembly is shaping up quickly after last Tuesday's presidential election.

Dulles, the Republican Party adviser on foreign affairs, thus indicated the election had not changed in any way the general foreign policy supported by both Republicans and Democrats.

He denounced as "vicious falsehoods" Russian charges that the United States aims for world mastery. Dulles told the United Nations Political Committee:

"Our growing national strength no doubt displeases some; but it does not, I believe, frighten any. I ask each delegate to search his own mind and come to his own conclusion as to who and what his nation fears. I shall be satisfied with a silent verdict, for I know that some fear even to express their fear."

No Apology For Decision

Americans, Dulles said, make no apology for their decision to stop disarming "because our strength is not for ourselves alone." He added: "It is our purpose to so unite and strengthen the forces of freedom that they will not have to fear."

Dulles spoke in a debate on the Balkanls. He said Americans had organized "no disloyal groups, no fifth columns, to do our will" in Europe after withdrawing all but a fragment of the huge armed forces which fought in the war. He said this was proof that the United States has no aggressive ambitions.

Elsewhere in the United Nations:

1.—Britain said she will ask the Security Council to extend to all of Palestine the council's order to Jews and Arabs to give up positions in the south won during the United Nations truce.

2.—The Budgetary Committee agreed to advance $5,000,000 out of the United Nations working capital fund as part of a relief program for some 500,000 refugees in the Palestine war.

The debate in the Political Committee centered around the report of the United Nations Special Commission on the Balkans. That report accused Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania of helping Communist-led guerrillas fighting the Greek government.

Vishinsky Remark Called Insult

The United States, Britain, China and France have urged approval of the report by the Assembly and an extension of the life of the commission. Russia has called on the Assembly to discontinue the commission. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky has described the UNSCOB findings as a "pile of garbage." The committee may reach a vote on the issue tomorrow.

Dulles said Vishinsky's remark was an insult to an organ of the United Nations. The American delegate pointed out the Soviet bloc states have devoted many hours to attempts to discredit the report.

"Why have they done so?" he asked. "Because they are afraid to let those findings go unchallenged. Their conduct here is unmistakable proof, if indeed proof was needed, that nations whose conduct threatens the peace do fear the consequence of exposure."

Hector McNeil, British Minister of State, and Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo, of the Philippines, lectured Vishinsky for using intemperate language.

Fighters Corral Two Brush Fires

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5 (AP)—Red-eyed, sweating crews of firefighters apparently were holding their own tonight against two brush fires which had swept an estimated 15,000 acres.

Predicted high winds did not develop and a long precision fight to strengthen positions in the Santa Monica mountains and Santa Ana Canyon apparently had paid off.

Still on the alert for dangerous outbreaks, fire officials had not taken time to make detailed checks of losses, and many areas were still too hot to survey.

The Santa Monica fire apparently had covered nearly 3,000 acres and levelled at least 24 homes, although some police estimates ran from 100 to 200. The Orange County blaze—which on one spurt covered 10 miles in four hours—had swept at least 12,000 acres, but had burned only five cabins.

Late today they reported that with the exception of one "hot spot" at the head of nearby Santa Ynez Canyon, they believed the conflagration had been corralled, but not controlled.

Task Of Preparing North Atlantic Pact To Start Next Week

Europe Union Wants To Submit Treaty To Congress In January

PARIS, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Brussels Alliance will begin next week the outline and perhaps the actual draft of a proposed North Atlantic pact with Canada and the United States, British and French sources said tonight. The object is to have the treaty ready to submit to Congress in January.

This development followed the disclosure that the United States already has re-equipped three French divisions in Germany from surplus material. The Russian-licensed press in Berlin termed this action the implementation of a new "Truman doctrine for France," a reference to American military aid for Greece and Turkey to prevent the spread of Communism.

High American, British and French commanders in Germany will confer this weekend with Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, chief military planner of the Brussels Alliance, to map strategic plans for European defense, dispatches from Frankfurt reported.

Confer At Hannover

This will take place at Hannover, residence of the British military governor of Germany, even before the representatives of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg gather in London next week to discuss the projected North Atlantic pact.

The Frankfurt dispatches explained that the United States is automatically committed to the defense of Western Europe—regardless of the existence or non-existence of a formal alliance—so long as American troops are in Germany. Any attack on Western Germany would involve American troops immediately, it was pointed out.

Arrangements for alliance talks were speeded up by the re-election this week of President Truman, French and British informants said. Whether a go-ahead from Washington actually had been received was not disclosed.

They said, however, the Brussels pact powers expect to be ready for a formal full-scale conference with the United States and Canada to be called in Washington early in December. The ambassadors of the five countries would head delegations to the conference which would include military and political experts.

January Deadline

The powers hope to have the North Atlantic pact ready for the consideration of the United States Congress in January, they added.

It was believed ambassadors of the other four members of the Brussels pact will meet with Gladwyn Jebb, British representative, in London to whip into shape their STRANGLED — The body of William Gervais (above), 13, a suspected sex attack victim, was found in a Chicago manhole yesterday a few hours after his mother suffered a fatal heart attack while reporting him missing. The youth had been strangled.

Body Of Missing Chicago Youth Is Found In Manhole

Mother Of Victim Dies In Hospital

CHICAGO, Nov. 5. (AP)—The body of a boy, a suspected sex attack victim, was found in a manhole today, a few hours after his mother suffered a fatal heart attack while reporting him missing.

The victim was 13-year-old William Gervais. His body had been dumped into an electrical conduit vault on the south side that youngsters had been using as a playhouse cave. Although a blood-stained 18-inch bar was found near the body, Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's physician said the youth had been strangled.

Dr. Kearns said the victim apparently was strangled by hand. The killer used such a vicious grip, he said, that a muscle in William's throat was broken.

His mother, Mrs. Clara Foote, 45, a widow, was stricken last night in the stockyards police station. She died in a hospital early today before William's body was found.

Detective Timothy O'Connell ordered a roundup of known sex offenders in the neighborhood of Fuller Park, 45th Street and Princeton Avenue, where the body was found. He also ordered a search of sewers in the neighborhood on the theory that another boy in the neighborhood, missing for four months, may have been slain and disposed of in similar manner.

Kiss By Fiance's Brother Changes Fraulein's Mind

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 5 (AP) — Maybe Ralph Gaber should never have let his 19-year-old sweetheart be kissed by his kid brother the day she arrived from Kassell, Germany.

Because now she wants to marry the kid brother.

Elizabeth Sauer flew from Germany to marry Ralph, 33, the man she met three years ago. Karl, 25, was there to greet her with the rest of the family.

Says Elizabeth:

"Karl shook hands with me and kissed my cheek. I knew there could never be anybody else but him."

Tydings Rejected Nomination Chance

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5 (AP) — Sen. Tydings explained today he was "in the middle" on the states' right question during the political campaign and turned down a good chance to get the Democratic nomination for President.

"I really had no home at the convention," he said. "I didn't see eye-to-eye with the southerners and I didn't agree with what the others were trying to do to them. I was in the middle."

"I told him that I was for President Truman and that the Maryland delegation had been instructed for President Truman," Tydings said. He quoted Sen. Russell as replying:

"If you won't take it, Millard, I'm going to take it myself. But I am under instruction to get a definite 'no' from you first."

Families Of U. S. Military Personnel Will Leave China

Marines Might Be Moved To Shanghai

NANKING, Nov. 5 (AP)—The 1,000 wives and children of United States military personnel in China are being sent home and all other American civilians are being urged by the embassy to leave the Shanghai-Nanking area for fear of Communist invasion.

In addition, Vice Adm. Oscar C. Badger said in a news conference in Shanghai that he might shift some marines from the Tsingtao base to Shanghai, "but only as a protective force."

Adm. Badger, commanding the United States Western Pacific Fleet, said, "the marines hold special status and can land on a foreign shore without constituting an act of war. They are recognized by international law as international policemen."

"We may have to bring some to Shanghai."

Won't Abandon Tsingtao Base

He said he had no intention of abandoning the Tsingtao base on the North China coast but was prepared to evacuate Americans and citizens of friendly nations "on a humanitarian basis."

It appeared that the American steps were taken only after the embassy's military staff advised it that the Chinese government no longer had the physicial power to keep the war away from the national capital.

Chinese spokesmen declined public comment, but one high official said the American action "appears unwarranted."

Both Nanking and Shanghai are south of the board Yangtze River, but both could be cut off from the sea.

Nanking is linked to Shanghai by a 193-mile railroad which follows the river's south bank. Shanghai, although a great port, is 13 miles up the Whangpoo River, which flows into the Yangtze estuary.

Strikes May Delay Evacuation

Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, director of the United States joint military advisory groups in China, said all the groups' dependents would be returned to the United States as rapidly as water transportation becomes available. With the United States West Coast strike tying up a majority of ships that normally ply to China, accommodations may be hard to get.

Gen. Barr said military personnel all were remaining.

There are about 7,000 American civilians in China. Nearly 4,000 are in or near Shanghai and Nanking.

Latest pro-government military reports said the Communists were attempting to bypass Suchow, big government base 180 miles northwest of Nanking. The aim apparently was to isolate possibly 400,000 government troops in the Suchow sector.

38 Missing On Three Planes In North Pacific

SEATTLE, Nov. 5. (AP)—Thirty-eight persons were listed today as missing on three planes along the rugged North Pacific rim.

Combined searching operations were probably the most extensive ever carried on for missing aircraft in the Pacific Northwest-Alaska sector.

At least 40 searching planes were scanning vast areas extending over thousands of square miles of land and sea between Washington State and the Bering Sea. They failed to find any clues.

Two of the missing planes are Navy craft with 21 men aboard.

The other is a DC-3 transport of the Pacific Alaska Air Express on a flight from Anchorage to Seattle. A report from Anchorage, Alaska, said today it carried 17 persons.

Sen. Barkley Predicts Some Price Controls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Vice President-elect Alben W. Barkley said today he believes the new Congress will approve some legislation aimed at controlling prices.

"I think Congress will deal with the subject and give the President something like the authority he asked for before," Barkley told a news conference.

Mr. Truman had asked the 80th Congress for stand-by authority to limit prices of certain scarce and critical commodities, plus restricted allocation and priority powers.

Barkley, speaking to approximately 100 reporters in the big Senate caucus room, also said he thinks the Taft-Hartley Labor Act should be repealed and possibly replaced by some modifications of the original Wagner Act. He declined to speculate on what form they might take.

He also predicted the extension of federal rent controls beyond March 1 and said he thinks President Truman again will call on Congress to enact civil rights legislation similar to that which split the Democratic Party this year.

"I assume the President will recommend a program in accordance with the platform on which he ran and on which we all ran," Barkley said.

The veteran Kentucky lawmaker said he does not forsee any major difficulties ahead for the President's recommendations because "the verdict of the people has been pretty decisive approval of our program."

Meanwhile, Sen. Scott Lucas, of Illinois, in a separate news conference, said he is "available" for the Democratic whip (assistant leader).

Barkley was asked whether there will be reprisals against legislators who supported the States' Rights Democratic ticket headed by Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina.

"We'll cross that bridge when we get to it," he said. "It may not even be a bridge when we get to it."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Vice President-elect Barkley today laughed at suggestions for a lavish official home for the Vice President. "I told the President that if they build a $2,500,000 house for the Vice President nobody would want to run for President," Barkley told a news conference with a chuckle.

Salesman Admits Waldorf Slaying

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—(AP)—A Canadian businessman was found beaten to death in the fashionable Waldorf Astoria Hotel today and less than 12 hours later police said they had a confession from a 19-year-old salesman.

Assistant District Attorney George Monagha nsaid tonight the salesman, Ralph Edmund Barrows, haw admitted "full participation" in the fatal beating of Cameron MacKellar, 56-year-old textile company official.

Monaghan said Barrows made the admission in a verbal statement in the presence of high police officials.

Barrows, six feet tall, dark-haired and well-dressed, was being held at a police station for further questioning.

Monaghan said there was "no question" that police had the right man. Monaghan said police were preparing to take a written statement from Barrows.

The match-book listed the name and address of a tavern. Later Barrows was found in the tavern, police said. They gave no details of how Barrows was spotted.

Police advanced no motive for the crime immediately.

Previously police had listed as clues a pair of highball glasses and some setups for whisky drinks found in MacKellar's room.

They said the glasses indicated that MacKellar, general sales manager of the Dominion Textile Company, Ltd., of Montreal, had had company in his room.

State's Rights Democrats Eye Truman Bandwagon

From States' Rights and regular southern Democrats came telephone calls to Washington sounding out wisdom of switching any or all of the 38 electoral votes scheduled now for South Carolina Gov. J. Strom Thurmond for President and for Mississippi Gov. Fielding L. Wright for Vice President. Any switch, they made clear, would be to President Truman and Sen. Barkley (D-Ky).

Democratic National Committee representatives said the votes could be switched from the States' Rights candidates to the Democratic candidates unless specific state laws prevent it.

Truman Accepts Young Pastor's Casual Invitation

NEW BERN, N. C., Nov. 5 (AP) — A young preacher's casual invitation to "come down and worship with us some time" will be accepted Sunday by President Truman.

Rev. Thomas Waitt Fryer, 40-year-old pastor of the First Baptist Church here where the Truman family will attend services, said he extended the invitation when he visited the President two months ago.

"After I invited him, he said he never could tell but that he might be down to see us some day," Fryer said. He added that he knew nothing about the acceptance until Secret Service men contacted his wife here yesterday and disclosed the plans.

Fryer said he hadn't yet planned the sermon he will preach Sunday. He said he hoped there would be no fanfare about the President's visit. The church seats about 500.

B-25 Bomber Missing

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass., Nov. 5 (AP)—Air Force officials said tonight a B-25 twin-engined bomber from Bolling Air Force base at Washington is missing and is believed to have crashed near Argentia, Nfld. The Air Force said six men were aboard.

Student, In Suicide Note, Admits 'Phantom' Killings

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 5. (AP)—A University of Arkansas freshman ended his life here today and later a note was found in his room in which he admitted committing two "double murders" at Texarkana in 1946. A wave of unsolved slayings in the Texarkana area—there were five in all—were attributed to a "panthom" killer.

Sheriff Bruce Crider, of Washington County, said the student was H. B. (Dooty) Tennison, 17, a member of a widely known Texarkana, Ark., family.

He said the youth took poison. A poem found on a dresser said that if the puzzle it contained could be solved, it would disclose how to open a strong box in Tennison's room. Authorities, instead, broke up the strongbox by force. The note was inside.

Sheriff Crider said the note read: "Why did I take my own life?" You may be asking that question? Well, when you committed two double murders you would too. Yes, I did kill Betty Jo Booker and Paul Martin in the city park that night, and kill Mr. Starks (Virgil Starks) and tried to get Mrs. Starks."

Miss Booker, 15, and young Martin, 17, were the third and fourth victims of the so-called "phanthom" killer, who kept Texarkana in a state of tension for months.

Earlier, Richard Griffin, 29, and Polly Ann Moore, 17, had been slain. They were the first deaths in the grim series. In May, Virgil Starks, 36, was shot to death in his farm home and his wife was shot and wounded seriously.

Twisters Hit Five States; Eight Killed And 67 Hurt

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 5 (AP) — Eight persons were killed and 67 others injured when small tornadoes and heavy windstorms ripped through sections of Louisiana, Mississippi, Kentucky, Tennessee and Georgia early today and tonight.

A vicious tornado smashed through Cedartown, in Northwest Georgia, tonight, injuring five persons, wrecking several buildings, and leaving the town in darkness and confusion. Police Lt. A. J. Barrett said those injured were cut by plate glass blasted from downtown show windows.

Tornadoes struck early this morning at Ripley, Miss., close to the Tennessee line; near Benton, Miss., in the central area not far from Jackson, and in rural Catahoula Parish (County), La., about 38 miles northwest of Natchez, Miss. A tornado also lashed a community eight miles south of Vicksburg, Miss.

Violent winds also swept the central section of Kentucky causing injuries and damage. And another hard wind struck near Alexandria, La.

And in Arkansas last night a small-scale twister concentrated on the municipal airport at Searcy, Ark., wrecking two hangars and demolishing nine planes. No one was hurt.

Most casualties were in the Benton, Miss., area where the Red Cross reported six killed and 30 injured. Dead were 6-year-old Georgia White and five negroes, The child's parents and seven brothers and sisters were among the injured. Their plantation home was blown into a field.

Capital Gives Nation's Chief Gala Welcome

Cheers, Flags, Music Greet President Who Wouldn't Be Beaten

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—(AP)—The Capital proudly poured forth its people and its plaudits today in roaring acclaim of a returning President who wouldn't be beaten.

From the north portico of the White House he will occupy for four more years, Harry S. Truman responded simply and humbly:

"I thank you from the bottom of my heart."

He looked across swarms of people on the White House lawn, crammed along broad Pennsylvania Avenue and overflowing Lafayette Park. His warm smile disappeared for a moment. He remarked gravely:

"I shall look forward to the help and co-operation of all the people, because we are faced with great issues now which I think we can bring to a successful conclusion."

Sharing the tumultuous welcome, as he shared the triumph of Tuesday's election, was Sen. Alben W. Barkley, of Kentucky, the next Vice President.

But mostly Washington and the folks of nearby Maryland and Virginia turned out to thrust out a friendly hand to the man who almost alone carried the Democratic banner to an upset victory.

Police Form Honor Guard

Three quarters of a million strong, the little people and big men of government and the diplomatic corps shrieked out their welcome to the Chief Executive.

With Barkley by his side, sitting on the folded top of a long, black car, Mr. Truman paraded slowly along the historic Pennsylvania Avenue route from Union Station to the White House. His hat and grin were going strong.

All the motorcycle police in Washington, an even 100, formed the honor guard ahead. Fire trucks swung 100-foot extension ladders across the avenue in tremendous, bunting-bedecked arches. Huge banners hanging from them proclaimed: "Welcome home, Mr. President."

They waved banners and balloons and tossed torn paper by the fistful. Some sported blue "I told you so" buttons. Maids in hotels fluttered sheets and towels from upper windows.

Signs along the way jeered at poll takers and political experts who had predicted that Republican Thomas E. Dewey would capture the White House. A sample: "Truman Gallup-ed to victory."

"Overwhelming" Welcome

"Welcome home from the crow eaters," the Post said.

Here in Washington, which takes even its visiting kings and potentates pretty much in stride, President Truman never had seen anything like today's reception. The Democrats flunked out of school when they tried to stage a gala welcome when Mr. Truman returned from a campaign swing last September.

But this time it was a champion returning from his Missouri home.

North And South Senators Predict Democratic Unity

O'Mahoney, Johnston See Party Harmony

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—A forecast of party harmony in Congress between northern and southern Democrats came today from two senators in the previously opposed camps.

It came in separate interviews with Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), identified with northern and western members of the party, and Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), one of the original leaders of anti-Truman forces among southern Democrats.

Both also predicted that the new Democratic majorities in the Senate and House will await word from President Truman before acting on price controls, housing, repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act or other major campaign issues.

O'Mahoney said one of the factors in the GOP defeat was "failure of the Republican Congress to do anything to hold prices in line."

"For two years GOP congressional leaders have been campaigning for the presidency instead of legislating for the country," he added.

O'Mahoney and other Democrats said they expected no reprisals against southern Democrats who opposed Mr. Truman's nomination or supported the States' Rights ticket.

"That all will be forgotten," O'Mahoney said. "We'll have real unity in Congress including support from most of the liberal Republicans."

Johnston, who battled Mr. Truman's nomination but later voted for him, returned with O'Mahoney and numerous other Democratic law makers today to take part in the capital's reception and welcome for President Truman.

"I saw the President and talked with him," Johnston said. "I think we'll have harmony in the next Congress."

O'Mahoney introduced a price stabilization bill during the last Congress. It would have required notice and a "cooling off' period before any basic industry—such as steel, coal, automobiles, foods, and others—could increase prices.

"But we'd better find out what the President and his economic advisors suggest before we try to act," O'Mahoney said.

Johnston said the recent decline in the price of some foods and other commodities may take care of the price situation between now and the time Democrats organize the Congress in January.

Kroll Sees T-H Repeal

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5 (AP) — Director Jack Kroll, of the national CIO-PAC, today said he was certain the next Congress would repeal the Taft-Hartley law.

CIO Backs Labor Dept. Revamping

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray today visited President Truman and later told reporters CIO favors "complete reorganization," of the Labor Department.

"I hope, now that the people have spoken, it will be."

He emphasized he had not discussed these things with Mr. Truman in their 20-minute private conversation.

"I just extended my compliments to the President on his election and that's all," he said.

Murray said he believes Congress should return to the Labor Department, skeltonized by the Republican 80th Congress, all the services which were taken from it. These should include, he said, the conciliation service, now an independent agency, and the United States Employment Service, now part of the Federal Security Agency.

He praised Labor Secretary Maurice Tobin as an "admirable" cabinet officer "possessed of all the qualifications to have an excellent Secretary of Labor."

When reporters asked whether he felt that the labor vote was the biggest single factor in the election of President Truman, Murray replied with a grin:

"Well, it isn't for me to beat my breast about those things."

Market Hits Eight Year Low This Week Following Election Outcome

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—A new selling drive smashed the stock market to the lowest level since early April today.

Rapid-fire trading hammered down prices one to an extreme of 14 points. Most of the losses were in a range of two to eight points.

The market value of all shares listed on the Stock Exchange was chopped down by nearly $3,000,000,000.

Since the Democratic sweep, the market value of all shares has slumped nearly $5,000,000,000, despite Thursday's rally.

The market has lost more ground this week than in any similar period since May 1940—a record of more than 8 years standing.

Today's declines were one dollar to more than eight dollars a share with extreme losses going to $14. Most of the selling was at prices around two dollars to seven dollars below last night's closing quotations.

Hardest hit were steels, motors, rails and oils, although there was hardly a section of the market unaffected. Utilities and airlines were among the few groups withstanding the severe selling waves that at times swamped the floor of the stock exchange and forced the quotation ticker tape as much as four minutes behind action transactions.

The volume of trading was 2,530,000 shares compared with 1,530,000 yesterday and 3,230,000 Wednesday. There were 1,174 individual issues traded, the largest number on record. The previous record was 1,163 traded July 19.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $2.70 to $75.70. The net decline in the three days since the election is $4.90 in the average.

Corporate bonds skidded downward in the most active trading since last July, while several U. S. Treasury issues continued to edge upward.

Some rail bond losses of around four points equalled the widespread post-election declines of Wednesday. Sales totaled $5,480,000, as compared with $4,435,000 yesterday and $5,325,000 the day after the election.

ideas for the North Atlantic alliance.

Informants said the conference either would draw up an actual draft of a treaty for presentation to the United States and Canada, or would outline the principles of such a pact. Such an outline, however, already exists, having been drawn up in the course of months-long discussions among ambassadors of the five countries in Washington and representatives of the United States and Canada.

Twisters Hit

Winds and heavy rains hit the middle Tennessee area as far north as the Kentucky line.

The Corinth, Miss., Daily Corinthian reported that Mrs. M. E. Young, 89, died in a Ripley hospital of storm injuries suffered in the tornado near Ripley. Thirteen persons received hospital treatment. Six houses were reported demolished.

Sheriff Fred W. Fairbanks, of Catahoula Parish, La., said Mrs. J. C. Evans, about 30, of Harrisonburg, was killed. About 25 houses were destroyed or damaged. Fifteen persons were treated for minor injuries.

Prettyman said, adding that the rat population in the United States equals the human population. Last year, he said, rats destroyed or damaged 200 million bushels of feed and grain and raided an untold number of poultry flocks. In addition, Prettyman stated, they are carriers of bubonic plague, typhus fever and other deadly diseases.

Rats cannot be eliminated if they have places to hide, the agent said. Piles of rubbish, stacks of lumber or other material, and wooden floors close to the ground, are favorite places of the rodents, he added.

Farmers and townspeople are reminded by Prettyman that rat control is not just a seasonal job, but a year-round problem. "Rats never take vacations," he said. "They may raise six or more litters per year with from six to 22 in a litter, he added. Ignoring the death rate, the progeny from one pair of rats could exceed 350,000,000 in three years.

Court House Gets "Face-Lifting"

Whiteman and Cessna, local painting contractors, are scrubbing the brick exterior of the building with an acid solution to remove stains.

Charles Whitman, one of the partners in the firm, reported that he and Herbert Cessna, his partner, have been doing the work alone. They expect to be finished in about two or three weeks, depending on the weather, he said.

Court House attaches said this is the first time they can remember that such a project has been undertaken. The firm's bid for the job was about $2,400.

Peace Is Theme Of World Community Day Program

A program on "Peace Is My Responsibility," was developed in five parts by representatives of different churches at the World Community Day service held last night in Emmanuel Episcopal parish house under the sponsorship of the Cumberland Council of Church Women.

Speaking on "Human Rights," Miss Letitia Redman, St. Philipi's Chapel, urged that the spirit of World Community Day be carried throughout the year; a mother with her helping hands was depicted by Mrs. Arthur Friedland, Mrs. Norman Pliner and Mrs. Jack Yankelevitz, representing the Jewish religion urged "Brotherhood" be carried abroad by helping hands.

Discussing "Civil Rights," Miss Mary Walsh, the Catholic representatives, stressed that if each church member keep justice there could be peace in the world.

"Economic Justice" was presented by four members of the Cresaptown Methodist Young Adults, with the first outlining the progress of economic justice from cave days to the present; the second emphasizing the importance of the little worker; the third, speaking of the United Nations finding the importance of freedom from want; and the fourth stressing the fact that all workers all over the world have the same rights.

Nadeane Atkinson, Fort Hill student, giving, "I Speak for Democracy," stressed how "Democracy in America has a future with all the makings."

Mrs. Robert Young offered the dedication prayer showing how if everyone shows height, breadth and depth then it is possible to show them towards others. Mrs. Ralph Isiminger presided and 78 "Pac-a-Towel" bundles for teenagers in Europe and Asia and refugee camps were presented by the various demoninations, for the New Windsor project.

Market Hits Eight Year Low This Week Following Election Outcome

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (AP)—A new selling drive smashed the stock market to the lowest level since early April today.

Rapid-fire trading hammered down prices one to an extreme of 14 points. Most of the losses were in a range of two to eight points.

The market value of all shares listed on the Stock Exchange was chopped down by nearly $3,000,000,000.

Since the Democratic sweep, the market value of all shares has slumped nearly $5,000,000,000, despite Thursday's rally.

The market has lost more ground this week than in any similar period since May 1940—a record of more than 8 years standing.

Today's declines were one dollar to more than eight dollars a share with extreme losses going to $14. Most of the selling was at prices around two dollars to seven dollars below last night's closing quotations.

Hardest hit were steels, motors, rails and oils, although there was hardly a section of the market unaffected. Utilities and airlines were among the few groups withstanding the severe selling waves that at times swamped the floor of the stock exchange and forced the quotation ticker tape as much as four minutes behind action transactions.

The volume of trading was 2,530,000 shares compared with 1,550,000 yesterday and 3,230,000 Wednesday. There were 1,174 individual issues traded, the largest number on record. The previous record was 1,163 traded July 19.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined $2.70 to $75.70. The net decline in the three days since the election is $4.90 in the average.

Corporate bonds skidded downward in the most active trading since last July, while several U. S. Treasury issues continued to edge upward.

Some rail bond losses of around four points equalled the widespread post-election declines of Wednesday. Sales totaled $5,480,000, as compared with $4,435,000 yesterday and $5,325,000 the day after the election.

ideas for the North Atlantic alliance.

Informants said the conference either would draw up an actual draft of a treaty for presentation to the United States and Canada, or would outline the principles of such a pact. Such an outline, however, already exists, having been drawn up in the course of months-long discussions among ambassadors of the five countries in Washington and representatives of the United States and Canada.

Winds and heavy rains hit the middle Tennessee area as far north as the Kentucky line.

The Corinth, Miss., Daily Corinthian reported that Mrs. M. E. Young, 89, died in a Ripley hospital of storm injuries suffered in the tornado near Ripley. Thirteen persons received hospital treatment. Six houses were reported demolished.

Sheriff Fred W. Fairbanks, of Catahoula Parish, La., said Mrs. J. C. Evans, about 30, of Harrisonburg, was killed. About 25 houses were destroyed or damaged. Fifteen persons were treated for minor injuries.

Prettyman said, adding that the rat population in the United States equals the human population. Last year, he said, rats destroyed or damaged 200 million bushels of feed and grain and raided an untold number of poultry flocks. In addition, Prettyman stated, they are carriers of bubonic plague, typhus fever and other deadly diseases.

Rats cannot be eliminated if they have places to hide, the agent said. Piles of rubbish, stacks of lumber or other material, and wooden floors close to the ground, are favorite places of the rodents, he added.

Farmers and townspeople are reminded by Prettyman that rat control is not just a seasonal job, but a year-round problem. "Rats never take vacations," he said. "They may raise six or more litters per year with from six to 22 in a litter, he added. Ignoring the death rate, the progeny from one pair of rats could exceed 350,000,000 in three years.

Court House Gets "Face-Lifting"

Whiteman and Cessna, local painting contractors, are scrubbing the brick exterior of the building with an acid solution to remove stains.

Charles Whitman, one of the partners in the firm, reported that he and Herbert Cessna, his partner, have been doing the work alone. They expect to be finished in about two or three weeks, depending on the weather, he said.

Court House attaches said this is the first time they can remember that such a project has been undertaken. The firm's bid for the job was about $2,400.

Peace Is Theme Of World Community Day Program

A program on "Peace Is My Responsibility," was developed in five parts by representatives of different churches at the World Community Day service held last night in Emmanuel Episcopal parish house under the sponsorship of the Cumberland Council of Church Women.

Speaking on "Human Rights," Miss Letitia Redman, St. Philipi's Chapel, urged that the spirit of World Community Day be carried throughout the year; a mother with her helping hands was depicted by Mrs. Arthur Friedland, Mrs. Norman Pliner and Mrs. Jack Yankelevitz, representing the Jewish religion urged "Brotherhood" be carried abroad by helping hands.

Discussing "Civil Rights," Miss Mary Walsh, the Catholic representatives, stressed that if each church member keep justice there could be peace in the world.

"Economic Justice" was presented by four members of the Cresaptown Methodist Young Adults, with the first outlining the progress of economic justice from cave days to the present; the second emphasizing the importance of the little worker; the third, speaking of the United Nations finding the importance of freedom from want; and the fourth stressing the fact that all workers all over the world have the same rights.

Nadeane Atkinson, Fort Hill student, giving, "I Speak for Democracy," stressed how "Democracy in America has a future with all the makings."

Mrs. Robert Young offered the dedication prayer showing how if everyone shows height, breadth and depth then it is possible to show them towards others. Mrs. Ralph Isiminger presided and 78 "Pac-a-Towel" bundles for teenagers in Europe and Asia and refugee camps were presented by the various demoninations, for the New Windsor project.

ITU Auxiliary Plans Card Party For Nov. 14

Mrs. Theresa Cline entertained members of the Women's International Auxiliary, No. 52 of the ITU, 244, Thursday night at her home, 422 North Mechanic Street. The usual business session was held and plans completed for a public card party to be held at the Canada Hose House, November 14.

Cards were played following the meeting and the award won by Mrs. B. E. DeBolt. Others attending were Mrs. Marie Grimshaw, Mrs. Samuel Graham, Mrs. Lester Sibley, Mrs. Catherine Sampson and Mrs. James Biller.

Mrs. Grimshaw will be hostess for the meeting December 2 at her home, Zihlman Way.

Club Has Election, Achievement Display

The Valley Road Homemakers Club elected Mrs. W. C. Barnes vice president; Mrs. Charles Callis, secretary and Miss Anna Kraft, assistant secretary at the meeting Wednesday at Central YMCA.

An Achievement program was held with each chairman showing achievements of the club in her department. Mrs. J. J. Coleman presided and Mrs. Claude T. Jette, county president and Miss Maude A. Bean ,home demonstration agent, were guests, and spoke of future activities. Mrs. A. E. Kesecker reported two Pack-A-Towels will be given by the club. Mrs. John S. Cook read the by-laws. Miss Mildred Myers was received as a member and group singing was led by Mrs. George Kraft with Mrs. Frank Perdew at the piano.

A Christmas dinner will be held at 6, December 7 at the Y with Mrs. Marshall Twigg in charge. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Karl Bachman or Mrs. Lawrence Shafferman by December 2.

PITCHING HORSESHOES by Billy Rose

The other night at "21" I couldn't help noticing that one of our better-known detective story writers looked as sad as a spanked spaniel.

"What's wrong with Tom?" I asked the publisher who was dining with me. "He looks as if he'd lost his last plot."

Billy Rose

"In a way, he has," said my friend. "His wife walked out on him last week."

You could have knocked me down with a pitted olive. Of all the couples hereabouts I would have made book on, Tom and his lady were highest on my dope sheet. Not that the fictioneer was a bargain—he was given to playing around the sdie streets and he treated his missus like a $30-a-week housekeeper. But to Dorothy, Tom was an important talent, and she saw to it that his typewriter was oiled and his meals were hot. If he showed up with a smudge of lipstick now and then—well, that was the prerogative of genius, and it was enough if he came back and let her serve.

"Why did they break up?" I asked. "Did Dorothy finally get fed up with Tom's catting?"

"No," said the publisher. "They split because he bought her a mink coat."

"I don't believe it," I said. "Tom is a slow man with a buck, and the idea of his unbelting for a mink coat is like Vishinsky presenting Winchell with an orchid."

"I'll give you the story pelt by pelt," said the publisher. "As you know, for years a bunch of us have been meeting every Thursday night for a game of dollar poker, and at one of these sessions we got to kidding about the fur coats our wives were buying and how much they cost One of the players—Gene Simmons, fur dealer—began to rib Tom, and asked him how come he had never bought his wife a hunk of hide.

"'What's wrong with the coat Dorothy's got?' said the writer. 'It keep her plenty warm.'

"'Don't hand us that,' said Gene. 'Women don't buy fur coats to keep warm—they're fuzzy sandwich-boards to advertise how well their guys are doing.'

"The kidding finally got under Tom's skin, and when we broke up, he took Simmons aside and told him he was going to send Dorothy around the next day for a mink coat.

"Well, we almost blacked out at the next session when Gene reported that Dorothy had been in and had waltzed out with a six-thousand-dollar pelt, but what we didn't know at the time was that the writer had hatched himself another plot. Tom figured that a few days after his wife got the coat, he would make a big noise about how bad the book business was, and dutiful Dotty would trot right back to Simmons with the coat."

"Where did the plot misfire?" I asked.

"In all departments," said the publisher. "First, Dorothy concluded that Tom must have done something especially naughty to come up with such a present, so she started to check up on him. And what she found out opened her baby blues.

"Second, the feel of mink on her back did nice things to her spine, and so she began to step out a bit. Several people — including Dorothy herself—told her she was something of a knockout, and as you know, girls don't like to keep that kind of information secret.

"Tom, of course, was too busy with Tom to notice any of this. One night he brought out the crying towel, told Dorothy he had a big income tax payment to meet, and that she'd have to return the coat to Simmons first thing in the morning.

"'I'll do better than that,' said his wife. 'I'll bring it back to Gene tonight—with me in it.'

"And that's only one of the plot switches the author never intended. Dorothy is wearing the coat in Reno now, but—get this—yesterday Simmons slapped a summons on Tom demanding payment for the coat. And he's got him dead to rights—even the boys at the poker game are witnesses. It looks as if our tightwad friend is going to have to buy a fur coat for a fur dealer's wife."

"Tough luck," I tsk-tsked. "It's a cute story and it has a moral, although I can't ad lib it at the moment."

"Maybe," said the publisher, "it's just that no writer of detective stories, no matter how plot-minded, knows all the twists—least of all, the twist he's married to."

Welfare Problems To Be Discussed

The problems and needs of the County Welfare Board will be discussed when the group meets with members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, and J. Milton Patterson, director of the State Department of Welfare, Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Welfare Board Office.

The county commissioners received a letter from C Willian Gilchrist, chairman of the County Welfare Board, outlining the purposes of the gathering. Gilchrist said that members of the Allegany county delegation to the legislature have also been invited to the discussion.

Gilchrist said the problems connected with the operation of the public assistance program in the county and the request for funds for the next two years will be the main topics.

"As you know, there has been a great deal of criticism and many questions raised about the administration of the program during the last two years," Gilchrist stated.

"Some of the criticism may have been warranted, but we believe most of it is due to lack of clarity about the purposes and scope of the welfare services," he added. "We think a full and frank discussion is needed at this time," Gilchrist pointed out.

Patterson has been contacted and will attend the session as the board handling the welfare program in this county believes he is best prepared to discuss questions about the over-all operation and position of the federal government as it affects the local agency, Gilchrist informed the board.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

Consulting Psychologist

Can sex jealousy ke ep some women single

Answer: Yes. This probably is the main reason why many attractive women do not marry, even though they'll say it is because they "never met the right man." A girl who grew up with the impression that her brothers had the best of her because they were boys, and her mother was exploited by male members of the family because she was a woman is apt to become so jealous of the whole male sex that the idea of "playing second fiddle" to a husband is intolerable to her. And although she may be lonely, such a girl is happier single.

Does handwriting reveal neurosis?

Answer: Not as satisfactorily as other methods, reports H. J. Eysenck in the Journal of Abnormal Social Psychology. A well known London graphologist was asked to rate the degree of neurosis of 176 patients in an army hospital on the basis of handwriting samples, and while his analysis conformed to some extent with the findings of other tests, it failed to agree with the results of psychiatric diagnosis. The writer concludes that while some aspects of neurosis do show in handwriting, other tests are more trustworthy and quicker.

Is "self-improvement" a desirable aim?

Answer: That depends on what inspires your efforts. As long as you're mainly trying to learn more effective ways of getting satisfaction out of life, you can work to the limits of your strength and suffer from no inner friction. But if to "improve yourself" means trying to change your character by main force and will power, you will achieve little except inner conflict and neurosis. You'll do better to accept the fact that you're the sort of person you are and find how such a person can be happy in ways that society approves of.

40 And 8 To Appeal For Fever Funds

An appeal for funds to help combat rheumatic fever will be made by members of Cumberland Voiture No. 64, 40 and 8, during the Armistice Day parade Thursday night.

The 40 and 8 will pass buckets for donations as they precede the rest of the parade. The observance is being sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

The child welfare committee of Voiture 164 is sponsoring the appeal and announces that the amount collected will be turned over to Frank Powers and Miss Anne M. Sloan, co-chairmen for the Mountain District of the American Legion. Part of the funds will be turned over to the Allegany County Rheumatic Fever Clinic, now being organized.

Paul C. Wiesenmiller, chairman of the Voiture child welfare committee, will accompany the collectors in a loud speaker truck.

The seven-division parade will have five marching organizations and seven musical outfits. Marking the "cease-fire" order of World War I, it will organize at the State Armory at 7 p. m. and march at 7:30 p. m.

J. Louis Wolford Post, Amvets, will have open house from 5 to 7 p. m., participate in the parade and have a dance afterward.

Beneman Will Be "Boss For A Day"

Jay B. Beneman, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Beneman, 802 Fayette Street, will be one of the 125 students of the Wharton School of Business, Univeristy of Pennsylvania, who will take over the running of Gimble Brothers Philadelphia store on Wednesday, November 17.

These "bosses for a day" will work with the Gimble personnel to gain first-hand experience in the problems that face the management of a modern department store.

Beneman, a senior majoring in publications, will replace Irving Schacter as a buyer of shoes. He will be graded on appearance, personality, sincerity, interest, ability to learn, ability to get along with people and potentiality as a good employe. Beneman will also be required to prepare a job analysis on the position for University credit.

Tickets go on sale today and may be secured from committee members or at the Jaycee office.

Just Between Us

It's Fine To Be Frank But Temper It With A Little Tact

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Nancy Mottram

It's fine to be frank. The reputation of being honest and straight forward and true to the end suits you. You never go in for telling little write lies or giving credit where you don't believe it's due. You say what you think, and if anyone doesn't like it, it's just too bad. You are that way, and you're proud of it.

Honesty is one of the greatest qualities you can have. You can be trusted, and that's terrifically important. No fellows and girls ever have to wonder where they stand with you — you tell them. Hypocrisy is a foreign word, and you're not the type to ever go in for any kind of double dealing. But too much frankness can let you in for a lot of trouble, too. It's a great fight, but along with it, you have to know when to be silent. There are times when it's far better to let your straight from - the - soulder opinions go unsaid.

Sugar-coated flattery is definitely out. It's a brand of insincerity, and once you acquire that handle, it's only natural for conversations to stop when you walk in. But letting everybody in on your every thought, good or bad, is just as easy a way to become unpopular.

Even though you'd never be caught saying anything behind a person's back that you wouldn't say to his face, it's wise to keep your uncomplimentary comments out of the air. Nobody likes to be told anything unpleasant about himself, no matter how true. And if you regularly give a piece of your mind on every subject that pops up, you'll notice a cooling off even among your own crowd. You've got to know how to joke as well as how to be 100% frank. And if it hadn't occurred to you before, frankness can work against you when it goes as far as hurting someone's feelings. It's possible to be honest and agreeable at the same time.

Your personal opinions aren't the most important things in the world. They aren't called for all the time. If a debatable question should come up when you're adding to the chatter, think of the possible results of any remarks you make. Many times, it's better to stay out of it.

Often, the things that come up in a discussion aren't your business. That's your cue to steer clear of being quoted. You don't have to go back on a single one of your convictions, but it's much safer to let certain things pass by than risk hard feelings because of your word. Truthfulness and honesty are among the best qualities one can have, but they aren't enough in themselves. You've got to have tact as well.

"In all departments," said the publisher. "First, Dorothy concluded that Tom must have done something especially naughty to come up with such a present, so she started to check up on him. And what she found out opened her baby blues.

"Second, the feel of mink on her back did nice things to her spine, and so she began to step out a bit. Several people — including Dorothy herself—told her she was something of a knockout, and as you know, girls don't like to keep that kind of information secret.

"Tom, of course, was too busy with Tom to notice any of this. One night he brought out the crying towel, told Dorothy he had a big income tax payment to meet, and that she'd have to return the coat to Simmons first thing in the morning.

"'I'll do better than that,' said his wife. 'I'll bring it back to Gene tonight—with me in it.'

"And that's only one of the plot switches the author never intended. Dorothy is wearing the coat in Reno now, but—get this—yesterday Simmons slapped a summons on Tom demanding payment for the coat. And he's got him dead to rights—even the boys at the poker game are witnesses. It looks as if our tightwad friend is going to have to buy a fur coat for a fur dealer's wife."

"Tough luck," I tsk-tsked. "It's a cute story and it has a moral, although I can't ad lib it at the moment."

"Maybe," said the publisher, "it's just that no writer of detective stories, no matter how plot-minded, knows all the twists—least of all, the twist he's married to."

Welfare Problems To Be Discussed

The problems and needs of the County Welfare Board will be discussed when the group meets with members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, and J. Milton Patterson, director of the State Department of Welfare, Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the Welfare Board Office.

The county commissioners received a letter from C Willian Gilchrist, chairman of the County Welfare Board, outlining the purposes of the gathering. Gilchrist said that members of the Allegany county delegation to the legislature have also been invited to the discussion.

Gilchrist said the problems connected with the operation of the public assistance program in the county and the request for funds for the next two years will be the main topics.

"As you know, there has been a great deal of criticism and many questions raised about the administration of the program during the last two years," Gilchrist stated.

"Some of the criticism may have been warranted, but we believe most of it is due to lack of clarity about the purposes and scope of the welfare services," he added. "We think a full and frank discussion is needed at this time," Gilchrist pointed out.

Patterson has been contacted and will attend the session as the board handling the welfare program in this county believes he is best prepared to discuss questions about the over-all operation and position of the federal government as it affects the local agency, Gilchrist informed the board.

It's Fine To Be Frank But Temper It With A Little Tact

By NANCY MOTTRAM

It's fine to be frank. The reputation of being honest and straight forward and true to the end suits you. You never go in for telling little write lies or giving credit where you don't believe it's due. You say what you think, and if anyone doesn't like it, it's just too bad. You are that way, and you're proud of it.

Nancy Mottram

Honesty is one of the greatest qualities you can have. You can be trusted, and that's terrifically important. No fellows and girls ever have to wonder where they stand with you — you tell them. Hypocrisy is a foreign word, and you're not the type to ever go in for any kind of double dealing. But too much frankness can let you in for a lot of trouble, too. It's a great fight, but along with it, you have to know when to be silent. There are times when it's far better to let your straight from - the - soulder opinions go unsaid.

Sugar-coated flattery is definitely out. It's a brand of insincerity, and once you acquire that handle, it's only natural for conversations to stop when you walk in. But letting everybody in on your every thought, good or bad, is just as easy a way to become unpopular.

Even though you'd never be caught saying anything behind a person's back that you wouldn't say to his face, it's wise to keep your uncomplimentary comments out of the air. Nobody likes to be told anything unpleasant about himself, no matter how true. And if you regularly give a piece of your mind on every subject that pops up, you'll notice a cooling off even among your own crowd. You've got to know how to joke as well as how to be 100% frank. And if it hadn't occurred to you before, frankness can work against you when it goes as far as hurting someone's feelings. It's possible to be honest and agreeable at the same time.

Your personal opinions aren't the most important things in the world. They aren't called for all the time. If a debatable question should come up when you're adding to the chatter, think of the possible results of any remarks you make. Many times, it's better to stay out of it.

Often, the things that come up in a discussion aren't your business. That's your cue to steer clear of being quoted. You don't have to go back on a single one of your convictions, but it's much safer to let certain things pass by than risk hard feelings because of your word. Truthfulness and honesty are among the best qualities one can have, but they aren't enough in themselves. You've got to have tact as well.

MIRROR Of Your MIND

By LAWRENCE GOULD
Consulting Psychologist

Can sex jealousy ke ep some women single

Answer: Yes. This probably is the main reason why many attractive women do not marry, even though they'll say it is because they "never met the right man." A girl who grew up with the impression that her brothers had the best of her because they were boys, and her mother was exploited by male members of the family because she was a woman is apt to become so jealous of the whole male sex that the idea of "playing second fiddle" to a husband is intolerable to her. And although she may be lonely, such a girl is happier single.

Does handwriting reveal neurosis?

Answer: Not as satisfactorily as other methods, reports H. J. Eysenck in the Journal of Abnormal Social Psychology. A well known London graphologist was asked to rate the degree of neurosis of 176 patients in an army hospital on the basis of handwriting samples, and while his analysis conformed to some extent with the findings of other tests, it failed to agree with the results of psychiatric diagnosis. The writer concludes that while some aspects of neurosis do show in handwriting, other tests are more trustworthy and quicker.

Is "self-improvement" a desirable aim?

Answer: That depends on what inspires your efforts. As long as you're mainly trying to learn more effective ways of getting satisfaction out of life, you can work to the limits of your strength and suffer from no inner friction. But if to "improve yourself" means trying to change your character by main force and will power, you will achieve little except inner conflict and neurosis. You'll do better to accept the fact that you're the sort of person you are and find how such a person can be happy in ways that society approves of.

K. Of C. Plans Memorial Rites

A memorial service for five deceased members of Cumberland Council No. 586, Knights of Columbus, will be held Wednesday at 8:30 p. m. at the K. of C. home here.

The service will be in charge of Grand Knight James J. Condon, Deputy Grand Knight Jack O'Rourke, Chancellor Raymond Ansbach and Financial Secretary Gormer Kelly.

Deceased members to be honored are Henry J. Elrich, Rev. Thomas D. Reinhart, Samuel E. Griminger, F. Marcellus Mullan and Louis W. Lippold, past grand knight and past district deputy.

Tydings To Address Local Jaycees

Sen. Millard E. Tydings is scheduled to address a dinner-dance meeting of the Junior Association of Commerce Wednesday, December 1, at 7 p. m. at Ali Ghan Country Club.

The occasion will mark the first time in several years that the Maryland senior senator has been here.

Russell A. Ponton is chairman of the committee in charge. He is being assisted by George M. Young, Joseph F. Watkins, Bert J. Graham, Claude J. Nave, Paul Buchanan, and William Foley.

Tickets go on sale today and may be secured from committee members or at the Jaycee office.

40 And 8 To Appeal For Fever Funds

An appeal for funds to help combat rheumatic fever will be made by members of Cumberland Voiture No. 64, 40 and 8, during the Armistice Day parade Thursday night.

The 40 and 8 will pass buckets for donations as they precede the rest of the parade. The observance is being sponsored by Fort Cumberland Post No. 13, American Legion.

The child welfare committee of Voiture 164 is sponsoring the appeal and announces that the amount collected will be turned over to Frank Powers and Miss Anne M. Sloan, co-chairmen for the Mountain District of the American Legion. Part of the funds will be turned over to the Allegany County Rheumatic Fever Clinic, now being organized.

Paul C. Wiesenmiller, chairman of the Voiture child welfare committee, will accompany the collectors in a loud speaker truck.

The seven-division parade will have five marching organizations and seven musical outfits. Marking the "cease-fire" order of World War I, it will organize at the State Armory at 7 p. m. and march at 7:30 p. m.

J. Louis Wolford Post, Amvets, will have open house from 5 to 7 p. m., participate in the parade and have a dance afterward.

Beneman Will Be "Boss For A Day"

Jay B. Beneman, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Beneman, 802 Fayette Street, will be one of the 125 students of the Wharton School of Business, Univeristy of Pennsylvania, who will take over the running of Gimble Brothers Philadelphia store on Wednesday, November 17.

These "bosses for a day" will work with the Gimble personnel to gain first-hand experience in the problems that face the management of a modern department store.

Beneman, a senior majoring in publications, will replace Irving Schacter as a buyer of shoes. He will be graded on appearance, personality, sincerity, interest, ability to learn, ability to get along with people and potentiality as a good employe. Beneman will also be required to prepare a job analysis on the position for University credit.

How Did It Happen? What Caused Big Upset?

The greater part of the nation is still rubbing its eyes in amazement over the election of Harry Truman. Almost without exception, the "political experts" were proved wrong. All of the political polls, which have devoted so much skill, money and patient planning to making accurate samplings of public opinion, were widely off the beam. It would almost seem that in the entire country only Harry Truman was right about his chances—and even he just took a shot in the dark.

How explain this astounding result—astounding, at least, to all who voted for Dewey and, we are sure, to a great many who favored Truman? Hindsight is always easier than foresight—and this year no less rash. Nevertheless, we venture a few guesses as to the reason for this phenomenal result. First and foremost, the organized labor vote was both much larger and much better organized than even the labor leaders believed possible. Many farmers in the Midwest and West appear to have believed Truman's promises rather than Dewey's. The wasting away of the Wallace following, under the pressure of Russia's belligerence and of the President's calculated appeal to the radical vote, also helps to explain Truman's strength.

Also, Mr. Truman, you will remember, operated a haberdashery for a number of years during which time he acquired the knack of salesmanship, and he put it to good use in selling himself to the country. On the other hand, Mr. Dewey either did not possess such astuteness or, if he did, considered its use unnecessary in the face of public opinion polls which indicated he would be elected overwhelmingly.

It is also the opinion of this newspaper that those polls lulled the voters into a sense of overconfidence which probably accounts for the nearly 6,000,000 voters staying away from the polls. Their ballots could very well have changed the entire election picture.

But how explain Dewey's weakness? The answer is that the New York Governor's campaign simply failed to convince enough voters that he was the right man for the job. He lacked salesmanship. No one can be blamed for that but Tom Dewey. He entered the campaign a heavy favorite. Yet, by what he said, and even more by what he left unsaid, he gave too many Republican voters the impression that he would revive the New Deal, only "make it work better." Republican presidential candidates have been following this "me too" business for a decade and it has never worked yet.

Governor Dewey's concession of victory to Truman came at a time when there still seemed doubt as to critical states like Ohio and California. But apparently the candidate had advance information.

While expectation of a Republican victory was almost universal, at the back of the stage there were always some lurking doubt. How would the rank and file of labor vote? Would they follow the union leaders' appraisement of the Taft-Hartley Law or would they make their own decisions on that tremendously important measure? Then there were reports of Republican losses in rock-ribbed farming communities.

It is not too much to say that the result of this election has brought the sharpest readjustment in political ideas in American history. Many things that seemed basic and obvious last Tuesday are in the discard today. But one fact is outstanding. The man who promises most to the greatest number of special interest groups was elected. Whether our republic, which was based on popular intelligence and popular self-restraint, can live on that philosophy remains to be seen.

Mass production, it is alleged, would bring prices down. As in automobiles?

A Woman's Idea Being Commemorated With Stamp

On your mail during the coming weeks you will probably see a three-cent stamp authorized by Congress to commemorate the life-work of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Back in 1886 "Daisy" Gordon of Savannah married an Englishman, William Low, and went to England to live. After her husband's death she founded, under the inspiration of Sir Robert Baden-Powell's Boy Scouts, the English female equivalent, the Girl Guides. The success of that movement encouraged her to come back to Savannah and found in her own home, the Girl Scout organization, which now serves 1,500,000 American girls from 7 to 17 regardless of race, creed or color. In Cumberland alone there are 500 Girl Scouts and 100 adult volunteers.

The end purpose of this institution is to prepare American women of tomorrow to become better citizens in order to build a better world. Girl Scouting teaches young people the best type of citizenship, which rests upon a sense of responsibility to the local community, the nation and the world.

Among its practical advantages is the teaching of skills that benefit the girls all their lives. From our observation, one of its greatest values is simply good fun. The advantage of directed play, with a group and without too close supervision, has been a godsend to many an "only child."

Mrs. Low had a great idea, whose fruits, after 36 years of growth, are now celebrated nationally in Girl Scout Week.

Nothing New

Well, there's nothing new there. Generations of parents, we're sure, verbally have instructed little Willie to pick up his toys, guided him by the hand to their location, and wound up providing the example by picking them up themselves.

New radar devices bring sounds from the universe, the music of the spheres. Jazz or classical?

A New Porker

The Eastern Meat Packers Association and Purdue University announce that they are going to produce a hog "tailor-made" to the requirements of Eastern meat consumers.

We suggest that the consumers get together and unanimously recommend that one of the new critter's principal features be pork chops at two bits a pound.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The Spoiled Youngster

A spoiled child is difficult to handle and many parents become so discouraged after trying everything that they give up and let nature take its course. If expert medical advice is not available, this plan may prove better than punishment, which rarely corrects disobedience, disrespect, and aggressive tendencies. As a rule, the basic fault lies with the parents, who did a poor job of rearing the youngster in the early days and are now doing a job equally bad in trying to remedy the situation.

Dr. Van Dellen

Such children exhibit various behavior problems, among them crying easily, refusing to obey, and making unreasonable demands especially when guests are present. If crossed by not getting their way, a temper tantrum follows with the little darling throwing himself on the floor or sidewalk, kicking and howling. All too often the fuss is precipitated by a trivial event; junior spies an orange in the grocery store and is not content unless he has it.

The majority are restless and prone to pick fights and disturb their classmates. They are tiresome at the table and frequently refuse to eat; their toilet habits are usually faulty and many wet the bed. Others are destructive and break furniture or toys; some steal money whenever the opportunity presents itself. Their school grades are often low but many are highly intelligent when subjected to the usual tests for this purpose.

According to Beverly, these tyrannical boys and girls are in reality not bad; they are just unhappy. In some instances, they have been pampered since infancy. As an only child, many led sheltered and overprotective lives because the parents "had all their eggs in one basket" and were afraid that something might go wrong. The over-zealous mother feeds and dresses her offspring long after the period when the young sprouts should be doing things on their own. He was not given a chance to grow up and the resultant behavior is a desperate attempt to exert his rights.

Many spoiled children were not allowed to proceed at their own pace. On reaching a certain age, bowel and bladder control was expected because the book said so or an older sister or cousin had passed through this stage according to Hoyle. The parents did not realize that the reflex is delayed in some and accelerated in others. Furthermore, the youngster was reprimanded when trying to follow his own instincts. Could he help it if God made him curious so that he wanted to touch every object in sight? Such disapproval naturally produces a feeling of insecurity and misconduct of this type is a form of rebellion because no other means is at hand for attracting attention. In addition, many have not received enough love and affection.

It is not difficult to thank a child for doing little things and to show him that he is wanted and loved. Natural impulses should be directed but not suppressed, in order that the youngster will grow in a normal way.

STEPPED UP RATE

V. W. writes: What causes a faster pulse after eating?

Reply

The increase in metabolism and the demand for more blood in and about the digestive system. Indulgence in coffee and tobacco is also a factor.

A MOOT QUESTION

C.T.M. writes: Is it possible to be constipated even tho the bowel moves every morning?

Reply

No, except that the stools may appear constipated because too little fluid or roughage is consumed.

PARISITIC INVASION

Mrs. E. writes: What is trichomonas?

Reply

The most troublesome type of this infection attacks the reproductive organs. It is less common in men than women.

UNLIKELY

M. T. writes: Can adhesions of the throat develop after a tonsillectomy?

Reply

This is possible but rarely happens. The raw surface which remains after the tonsils are removed usually heals like any open sore.

I'M NO ORACLE

Mrs. O. writes: I have been told that when a person's ears burn and turn red, some one is talking about her and the right ear, a man. If in daytime, the talk is bad but after dark, it is good. Please explain this as I know lots of people who would be interested.

Reply

There is as much truth in this theory as in the idea that you will receive some money if your palm itches or that the cat has got your tongue when you won't talk.

RINGWORM OF THE FEET

F. T. writes: I picked up athlete's foot this summer at the beach. What can I do about it?

Reply

I would suggest that you drop it. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this annoying condition.

EYELID LESION

Mrs. V. M. writes: Is a cyst under the upper eyelid serious.

Reply

There are many types of cysts, hence examination would be necessary to determine whether it is innocent or serious. Drainage or surgical removal is generally advised.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

KERR OF OKLAHOMA—The voters have swapped one oil man for another with ex-Governor Bob Kerr, Democrat, a wealthy oil man, succeeding multi-Millionaire Republican Ed Moore in the Senate.

However, except for the fact that they are both oil men, the two are miles apart. Scrooge-like 77-year-old Ed Moore was a Senate spokeman for the big corporations, and made no secret of it. If a liberal idea ever entered his head it died from solitary confinement.

But Kerr was born in a log cabin near Ada, Oklahoma, and has never lost the common touch, despite his considerable wealth. And he has an infallible method of keeping his down-to-earth bearings.

"Whenever I am tempted to think like a rich man," says Kerr, "I remember the time I worked in a cement mill for 15 cents an hour."

When F. D. R. was asked who should keynote the 1944 Democratic convention, when he was nominated for a fourth term, he replied, "I don't care, as long as it's Bob Kerr."

When Europe was clamoring for aid in the fall of 1947, Kerr didn't wait for Washington to act, but helped organize his own wheat relief committee. Kerr has broad-gauged views on protecting the future economy of the United States, and once warned President Truman that America may not be able to feed itself, much less others, twenty years from now unless we embark on a more extensive flood-control program to stop the costly erosion.

Kerr fought in the First World War as an artillery lieutenant, is a church going family man, the father of four children. He doesn't drink, smoke or chew, and his one chief vice is eating pears, which he consumes by the peck.

GILLETTE OF IOWA—White haired, never-say-die Guy Gillette is remembered for his battle to expedite the synthetic rubber program which Jesse Jones let lag so disastrously during the war and for the Roosevelt purge.

Now 69 years old, Gillette was a buck sergeant in the Spanish-American War and an infantry captain in World War I. He has been a battler from the time he first set foot in Washington in 1932 as a rookie congressman. He battled against food profiteers, for soil conservation, for reclamation, and for rural electrification. His most publicized battles was the 1938 primary contest with Otha Weaiin, selected by the White House in the unsuccessful purge attempt.

In Washington, Gillette is also remembered for having taken over the newspaper route of his young son who was ill; and for the Sunday nights during the war when the Senator and Mrs. Gillette washed dishes at the Stage Door Canteen.

However, the news story that caused the greatest confusion in the Gillette family was the time Guy was chosen by a magazine as the Senate's best dressed man a few hours after his charming wife, Rose, had lectured him at breakfast about his shabby attire and demanded that he buy a new suit.

Less than four years ago, Humphrey literally wore his voice out at the 1944 Democratic convention in Chicago screaming for Henry Wallace. In fact, Humphrey was such a rabid Wallace man that he refused to vote for Truman after Truman won and the convention chairman moved to make the nomination unanimous.

Few who watched the Democratic Convention closely will ever forget the sight of Humphrey and Barney Allen, a Red River Valley farmer, their clothes half torn off their backs and their voices gone, racing through the Chicago Stadium carrying an American flag and a Wallace banner, begging and pleading with the delegates to support their man.

But that was four years ago. One year later, Humphrey, by wrapping up practical politics with a clever doorbell-ringing campaign managed to become Mayor of Minneapolis.

The trigger-tongued Humphrey will bring to the Senate a clamorous voice for civil rights and social reforms. As Mayor of Minneapolis, one of his first acts was to set up a Council on Human Relations.

He founded it on dreams, but made it work. Again at the Philadelphia Convention, it was Humphrey who split the Democratic Party wide open by demanding a strong civil rights program. In retaliation, the Dixiecrats poured money into the Republican campaign in Minnesota and even sent ex-Governor Sam Jones of Louisiana up to help re-elect Senator Joe Ball.

Built on springs, Humphrey won't hold still long in the Senate. He has the breathless personality of a youth on a roller-coaster. Jet-propelled ideas shoot through his head and take off on the busiest tongue in politics. He has the vocal endurance of a photograph, can blow up an oratorical windstorm at the drop of a gavel. But he is a man of action as well as words.

A professor-politician, Humphrey taught his classes at MacAlester College to take an active part in politics; then he, himself, went out to practice what he preached. He brought a truce between labor and management, brought quarreling Sister Kenny and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis together to fight the crippling polio epidemic which struck Minneapolis.

His ambition in the Senate will be a position on the Education and Labor Committee.

NEELY OF WEST VIRGINIA—Friends of Matt Neely boast that he has run for more offices and been elected more times than any man in West Virginia politics. He began as a $45-a-month school teacher, resigned to try his luck at politics, served five terms in the House of Representatives, three times as U. S. Senator, once as governor of West Virginia, and once as mayor of his home town, Fairmont. This marks the fourth time West Virginia voters have chosen him for the Senate.

Matthew Mansfield Neely is best known as a crusader for an airtight federal mine inspection law to prevent tragic mine accidents. Too many of them have occurred under slipshod and frequently graftridden state mine inspecion. Neely grew up in a mining community and accompanied his father, a country doctor, on many emergency calls to mine pits where death had struck.

Always a colorful figure, Neely is addicted to snappy suits of pistachio green, is noted for his frankness, but is secretive about one thing—his age. There's been a lot of guessing about this, and Matt refuses to tell even his close friends exactly how old he is. However one week from tonight, November 9, the Senator-elect will be 74 years old. But many men 20 years younger would like to have Neely's health and stamina.

Loss Of Farm States One Of Biggest Causes Of GOP Defeat

By MARK SULLIVAN

The largest single factor in the unexpectedness of this week's election results, was the swing to President Truman by Mid-West farm states. There were six, all large, with a total electoral vote of 101, nearly a fifth of the national total. All had been Republican, out of their 12 Senators, 11 were Republican. In most of them the Republicanism was traditional, there were counties that had never gone Democratic until this week's election. In spite of big cities in some of them, such as Chicago, the Republican farm and rural population dominated. All had gone strongly Republican in the Congressional elections two years ago—in the present House of Representatives, out of a total of 86 members from these states, 72 are Republicans. Memory of that Mid-West Republican strength two years ago made the Republicans utterly confident that the Mid-West would go Republican this year.

A Third of Truman's Electors

These Mid-West farm states accounted for more than a third of Mr. Truman's electors, and for most of the surprise. That Mr. Truman would get the labor vote was fully expected, but it was equally expected that the farm vote would go Republican as usual. When it did not, post election search for the cause said that the Midwest farmers preferred Mr. Truman's assurances of price support for farm crops over Mr. Dewey's. Put that way it could hardly be correct. For in fact Mr. Dewey's assurances about price support were as strong and as often repeated as Mr. Truman's. Actually there was competition between the two candidates to see which could promise the farmers most, and there has long been similar competition between the two parties. True, the swing of the Mid-West to Mr. Truman had a connection with price support, but only a special and narrow segment of price support.

The cause of the Mid-West swing to Mr. Truman arose during the last weeks of the campaign and became increasingly dynamic up to the day of election. During October the Mid-West farmers were harvesting the largest corn crop in history. For this the Department of Agriculture had fixed a "support-price" of $1.53 a bushel, meaning that the Department would take the corn off the farmers' hands at that price—by a complex process of making loans, with the corn pledged as security, which the farmer need not repay unless a future condition made it advantageous for him to do so.

But the Department would do this only if the farmer stored the corn until such time as the government should take it over. Most of the farmers did not have storage facilities adequate for so large a crop, hence could not take advantage of the government's support price. During the weeks before election, they were selling corn in the ordinary market at prices much below the support price, the present writer has heard of large sales as low as $1.20 a bushel.

Blamed Republican Congress

For the lack of storage facilities, the farmers put blame on the present Republican Congress. For years the Department of Agriculture, as part of its mechanism for price support, had built neighborhood storage facilities for the farmers at government expense. This was stopped by an action of Congress about a year ago. Of this action, President Truman took advantage in his campaign, he made it a part of his shrill indictment of what he called the "do-nothing" Republican Congress, stressing it stridently in campaign appeals to the Mid-West. Local Democratic leaders and farm leaders took it up, it became an issue in local campaigns for re-election of Congressmen. One can understand that farmers, led to expect much from the government, would feel grievance as they sold their corn for prices less than they would have got had the government built storage facilities for them.

While this cause for the swing of the farm Mid-West to Mr. Truman is especially concrete and identifiable, there were of course several other causes, the more important ones nationwide in scope. What were causes this week will now have corresponding future effects, as an administration takes over which will feel that the things Mr. Truman stressed in the campaign are now mandates for action, and which will now have a majority in both branches of Congress. There is obvious justification for feeling that Mr. Truman, no longer a President who took over through the death of his predecessor, and now buttressed by having been elected on his own account, will have greater confidence, that the aggressiveness he showed as a candidate will be duplicated as President. Similarly, it is tenable to suppose that the groups in his following who were checked by the election of a Republican Congress two years ago, will now likewise have greater aggressiveness.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—It was the original strategy of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, conceived after his first term began in 1933, that really won the election for President Truman.

Mr. Roosevelt was a master strategist in American politics. He recognized that the straight-ticket voting and fidelity to party which the Republicans had enjoyed for decades must somehow be broken down. He perceived that inside the Republican Party its main strength had been developed in the farm areas of the country, which went Republican repeatedly in presidential and congressional elections. He perceived also that Republican city machines had usually been able to win the labor vote by arousing fears that if the protective tariff were broken down and the products of cheap labor from other countries were brought in, there would be a depression.

How to make an alliance, so to speak, of the farm vote on the one hand and the labor vote on the other was one of the first problems to which Roosevelt addressed himself in his early days in the presidency. Through the Agricultural Adjustment Act and subsidies to the farm area by the government, the Democratic Party began to cut into the farm vote which had always been Republican.

Made Labor Vote Possible

Similarly, by giving to the labor unions what they had striven for generations to accomplish—a statutory recognition of the right to collective bargaining — Mr. Roosevelt made himself solid with the labor vote.

An examination of the election trends in the 1936, 1940 and 1944 campaigns showed that these influences were operative for the benefit of the Democrats. When Mr. Roosevelt was asked by those who didn't always agree with his strategy, why the Republicans made such gains in Congressional elections, his answer usually was that these were "local" affairs and the candidates did not have the benefit of a presidential nominee on the ticket to get out the vote.

It will be recalled that Mr. Truman, in his campaign speeches, again and again insisted that if the Democrats went to the polls they could win the election. The returns this year nevertheless show the total vote to be below 1944.

There was apathy on both sides, but if one side gets out a larger portion of this indifferent vote, while the other side through overconfidence or for other reasons doesn't go to the polls. The election result can be changed. In Maine in the September election for Congress this year the Republicans won by a big margin. This was cut by two-thirds this week as the Democrats brought out 100 per cent more voters than they did in September, while the Republicans hardly equalled their September vote. This is the result of a belief that the outcome was a foregone conclusion. The same thing happens in the South after a primary contest. S the Republicans accepted the poll and many thought the election wa in the bag anyway and didn't vote

Many people will ask why, the some of the observers in variou parts of the country did not not these trends, and why it was tha President Truman was virtually th only man who believed in th probability of an overturn in hi favor.

Polls Defied Independent Judgmen

The truth is that many observer did sense that the same influence were operative this year as ha been apparent in other election but the advance polls virtually de fied anyone to exercise independen judgment. As long as a scientifi method or what seemed to be fairly accurate method of determin ing public sentiment had been de vised, individuals felt frustrated i any attempt to question what th polls were showing throughout th country.

In defense of those who mak the polls, however, it must be sai that in poll-making a margin of er ror has always been mentioned Those who have been using th scientific sampling process hav heretofore predicted that sooner o later in a close election the margi of error would be such that a entire election would be misse especially where the votes wer close in pivotal states with larg electoral representation.

Anyone who followed the result as they came in early Wednesda knew that a shift of a few thousan votes in several big states woul have made Dewey President. Unde such circumstances, polls will con tinue to be taken but there doubt less will be corrections made in th technique and the public generall will not accept them as gospel i close election years but will dis count a probable margin of erro

Revealed Strategy At Convention

Mr. Truman is to be congratu lated for having disregarded th polls and for having followed th political advice he was given from time to time during his Administra tion—namely, that high wages fo the city voter and high farm in come for the rural areas was th formula Mr. Roosevelt used so suc cessfully to win three elections.

Mr. Truman first disclosed hi adoption of that strategy on the night he accepted the nomination i Philadelphia, when he said that the farmers would be ungrateful i they didn't vote for him and the wage earners would, in effect, "be biting the hand that fed them" i they took the risk of a change i administration. His concept as t voting influences has been vindi cated by the returns. The "grati tude" vote apparently outnumbered the "protest" vote, or at least, not enough of the protest or anti-Tru man vote went to the polls to swing the election the other way.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

IT may turn out that the voice of the people it the voice of God. Often enough, it is just the opposite, or there would be no troubles in the world. Harry Truman may, in his second term, turn out to be a more competent, a more generous, a better President. Certainly, he will now suffer fewer restraints and the responsibility will be all his own. He will have no 80th Congress to blame; he has his own Congress.

All this is not terribly important yet. Harry Truman will have to face problems that are arising in all parts of the world to plague him. He will have to face the imminent conquest of China by Soviet Russia and if he does no better during the next three months than he has done during the past three years, we shall be in real trouble soon—very soon.

He will have to face the Berlin situation as though there had been no election. He might now send Mr. Chief Justice Vinson to see Joe Stalin in Moscow. That would be an excellent way to get rid of all the machinery of peace, including the United Nations, which he helped to set up.

So Truman will have to work for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, which provides for an orderly integration of labor rights and practices into the general life of the American people. He has his own Congress now and he may succeed in turning it into a "rubber stamp" Congress, as he has a "mandate." But what will he substitute for it? The ancient and wicked Wagner Act?

American labor leaders know that the Taft-Hartley Act rescued their national confederations from control by international Communism. The C. I. O., in particular, suffered from this disease and has been, in the nick of time, saved from it by that provision of the Taft-Hartley Act which requires Communists to declare themselves. What will be done about that?

Mr. Truman is pledged to price control without turning the United States into a police state. Apart from the indisputable fact that that cannot be done, what kind of price control does Mr. Truman plan to produce? We shall soon enough see, for this price question undoubtedly helped to elect him.

But the psychology of it is that those who voted for him on this issue want price controls put on every product but the one they produce. In a word, the farmer wants price controls on manufactured goods, but he wants grains and milk and butter to soar to high heaven. And he wants subsidies besides.

Also Mr. Truman is pledged to no tax reductions until the debt is considerably reduced, which is poor economics even if it has turned out to be good politics. The reason that it is poor economics is that we are drying up the reservoirs of venture capital and therefore shall not be able to repair, expand or rebuild existing enterprises and we shall not be able to create new industries except on government loans.

This means that all industry may, or rather, could, in time, be socialized by the simple process of calling in the loans. Certainly, Mr. Truman is not in favor of Socialism for the United States; but failure to reduce taxes must in time produce Socialism. How is he going to crack that chestnut?

Again, Mr. Truman has pledged himself to a vast program of government social services, all of which will cost money. Without entering into the subject of the wisdom of his program, let us consider the money part. The cost of government, in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, will finally come to the vicinity of $43,000,000,000. The largest share of this cost is to be put to the war, the after-war and the international cooperation program Mr. Truman can reduce little this. He will probably have to increase these items considerably.

So, where is he going to get the money for his vast program without increasing taxes and yet not freezing venture capital altogether or further depreciating the American dollar which now stands at 42 cents on a 1914 basis?

He will not have 90 days to answer that question.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Reader objects to me calling the White House the relatives' office building.

Well, there's many a hero of five fronts in the Pentagon building. And we have some Senators down in the old folks laughing academy who have been living on government property so long they are using the great seal for a laundry mark.

Blood is thicker than water and nepotism is always worth a fair four-year trial. In all our history as a nation we have had only one bachelor president.

And he never gave it a fair trial. The mug got married quicker than a letter carrier could whistle up a flight of steps.

How Did It Happen? What Caused Big Upset?

The greater part of the nation is still rubbing its eyes in amazement over the election of Harry Truman. Almost without exception, the "political experts" were proved wrong. All of the political polls, which have devoted so much skill, money and patient planning to making accurate samplings of public opinion, were widely off the beam. It would almost seem that in the entire country only Harry Truman was right about his chances—and even he just took a shot in the dark.

How explain this astounding result—astounding, at least, to all who voted for Dewey and, we are sure, to a great many who favored Truman? Hindsight is always easier than foresight—and this year no less rash. Nevertheless, we venture a few guesses as to the reason for this phenomenal result. First and foremost, the organized labor vote was both much larger and much better organized than even the labor leaders believed possible. Many farmers in the Midwest and West appear to have believed Truman's promises rather than Dewey's. The wasting away of the Wallace following, under the pressure of Russia's belligerence and of the President's calculated appeal to the radical vote, also helps to explain Truman's strength.

Also, Mr. Truman, you will remember, operated a haberdashery for a number of years during which time he acquired the knack of salesmanship, and he put it to good use in selling himself to the country. On the other hand, Mr. Dewey either did not possess such astuteness or, if he did, considered its use unnecessary in the face of public opinion polls which indicated he would be elected overwhelmingly.

It is also the opinion of this newspaper that those polls lulled the voters into a sense of overconfidence which probably accounts for the nearly 6,000,000 voters staying away from the polls. Their ballots could very well have changed the entire election picture.

But how explain Dewey's weakness? The answer is that the New York Governor's campaign simply failed to convince enough voters that he was the right man for the job. He lacked salesmanship. No one can be blamed for that but Tom Dewey. He entered the campaign a heavy favorite. Yet, by what he said, and even more by what he left unsaid, he gave too many Republican voters the impression that he would revive the New Deal, only "make it work better." Republican presidential candidates have been following this "me too" business for a decade and it has never worked yet.

Governor Dewey's concession of victory to Truman came at a time when there still seemed doubt as to critical states like Ohio and California. But apparently the candidate had advance information.

While expectation of a Republican victory was almost universal, at the back of the stage there were always some lurking doubt. How would the rank and file of labor vote? Would they follow the union leaders' appraisement of the Taft-Hartley Law or would they make their own decisions on that tremendously important measure? Then there were reports of Republican losses in rock-ribbed farming communities.

It is not too much to say that the result of this election has brought the sharpest readjustment in political ideas in American history. Many things that seemed basic and obvious last Tuesday are in the discard today. But one fact is outstanding. The man who promises most to the greatest number of special interest groups was elected. Whether our republic, which was based on popular intelligence and popular self-restraint, can live on that philosophy remains to be seen.

Mass production, it is alleged, would bring prices down. As in automobiles?

A Woman's Idea Being Commemorated With Stamp

On your mail during the coming weeks you will probably see a three-cent stamp authorized by Congress to commemorate the life-work of Juliette Gordon Low, founder of Girl Scouting in the United States.

Back in 1886 "Daisy" Gordon of Savannah married an Englishman, William Low, and went to England to live. After her husband's death she founded, under the inspiration of Sir Robert Baden-Powell's Boy Scouts, the English female equivalent, the Girl Guides. The success of that movement encouraged her to come back to Savannah and found in her own home, the Girl Scout organization, which now serves 1,500,000 American girls from 7 to 17 regardless of race, creed or color. In Cumberland alone there are 500 Girl Scouts and 100 adult volunteers.

The end purpose of this institution is to prepare American women of tomorrow to become better citizens in order to build a better world. Girl Scouting teaches young people the best type of citizenship, which rests upon a sense of responsibility to the local community, the nation and the world.

Among its practical advantages is the teaching of skills that benefit the girls all their lives. From our observation, one of its greatest values is simply good fun. The advantage of directed play, with a group and without too close supervision, has been a godsend to many an "only child."

Mrs. Low had a great idea, whose fruits, after 36 years of growth, are now celebrated nationally in Girl Scout Week.

Nothing New

Well, there's nothing new there. Generations of parents, we're sure, verbally have instructed little Willie to pick up his toys, guided him by the hand to their location, and wound up providing the example by picking them up themselves.

New radar devices bring sounds from the universe, the music of the spheres. Jazz or classical?

A New Porker

The Eastern Meat Packers Association and Purdue University announce that they are going to produce a hog "tailor-made" to the requirements of Eastern meat consumers.

We suggest that the consumers get together and unanimously recommend that one of the new critter's principal features be pork chops at two bits a pound.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The Spoiled Youngster

A spoiled child is difficult to handle and many parents become so discouraged after trying everything that they give up and let nature take its course. If expert medical advice is not available, this plan may prove better than punishment, which rarely corrects disobedience, disrespect, and aggressive tendencies. As a rule, the basic fault lies with the parents, who did a poor job of rearing the youngster in the early days and are now doing a job equally bad in trying to remedy the situation.

Dr. Van Dellen

Such children exhibit various behavior problems, among them crying easily, refusing to obey, and making unreasonable demands especially when guests are present. If crossed by not getting their way, a temper tantrum follows with the little darling throwing himself on the floor or sidewalk, kicking and howling. All too often the fuss is precipitated by a trivial event; junior spies an orange in the grocery store and is not content unless he has it.

The majority are restless and prone to pick fights and disturb their classmates. They are tiresome at the table and frequently refuse to eat; their toilet habits are usually faulty and many wet the bed. Others are destructive and break furniture or toys; some steal money whenever the opportunity presents itself. Their school grades are often low but many are highly intelligent when subjected to the usual tests for this purpose.

According to Beverly, these tyrannical boys and girls are in reality not bad; they are just unhappy. In some instances, they have been pampered since infancy. As an only child, many led sheltered and overprotective lives because the parents "had all their eggs in one basket" and were afraid that something might go wrong. The over-zealous mother feeds and dresses her offspring long after the period when the young sprouts should be doing things on their own. He was not given a chance to grow up and the resultant behavior is a desperate attempt to exert his rights.

Many spoiled children were not allowed to proceed at their own pace. On reaching a certain age, bowel and bladder control was expected because the book said so or an older sister or cousin had passed through this stage according to Hoyle. The parents did not realize that the reflex is delayed in some and accelerated in others. Furthermore, the youngster was reprimanded when trying to follow his own instincts. Could he help it if God made him curious so that he wanted to touch every object in sight? Such disapproval naturally produces a feeling of insecurity and misconduct of this type is a form of rebellion because no other means is at hand for attracting attention. In addition, many have not received enough love and affection.

It is not difficult to thank a child for doing little things and to show him that he is wanted and loved. Natural impulses should be directed but not suppressed, in order that the youngster will grow in a normal way.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

KERR OF OKLAHOMA—The voters have swapped one oil man for another with ex-Governor Bob Kerr, Democrat, a wealthy oil man, succeeding multi-Millionaire Republican Ed Moore in the Senate.

However, except for the fact that they are both oil men, the two are miles apart. Scrooge-like 77-year-old Ed Moore was a Senate spokesman for the big corporations, and made no secret of it. If a liberal idea ever entered his head it died from solitary confinement.

But Kerr was born in a log cabin near Ada, Oklahoma, and has never lost the common touch, despite his considerable wealth. And he has an infallible method of keeping his down-to-earth bearings.

"Whenever I am tempted to think like a rich man," says Kerr, "I remember the time I worked in a cement mill for 15 cents an hour."

When F. D. R. was asked who should keynote the 1944 Democratic convention, when he was nominated for a fourth term, he replied, "I don't care, as long as it's Bob Kerr."

When Europe was clamoring for aid in the fall of 1947, Kerr didn't wait for Washington to act, but helped organize his own wheat relief committee. Kerr has broad-gauged views on protecting the future economy of the United States, and once warned President Truman that America may not be able to feed itself, much less others, twenty years from now unless we embark on a more extensive flood-control program to stop the costly erosion.

Kerr fought in the First World War as an artillery lieutenant, is a church going family man, the father of four children. He doesn't drink, smoke or chew, and his one chief vice is eating pears, which he consumes by the peck.

GILLETTE OF IOWA—White haired, never-say-die Guy Gillette is remembered for his battle to expedite the synthetic rubber program which Jesse Jones let lag so disastrously during the war and for the Roosevelt purge.

Now 69 years old, Gillette was a buck sergeant in the Spanish-American War and an infantry captain in World War I. He has been a battler from the time he first set foot in Washington in 1932 as a rookie congressman. He battled against food profiteers, for soil conservation, for reclamation, and for rural electrification. His most publicized battles was the 1938 primary contest with Otha Wearin, selected by the White House in the unsuccessful purge attempt.

In Washington, Gillette is also remembered for having taken over the newspaper route of his young son who was ill; and for the Sunday nights during the war when the Senator and Mrs. Gillette washed dishes at the Stage Door Canteen.

However, the news story that caused the greatest confusion in the Gillette family was the time Guy was chosen by a magazine as the Senate's best dressed man a few hours after his charming wife, Rose, had lectured him at breakfast about his shabby attire and demanded that he buy a new suit.

Less than four years ago, Humphrey literally wore his voice out at the 1944 Democratic convention in Chicago screaming for Henry Wallace. In fact, Humphrey was such a rabid Wallace man that he refused to vote for Truman after Truman won and the convention chairman moved to make the nomination unanimous.

Few who watched the Democratic Convention closely will ever forget the sight of Humphrey and Barney Allen, a Red River Valley farmer, their clothes half torn off their backs and their voices gone, racing through the Chicago Stadium carrying an American flag and a Wallace banner, begging and pleading with the delegates to support their man.

But that was four years ago. One year later, Humphrey, by wrapping up practical politics with a clever doorbell-ringing campaign managed to become Mayor of Minneapolis.

The trigger-tongued Humphrey will bring to the Senate a clamorous voice for civil rights and social reforms. As Mayor of Minneapolis, one of his first acts was to set up a Council on Human Relations.

He founded it on dreams, but made it work. Again at the Philadelphia Convention, it was Humphrey who split the Democratic Party wide open by demanding a strong civil rights program. In retaliation, the Dixiecrats poured money into the Republican campaign in Minnesota and even sent ex-Governor Sam Jones of Louisiana up to help re-elect Senator Joe Ball.

Built on springs, Humphrey won't hold still long in the Senate. He has the breathless personality of a youth on a roller-coaster. Jet-propelled ideas shoot through his head and take off on the busiest tongue in politics. He has the vocal endurance of a photograph, can blow up an oratorical windstorm at the drop of a gavel. But he is a man of action as well as words.

A professor-politician, Humphrey taught his classes at MacAlester College to take an active part in politics; then he, himself, went out to practice what he preached. He brought a truce between labor and management, brought quarreling Sister Kenny and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis together to fight the crippling polio epidemic which struck Minneapolis.

His ambition in the Senate will be a position on the Education and Labor Committee.

NEELY OF WEST VIRGINIA—Friends of Matt Neely boast that he has run for more offices and been elected more times than any man in West Virginia politics. He began as a $45-a-month school teacher, resigned to try his luck at politics, served five terms in the House of Representatives, three times as U. S. Senator, once as governor of West Virginia, and once as mayor of his home town, Fairmont. This marks the fourth time West Virginia voters have chosen him for the Senate.

Matthew Mansfield Neely is best known as a crusader for an airtight federal mine inspection law to prevent tragic mine accidents. Too many of them have occurred under slipshod and frequently graftridden state mine inspecion. Neely grew up in a mining community and accompanied his father, a country doctor, on many emergency calls to mine pits where death had struck.

Always a colorful figure, Neely is addicted to snappy suits of pistachio green, is noted for his frankness, but is secretive about one thing—his age. There's been a lot of guessing about this, and Matt refuses to tell even his close friends exactly how old he is. However one week from tonight, November 9, the Senator-elect will be 74 years old. But many men 20 years younger would like to have Neely's health and stamina.

By MARK SULLIVAN

The largest single factor in the unexpectedness of this week's election results, was the swing to President Truman by Mid-West farm states. There were six, all large, with a total electoral vote of 101, nearly a fifth of the national total. All had been Republican, out of their 12 Senators, 11 were Republican. In most of them the Republicanism was traditional, there were counties that had never gone Democratic until this week's election. In spite of big cities in some of them, such as Chicago, the Republican farm and rural population dominated. All had gone strongly Republican in the Congressional elections two years ago—in the present House of Representatives, out of a total of 86 members from these states, 72 are Republicans. Memory of that Mid-West Republican strength two years ago made the Republicans utterly confident that the Mid-West would go Republican this year.

A Third of Truman's Electors

These Mid-West farm states accounted for more than a third of Mr. Truman's electors, and for most of the surprise. That Mr. Truman would get the labor vote was fully expected, but it was equally expected that the farm vote would go Republican as usual. When it did not, post election search for the cause said that the Midwest farmers preferred Mr. Truman's assurances of price support for farm crops over Mr. Dewey's. Put that way it could hardly be correct. For in fact Mr. Dewey's assurances about price support were as strong and as often repeated as Mr. Truman's. Actually there was competition between the two candidates to see which could promise the farmers most, and there has long been similar competition between the two parties. True, the swing of the Mid-West to Mr. Truman had a connection with price support, but only a special and narrow segment of price support.

The cause of the Mid-West swing to Mr. Truman arose during the last weeks of the campaign and became increasingly dynamic up to the day of election. During October the Mid-West farmers were harvesting the largest corn crop in history. For this the Department of Agriculture had fixed a "support-price" of $1.53 a bushel, meaning that the Department would take the corn off the farmers' hands at that price—by a complex process of making loans, with the corn pledged as security, which the farmer need not repay unless a future condition made it advantageous for him to do so.

But the Department would do this only if the farmer stored the corn until such time as the government should take it over. Most of the farmers did not have storage facilities adequate for so large a crop, hence could not take advantage of the government's support price. During the weeks before election, they were selling corn in the ordinary market at prices much below the support price, the present writer has heard of large sales as low as $1.20 a bushel.

Blamed Republican Congress

For the lack of storage facilities, the farmers put blame on the present Republican Congress. For years the Department of Agriculture, as part of its mechanism for price support, had built neighborhood storage facilities for the farmers at government expense. This was stopped by an action of Congress about a year ago. Of this action, President Truman took advantage in his campaign, he made it a part of his shrill indictment of what he called the "do-nothing" Republican Congress, stressing it stridently in campaign appeals to the Mid-West. Local Democratic leaders and farm leaders took it up, it became an issue in local campaigns for re-election of Congressmen. One can understand that farmers, led to expect much from the government, would feel grievance as they sold their corn for prices less than they would have got had the government built storage facilities for them.

While this cause for the swing of the farm Mid-West to Mr. Truman is especially concrete and identifiable, there were of course several other causes, the more important ones nationwide in scope. What were causes this week will now have corresponding future effects, as an administration takes over which will feel that the things Mr. Truman stressed in the campaign are now mandates for action, and which will now have a majority in both branches of Congress. There is obvious justification for feeling that Mr. Truman, no longer a President who took over through the death of his predecessor, and now buttressed by having been elected on his own account, will have greater confidence, that the aggressiveness he showed as a candidate will be duplicated as President. Similarly, it is tenable to suppose that the groups in his following who were checked by the election of a Republican Congress two years ago, will now likewise have greater aggressiveness.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5—It was the original strategy of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, conceived after his first term began in 1933, that really won the election for President Truman.

Mr. Roosevelt was a master strategist in American politics. He recognized that the straight-ticket voting and fidelity to party which the Republicans had enjoyed for decades must somehow be broken down. He perceived that inside the Republican Party its main strength had been developed in the farm areas of the country, which went Republican repeatedly in presidential and congressional elections. He perceived also that Republican city machines had usually been able to win the labor vote by arousing fears that if the protective tariff were broken down and the products of cheap labor from other countries were brought in, there would be a depression.

How to make an alliance, so to speak, of the farm vote on the one hand and the labor vote on the other was one of the first problems to which Roosevelt addressed himself in his early days in the presidency. Through the Agricultural Adjustment Act and subsidies to the farm area by the government, the Democratic Party began to cut into the farm vote which had always been Republican.

Made Labor Vote Possible

Similarly, by giving to the labor unions what they had striven for generations to accomplish—a statutory recognition of the right to collective bargaining — Mr. Roosevelt made himself solid with the labor vote.

An examination of the election trends in the 1936, 1940 and 1944 campaigns showed that these influences were operative for the benefit of the Democrats. When Mr. Roosevelt was asked by those who didn't always agree with his strategy, why the Republicans made such gains in Congressional elections, his answer usually was that these were "local" affairs and the candidates did not have the benefit of a presidential nominee on the ticket to get out the vote.

It will be recalled that Mr. Truman, in his campaign speeches, again and again insisted that if the Democrats went to the polls they could win the election. The returns this year nevertheless show the total vote to be below 1944.

There was apathy on both sides, but if one side gets out a larger portion of this indifferent vote, while the other side through overconfidence or for other reasons doesn't go to the polls, The election result can be changed. In Maine in the September election for Congress this year the Republicans won by a big margin. This was cut by two-thirds this week as the Democrats brought out 100 per cent more voters than they did in September, while the Republicans hardly equalled their September vote. This is the result of a belief that the outcome was a foregone conclusion. The same thing happens in the South after a primary contest. So the Republicans accepted the polls and many thought the election was in the bag anyway and didn't vote.

Many people will ask why, then some of the observers in various parts of the country did not note these trends, and why it was that President Truman was virtually the only man who believed in the probability of an overturn in his favor.

Polls Defied Independent Judgment

The truth is that many observers did sense that the same influences were operative this year as had been apparent in other elections but the advance polls virtually defied anyone to exercise independent judgment. As long as a scientific method or what seemed to be a fairly accurate method of determining public sentiment had been devised, individuals felt frustrated if any attempt to question what the polls were showing throughout the country.

In defense of those who make the polls, however, it must be said that in poll-making a margin of error has always been mentioned. Those who have been using the scientific sampling process have heretofore predicted that sooner or later in a close election the margin of error would be such that an entire election would be missed, especially where the votes were close in pivotal states with large electoral representation.

Anyone who followed the results as they came in early Wednesday knew that a shift of a few thousand votes in several big states would have made Dewey President. Under such circumstances, polls will continue to be taken but there doubtless will be corrections made in the technique and the public generally will not accept them as gospel in close election years but will discount a probable margin of error.

Revealed Strategy At Convention

Mr. Truman is to be congratulated for having disregarded the polls and for having followed the political advice he was given from time to time during his Administration—namely, that high wages for the city voter and high farm income for the rural areas was the formula Mr. Roosevelt used so successfully to win three elections.

Mr. Truman first disclosed his adoption of that strategy on the night he accepted the nomination in Philadelphia, when he said that the farmers would be ungrateful if they didn't vote for him and the wage earners would, in effect, "be biting the hand that fed them" if they took the risk of a change in administration. His concept as to voting influences has been vindicated by the returns. The "gratitude" vote apparently outnumbered the "protest" vote, or at least, not enough of the protest or anti-Truman vote went to the polls to swing the election the other way.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

IT may turn out that the voice of the people it the voice of God. Often enough, it is just the opposite, or there would be no troubles in the world. Harry Truman may, in his second term, turn out to be a more competent, a more generous, a better President. Certainly, he will now suffer fewer restraints and the responsibility will be all his own. He will have no 80th Congress to blame; he has his own Congress.

All this is not terribly important yet. Harry Truman will have to face problems that are arising in all parts of the world to plague him. He will have to face the imminent conquest of China by Soviet Russia and if he does no better during the next three months than he has done during the past three years, we shall be in real trouble soon—very soon.

He will have to face the Berlin situation as though there had been no election. He might now send Mr. Chief Justice Vinson to see Joe Stalin in Moscow. That would be an excellent way to get rid of all the machinery of peace, including the United Nations, which he helped to set up.

So Truman will have to work for the repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, which provides for an orderly integration of labor rights and practices into the general life of the American people. He has his own Congress now and he may succeed in turning it into a "rubber stamp" Congress, as he has a "mandate." But what will he substitute for it? The ancient and wicked Wagner Act?

American labor leaders know that the Taft-Hartley Act rescued their national confederations from control by international Communism. The C. I. O., in particular, suffered from this disease and has been, in the nick of time, saved from it by that provision of the Taft-Hartley Act which requires Communists to declare themselves. What will be done about that?

Mr. Truman is pledged to price control without turning the United States into a police state. Apart from the indisputable fact that that cannot be done, what kind of price control does Mr. Truman plan to produce? We shall soon enough see, for this price question undoubtedly helped to elect him.

But the psychology of it is that those who voted for him on this issue want price controls put on every product but the one they produce. In a word, the farmer wants price controls on manufactured goods, but he wants grains and milk and butter to soar to high heaven. And he wants subsidies besides.

Also Mr. Truman is pledged to no tax reductions until the debt is considerably reduced, which is poor economics even if it has turned out to be good politics. The reason that it is poor economics is that we are drying up the reservoirs of venture capital and therefore shall not be able to repair, expand or rebuild existing enterprises and we shall not be able to create new industries except on government loans.

This means that all industry may, or rather, could, in time, be socialized by the simple process of calling in the loans. Certainly, Mr. Truman is not in favor of Socialism for the United States; but failure to reduce taxes must in time produce Socialism. How is he going to crack that chestnut?

Again, Mr. Truman has pledged himself to a vast program of government social services, all of which will cost money. Without entering into the subject of the wisdom of his program, let us consider the money part. The cost of government, in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, will finally come to the vicinity of $43,000,000,000. The largest share of this cost is to be put to the war, the after-war and the international cooperation program Mr. Truman can reduce little if this. He will probably have to increase these items considerably.

So, where is he going to get the money for his vast program without increasing taxes and yet not freezing venture capital altogether or further depreciating the American dollar which now stands at 42 cents on a 1914 basis?

He will not have 90 days to answer that question.

Baering Down On The News

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

Reader objects to me calling the White House the relatives' office building.

Well, there's many a hero of five fronts in the Pentagon building. And we have some Senators down in the old folks laughing academy who have been living on government property so long they are using the great seal for a laundry mark.

Blood is thicker than water and nepotism is always worth a fair four-year trial. In all our history as a nation we have had only one bachelor president.

And he never gave it a fair trial. The mug got married quicker than a letter carrier could whistle up a flight of steps.

Short Session In Contempt Trial Of Celanese Pickets

ROME, Ga.—(Special)—The contempt trial of more than 80 national and local leaders of the Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, in connection with the 83-day old strike at the plant of the Celanese Corporation of America plant here, recessed yesterday after 10 minutes.

Among those charged with contempt and violation of a picketing injunction are George Baldanzi, TWUA executive vice president, New York, and James A. Blackwell, Cumberland, Md., national representative.

Altogether nearly 200 have been cited for contempt.

As the trial, which started last Saturday in Superior Court before Judge H. E. Nichols, was resumed counsel for the union filed a petition asking for removal to the U.S. District Court on the grounds that Celanese is a Delaware corporation and that the rights of union members under the Norris-LaGuardia injunction act should be protected.

Attorneys for the company asked for a recess to study the law.

About 250 striking workers continue picket duty at the plant but the lines remain open. An attempt to resume work was made Tuesday and union officials say only 48 have entered the plant. Company officials say more are returning daily but the union asserts the number is declining.

The dispute idled 2,700 workers. The Textile Workers Union of America (CIO) asked for a 15 per cent wage increase and the company offered an eight per cent raise. The average pay is $1.21 an hour.

Union and company representatives met Thursday but failed to settle the dispute.

County Liquor Board Suspends Two Licenses

The Allegany County Liquor Control Board suspended the beer licenses for 10 days yesterday of two tavern operators convicted of selling intoxicating beverages to minors.

John H. Smith, operator of the Mayfair Tavern and Garland R. Hutzell, who has an establishment in Mt. Savage, were each fined $25 and costs in Circuit Court after being found guilty by a jury. The jury recommended leniency in both cases due to extenuating circumstances in both instances.

The Liquor Board said that in view of the facts in the case it would only make the suspension for ten days, but warned both men that any repeat performance would result in severe penalties being levied.

Miss Murray To Preside At Press Meeting

Miss Mary Murray, Maryland Scholastic Association director and faculty advisor for Allegany High School's Alcohi Mirror(will preside at the annual association meeting today at the University of Maryland, College Park.

Eight from Allegany and nine from the Spotlight, Bruce High School, Westernport, will be among the 250 Maryland and District of Columbia students present at he conference.

Tournaments Planned

Four of the Allegany High delegation, Jack Torbet, Edith Sweene, Marcia Hilton and Sue Cunningham, will present a panel discussion on "We Work for Peace".

Clinics and tournaments in various types of writing will be conducted during the day. In the four-member team competition Allegany will enter Mary Straw, editorials; Charles Bucy, sports; Josephine Kompanek, news, and Peggy Davis, interview.

Judges for the writing contest will be Dr. Jack Bryan, University of Maryland, news; Bryan Barker, Mercersburg Academy, Mercersburg, Pa., interviews; Lambert Greenawalt, York High School, York, Pa., editorials, and Brother Bernadine, St. John's College, Washington, sports.

The school winning the tournament will be awarded the Cumberland Times-News trophy for one year. The award must be won three times for permanent possession.

To Judge Publications

A second trophy, smaller, but an exact duplicate of the one in competition, will be given the winning team for permanent possession.

Faculty members and students at the university's School of Journalism will judge the scholastic publications in three classes—newspapers, yearbooks and magazines. Prizes will be awarded.

Judges will be Dr. John Bryant and W. H. Hottell, of the faculty, and Allen Bowers, "Diamondback" editor; Frank Masterson, "Terrapin" editor, and Art Cosing, "Old Line" editor.

At the closing session in the auditorium of the Education Building, Mrs. Oliver DeWolfe, Associated Press correspondent at Washington, the former Miss Veronica Kompanek, of this city, will speak on "The Story of the AP."

Miss Kompanek is a former editor of the Alcohi Mirror and was a reporter on The Cumberland News before joining the AP.

Miss Murray will award honors while Mr. Greenawalt will speak on "Free to Print—What?"

Other Bruce High students to attend the session tomorrow include Peggy Ann Raines, Shirley Ravenscroft, Mary Jo Nofsinger, Deretta Ann Newman and Hilda Clark. Miss Margaret Thomas, advisor, and Mrs. Margaret Thomas will accompany them.

The proceedings will wind up with a dance Saturday night sponsored by the university's student publications.

Potomac Edison Names Startzman Engineer

The new assistant engineer of the Potomac Edison Company will be Henry H. Startzman, Hagerstown, according to an announcement from company headquarters in Hagerstown. He joined the company in 1928 as manager of the Merchandise Department in Cumberland.

Startzman later was transferred to the industrial engineering department in Hagerstown and next was made manager of the power sales and engineering department.

He is a graduate of the Baltimore Poly, holds a B. S. in engineering from the Johns Hopkins Engineering School, and took advanced studies at the Engineering and Design School of the Westinghouse Corporation, East Pittsburgh.

The position of manager of the power sales and engineering department will be filled by L. V. Milton, formerly industrial representative of the power sales department.

Milton is a graduate of the University of North Carolina. Prior to joining PE in 1934, he was employed by the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. In 1934 he was appointed PE's industrial power sales engineer in Hagerstown, and in 1936, was transferred to Martinsburg in the same capacity.

Puerto Rico's natives became U. S. citizens in 1917.

Yule Benefit Dance, Toy Drive To Be Sponsored

Junior Civic Club Plan Two Projects

Plans for a benefit dance and sponsoring a city wide toy drive were formulated at the meeting of the Junior Woman's Civic Club, Wednesday night at "Design House" Frostburg, with Miss Ann Griffith presiding.

The dance will be a Christmas benefit affair for the support of the cancer clinic, and is to be held at the Cumberland Country Club, December 23.

Mrs. Carl Wagner, Welfare chairman, is in charge of the toy drive which will begin December 1. In conjunction with this project each member is asked to bring a toy to the next meeting. The club also voted to ask all other organizations in the city and individuals interested to contribute toys for the drive which will be given to the Salvation Army for distribution.

The club also voted to accept an amendment to the constitution changing the age limit to include members from 18 through 34. New members introduced were Miss Nancy Dodge, Miss Jane Wolfe, Mrs. Mary Manley, Miss Virginia Harmison, Miss Ann McMullen, Mrs. Wilton Syckes, Mrs. Winfield Adams, Mrs. Doris Kessler, Mrs. Jean Nichols, Miss Dorothy Doolittle, Miss Margaret Reed, Mrs. Edward Martin, and Mrs. John Kirkpatrick.

Fenton Davis, interior decorator and operator of Design House, addressed the group and told how he first started as an interior decorator. He warned his audience of the things to watch in decorating their homes and discussed the proper usage of various types of furniture, drapes and all interior decorations, and of mixing woods. He illustrated his talk by showing models and art objects. A question period followed, after which refreshments were served.

The American Home committee was in charge of the meeting with Mrs. Paul Stair chairman, assisted by Mrs. Robert Pence, Mrs. Maurice Milburg, Mrs. James Reinhart, Mrs. Adams and Miss Dorothy Campbell. Thirty-two members attended Mrs. John A. Dyer was a guest.

The Music committee with Miss Joyce Bestwick, chairman, will be in charge of the December meeting, which will be held at the Girl Scout headquarters.

Big Crowd Attends Homemakers' First "Food School"

The first "Food School" to be held in the county by the Homemakers Clubs was conducted yesterday at the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company auditorium and was considered highly successful with more than 70 women attending.

It centered around menues for buffet suppers and was conducted by Mrs. James R. Smith, county Nutrition chairman, with various club Nutrition chairmen or their representatives preparing the food and giving the demonstrations.

Mrs. Elmer Seward and Mrs. Vincent Lindner demonstrated a vegetable ring; Mrs. Russell O. Smith, orange-sweet potatoes, which were the potato mashed with orange juice and baked in the orange shell; Mrs. Harry Wilson and Mrs. Adolph Norris, finger salads and garnishes; Mrs. Wilbur Hansrode and Mrs. Richard VanHorn, fancy sandwiches; Mrs. Herbert Logsdon and Mrs. E. C. Henry, chiffon cake; and Mrs. George Kraft, spiced peach pickle sauce and fruit salad sauce, which could be served on cake and tomato and herb sauce for a salad.

Following the demonstrations Miss Margaret McPheeters, nutrition specialist of the University of Maryland, demonstrated the proper setting of linen, silver and flowers for a buffet table.

The food demonstrated was served at noon and in the afternoon session Miss Maude A. Bean spoke on the basic seven vitamins stressing the fact they should be used more in meal planning. Miss McPheeters spoke of meal planning and brought out that planned meals should meet both the body needs and also be based on eye appeal and appetite appeal.

She demonstrated her point using five platters and showed how the same food could have nutrition value and yet fail in eye appeal. She arranged a platter of boiled potatoes, mashed turnips, corn, cottage cheese and bananas would have no eye appeal as it would be all white. In contrast she arranged a platter of a meat, carrots and peas, boiled potato, a salad of tomato and carrot curls, and finished with fruit, making a meal of the same nutrition value but of colorful eye appeal.

A general discussion period followed.

Is Jumbo Peanut Butter Really as Good as We Say?
Here's a Fair Way to Decide:
Make the Easy "TWIN CRACKER" Test
1. Serve each member of your family two crackers, one spread with Jumbo, one with your present peanut butter brand. Be sure you remember which one is spread with Jumbo.
2. Unless everyone prefers Jumbo Peanut Butter, your grocer will refund your money upon return of the partly empty jar.
Honestly—could we make this offer unless we knew there was no finer peanut butter on the market?
Taste the delightful difference when peanut butter contains only the meat of the nut—no bitter parts or shreds of brown skins. Enjoy the special blend of choice Spanish and Virginia peanuts, slow-roasted; see and taste the delectable buttery texture of Jumbo Peanut Butter, homogenized to retard oil separation. You've discovered peanut butter at its best!
Premiums youngsters will enjoy! See the label!

Here's a Fair Way to Decide: Make the Easy "TWIN CRACKER" Test
1. Serve each member of your family two crackers, one spread with Jumbo, one with your present peanut butter brand. Be sure you remember which one is spread with Jumbo.
2. Unless everyone prefers Jumbo Peanut Butter, your grocer will refund your money upon return of the partly empty jar.
Honestly—could we make this offer unless we knew there was no finer peanut butter on the market?
Taste the delightful difference when peanut butter contains only the meat of the nut—no bitter parts or shreds of brown skins. Enjoy the special blend of choice Spanish and Virginia peanuts, slow-roasted; see and taste the delectable buttery texture of Jumbo Peanut Butter, homogenized to retard oil separation. You've discovered peanut butter at its best!

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Spotting the LaSalle High gridders a touchdown in the early moments of play the Allegany High Campers rallied behind the brilliant running of Earl "Lefty" Bruce who scored three six-pointers and trounced the Explorers 36-6 last night at Fort Hill stadium. Two other Allegany scores were called back because of infractions of the rules.

Approximately 5,500 fans saw the inspired LaSalle eleven stop the Alco team cold after the opening kickoff and then punch over a touchdown in just four plays before the bewildered Campers could marshall their defenses.

Allegany took the opening kickoff but two running plays were stopped for no gain and then Mickey Clark, Explorer quarterback, intercepted Johnny Vernall's long aerial intended for Wes Abrams on the LaSalle 24.

Clark Scores Early

After a five-yard offside penalty against LaSalle placed the ball on the Explorer 19 Clark faded back and hit Bill Hudson with a short pass over the center of the line and the speedy LaSalle halfback took off downfield behind beautiful blocking to race 64 yards to the Allegany 16 before he was hauled down from behind by Bruce and Abrams.

Hudson then picked up five yards through the center of the Allegany line after LaSalle had again been penalized five yards for being offsides. The penalty had nullified a Hudson run from the 16 to the Alco four.

Clark faded back as if to pass but picked his way around left end and romped 16 yards into the end zone for the first score of the game. It marked the initial time this season that Allegany trailed in a contest.

Bouncing back with a vengeance Coach Bob Pence's unbeaten and untied eleven then took the resulting kickoff on the LaSalle 49 as Abrams returned the kick from his own 19 to the Explorer 49. Abrams almost broke into the clear but was brought down by the LaSalle's Dick Leo.

Bruce and Abrams then hammered the Explorer line into submission with short driving plunges and end runs to pick up two first downs, the second coming on Bruce's 17-yard romp around left end to the LaSalle 12. Abrams hit the line twice the second time going the final nine yards for the tying six-pointer. Bob Schramm's placement put Allegany ahead 7-6 at the end of the quarter.

Bruce Scores Again

Bruce put the Campers on the long end of a 14-6 count with a sparkling runback of a LaSalle punt in the early minutes of the second period, taking the ball on the LaSalle 44 and racing down the west sidelines behind nice blocking by Abrams and Tom Oglebay for the score. Schramm's kick was good.

With their running attack bottled up by the hard-charging Alco line LaSalle took to the air but Clark's pass was intercepted by Oglebay on the Explorer 41 and ran on to the 34.

Allegany then went 23 yards to the LaSalle 11, the drive sparked by a Vernall to Bruce pass good for 12 yards. LaSalle stopped the march at this point taking the ball over on downs — the first of five times that Allegany was stopped deep in LaSalle territory by a determined Explorer defense.

Another brilliant 25-yard punt return by Bruce set up the third Alco score late in the quarter putting the oval on the Explorer 20. After Abrams picked up one yard through the center Bruce broke off around left end and raced the remainder of the way for the score. Allegany led 20-6 at halftime.

Get Two Safeties

An unprecedented occurrance in local football games gave the Campers two safeties in the second half when Mickey Clark was twice caught behind the double stripe attempting to pass after LaSalle had held the Alcomen on the LaSalle one.

A 31-yard overhead heave from Vernall to Gordon Swan gave Allegany a first on the LaSalle 32 early in the third stanza. Bruce then got away again for 32 yards and his third touchdown taking two men over with him.

Allegany's final score came on a 53-yard drive by the Camper second and third stringers. Ronnie Sisk, freshman quarterback, passed nine yards to Jack Barbam in the end zone for the touchdown.

Bruce, in racking up three scores, broke a touchdown record by city scorers held by Don "Bubbles" Whiteman of Fort Hill. The three scores gave "Lefty" a total on 19 six-pointers for the season, edging the former mark of 18.

Bob Herstine and Dick Leo of LaSalle were outstanding as were Vernall, Swan, Abrams, Bruce, Buehl and Oglebay for the Campers. The lineups:

BOONE IS INJURED, PITTSBURGH BOXER TO FIGHT STARKEY

Omar Dart, 158-pounder of the Liberty Athletic Club, Pittsburgh, has been substituted for Homer Boone, of Lewistown, Pa., as Randall "Skeets" Starkey's opponent in the feature five-round bout of St. Mary's Athletic Club amateur boxing show Monday night at the State Armory, Matchmaker Albert "Bobby" Green announced last night.

Boone was unable to meet Starkey here for the third time because he suffered an injury in a hunting accident, Ed Knepp, Lewsitown heavyweight, advised Green last night.

Green says he has been informed by the LAC that Dart has won 23 matches and lost 6. Starkey has won 24 of 34 bouts.

Bob Baker, heavy; Bob Peterson, lightweight; Homer Dance, welterweight, and Albie Harp, bantam, all of the Liberty AC will fight Knepp, Jimmie Brown, Bill Lafferty and Earl Smith.

Terrors Bag 4th M-D Conference Win Over Mounts

Fumbles Play Big Part In 20-14 Grid Battle

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 5 (AP)—Western Maryland overcame a 7-0 first quarter deficit here tonight and rolled on to a 20-14 football victory over scrappy Mt. St. Mary's.

The victory was the fourth without a loss in the Mason Dixon Conference for the Green Terrors and placed them well ahead of the pack in the loop standings.

Two costly fumbles by the Mounts played an important role in their first conference defeat of the season. Both came within their own 25-yard line. The first enabled Western Maryland to break a 7-7 first quarter deadlock and the second made it possible for the Terrors to score in the final period and put the game on ice.

For the Mounts it was their first conference loss in three games. Despite their crafty, high-scoring halfback, Walter Bellardinelli, they never could mass a defense against the solid running game of the heavier Western Marylanders.

Bellardinelli added another touchdown to his string, giving him 60 points in five games to top all state scorers. He also passed 34 yards to set up the other mount score and amassed 123 yards in 23 carries to pace the contest's ball carriers.

Western Maryland went ahead midway in the first quarter, marching 65 yards to its first touchdown, tallying another after recovering a mount fumble on the 20 and never relinquished the lead.

Both teams added touchdowns in the final period, the Mounts on a two-yard end run by Bellardinelli and Western Maryland on Joe Gianelli's 17-yard scamper.

Hank Corrado, big Terror fullback scored the first touchdown for the victors and added two conversions to lead the scoring.

Change In Bonus Rule Approved By Majors

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5 (AP) — The executive council of the major baseball league today approved a change in the rules to permit the option of first year bonus players if waivers are obtained. They cannot be optioned now.

The council will recommend the change to the annual meeting of the major and minor league clubs in Chicago Dec. 15.

The plan advocated by the council would permit waivers to be asked twice for such athletes and withdrawn twice in the first year. Waivers could be asked only once before a bonus player's option in his second season, however.

The 1948 drafting of ball players will take place in Cincinnati next Wednesday.

Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks went on their biggest scoring spree of the season yesterday to smother Berkeley Springs High School on the Ridgeley field by the score of 60 to 6.

Coach Jesse Riggleman's eleven, playing its final game at home, racked up nine touchdowns and six extra points in routing the Morgan countians. Roy Comer and Bob Starkey registered two touchdowns each, while Paul Lindsay, Leo Day, Don Murray, Oscar Carter and Chris Lockard each reached the payoff stripe once.

The victory was the tenth straight at home for the Hawks over a span of three seasons.

Lindsay passed from the 30 to Comer on the 20 for the Mineral Countians' initial score. Leo Day set the stage for the second six-pointer when he blocked a punt and Bill Brinkman recovered on the Berkeley 26. On the first play Lindsay sprinted the remaining yardage for the touchdown.

A 20-yards dash by Comer took the ball to the one from where Day plunged over for the third six-pointer in the second period.

The Hawks collected 40 points in the second half, getting 20 in each period. On the second play of the third quarter Comer galloped off tackle for 46 yards, Don Murray scored from 11 yards out and Starkey smashed over from the one-yard mark. In the final stanza Bob Starkey lugged the leather over from the 10, Oscar Carter raced 58 yards to pay dirt and Lockard intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards for the final score.

Day scored two extra points on plunges, Dick Dorsey went over on an end run, Carter and Rizer converted on plunges and Bill Phillips counted on a quarterback sneak.

Berkeley Springs' touchdown came in the third period. Johnson faded back to pass and with no receivers available he raced 39 yards to the one yard mark. On the next play he bucked over the goal line.

Ridgeley rolled up 344 net yards rushing and passing. The visitors gathered 64 yards on the ground and 36 in the air. The lineups:

Penn, Penn State Game Is Toss-Up

Georgia Tech, Army Rated As Favorites

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—(INS)—The titanic clash at Philadelphia between Penn and Penn State, both unbeaten, is the standout game on tomorrow's college football card.

The result is considered a toss-up. Penn will have a slight advantage because it will be playing at home, but on the other hand may be pointing more for next week's game with Army than for the Nittany Lions.

The tradition-coated classic between Princeton and Harvard for big three honors also looks like a close affair, with Princeton given a slight edge.

Georgia Tech, one of the big leaders on the national scene, has been installed a 12-point choice over tough Tennessee, but may have a difficult time living up to that rating.

Here's the outlook on other important games;

Michigan is rated 28 points over Navy, Notre Dame 27 over Indiana, Army 20 over Stanford, California 26 over USLA, North Carolina 25 over William and Mary, Texas eight over Baylor, Oregon 7½ over Washington, Missouri six over Oklahoma.

Northwestern is a 13-point favorite over Wisconsin, Illinois 10 over Iowa, Arkansas 6½ over Rice, Cornell 19 over Colgate, Dartmouth 7 over Columbia, Duke 1½ over Wake Forest, Georgia 26 over Florida, Kentucky 6½ over Villanova.

Minnesota is rated 14 points better than Purdue, Ohio State 13½ over Pittsburgh, SMU 26 over Texas A&M, Vanderbilt 20 over LSU, and Washington State three over Oregon State.

Champ Gets Bout

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (INS) — Sandy Saddler, new featherweight champion of the world, signed with the 20th Century Sporting Club today for a 10-round bout with Terry Young at Madison Square Garden Dec. 17.

Young, a lightweight, agreed to make 135 pounds for the bout. Both fighters are New Yorkers.

Walter Mulbry Says No When Yutzy Connected

Writers Honor Johnson Maybe He's Shine's Boy

By C. V. BURNS

A suggestion made by G. Kear Hosken, Frostburg sportsman, that the members of Baseball Hall of Fame be given box seats at World Series games each year, is a meritorious one, according to a letter we have at hand from Walter W. Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, but he adds that it is impossible due to the fact that the list of free seats for the series each year is limited to the active working press.

Mr. Mulbry, who handles such correspondence addressed to Baseball Commissioner Albert B. "Happy" Chandler at Cincinnati, states that the commissioner and all club officials pay for their own seats.

"I am, however, glad to have your views and appreciate your writing me," concludes the secretary-treasurer.

• — • — •

Mr. Mulbry apparently has something there because at the recent World Series in Cleveland approximately 850 members of the Fourth Estate received complimentary tickets. And Bill Veeck saw to it that the newsmen were royally entertained during their three days' visit.

• — • — •

Many baseball fans are under the impression that that baseball commissioner's job is a permanent one but it's not. Chandler, former State Senator, Lieut. Governor and Governor of Kentucky who later served six years in the United States Senate, was elected April 24, 1945 for a seven-year period at an annual salary of $50,000. His term expires in 1952.

There are quite a number of newspapermen who believed that George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, has a good chance of becoming the next commissioner.

• — • — •

Pershing Rohrer, former Cumberland sports scribe, who is now pounding a mill for the Athens (Ohio) Messenger, tells us that reporters who cover college football games at Cincinnati should back up to the pay window.

He went there recently to "cover" the Ohio U.-Cincinnati game and he was instructed to sit down — everything was in hand.

At the close of each quarter a mimeographed play-by-play account is handed each member in the press box. Lineups, substitutes and game statistics are rushed to the reporters within two or three minutes after the game.

So life isn't so tedious (apologies to Carson Robinson) after all, according to Rohrer.

Efforts to place an All-American Professional Basketball League franchise in Johnstown, Pa., have failed but the Floodless City hopes to have the Pittsburgh team transfer some of its league contests there.

"Vic" Ricker, local tonsorial artist and matchmaker for professional boxing shows, was in a story telling mood the other day and revived an incident which occurred while Henry (K.O.) Yutzy was training for a fight back in the local welterweight's heyday.

According to "Vic," Kayo was training with a local boy he knew he could whip but he refrained from using his Sunday punch in the workouts because sparring partners were scare.

But this fellow seemed to be bent on trying to belt out Kayo and the latter exasperated by his rough sparmate vowed to Ricker that if this kept up he was going to flatten him like a rug.

"Vic" relates that there was a lot of excitement at training quarters the next day. Yutzy hit his sparmate so hard that the later became wedged back of a radiator pipe and the dazed lad was extricated by friends. The blow put the heating system out of whack and the pipefitters had to go to work.

Remember, this is Ricker's story.

Allegany High School's next gridiron foe — Johnstown Catholic High School — is scheduled to play St. Mary's High in Akron, Ohio, on Sunday.

It will be the 9th game of the season for the Johnnies. They've won three, including a 19-0 decision over LaSalle, and lost five games to date.

• — • — •

Some of our poorly conditioned amateur boxers start fading in the second round but that's not so with Frankie Taranto, the Roxbury, Pa., lad who has appeared in several shows here.

Frankie won three fights within 24 hours, boxing two opponents in one show at Huntingdon after appearing in a show at Johnstown the previous night.

• — • — •

• — • — •

"Remember Shine Cortazzo who used to play short for the Colts?" Sellers writes. "This is probably one of his offspring as I am sure Shine is too old for high school football. However, that's his home town.

"The name brings back fond memories when Cumberland was in the Mid-Atlantic League."

Cortazzo was a sweet ballplayer and an infield combination like Johnny Byrnes, Dave Black, Cortazzo and Joe Conti comes along once in a lifetime. In 1927 when the Colts won their first pennant this quartet led all players at their respective positions in fielding. And the following year Byrnes, Black and Cortazzo repeated.

ACCIDENT HIGH TOPS BARTON IN CLASS "D" SOCCER TOURNEY, 3-1

Accident High School's well coached soccer team, champions of Garrett county, hurdled its first obstacle in the Maryland tournament for Class "D" schools by trimming Barton High Schoo lof Allegany yesterday at State Teachers' College Field, Frostburg, by the score of 3-1.

GARRETT, ALLEGANY STREAMS GET 8,000 BASS FINGERLINGS

Eight thousand small mouth bass fingerlings were planted in three Garrett and Allegany county streams yesterday, Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, announced last night.

Five thousand were distributed in Deep Creek Lake, Garrett county; 2,000 in Town Creek, Allegany county, and 1,000 in Evitts Creek, below Route 40, Allegany county, Minke said.

Ernest A. Vaughn Says:

Conservation Groups Must Apply For Rabbit Allocations By Dec. 1

Orders Must Be Filed With State Commission

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, has been asked by Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, to notify all bonafide conservation clubs in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties that applications for allocations of rabbits to said clubs must reach the Baltimore office on or before December 1, 1948.

The correct name of the club, name of person to receive the shipment and the express and postoffice address must be given.

Vaughn states that all orders will be placed with B. F. Tarman shortly thereafter for the total number of rabbits provided for in the state's restocking program. He adds that the state will not be responsible for any portion of orders placed directly by individuals or clubs as has been the policy in past years, due to the fact that last year's obligations far exceeded the amount of funds set up in the budget for the purchase of game.

Orders, not to exceed six dozen rabbits per club will be shipped directly to the club for distribution, and the club will be notified by the shipper when to expect arrival. Allocations made to clubs will become part of the total overall allocation of the county in which the club is located.

A comprehensive distribution program has been developed for the release of rabbits in all counties of the state by weighing the food and cover conditions against the license income and local hunting pressure.

The commission director further states that the distribution of a portion of each county allocation to conservation clubs will in no way change the past policy set up for release of rabbits by salaried wardens. However, each club receiving an allocation must submit a report to the state office (510-514 Munsey Building, Baltimore) immediately after completion, giving number of live rabbits received, and locations of release.

Romney Notches Seventh Triumph Over Petersburg

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 5.—Romney High School's Pioneers marched 67 and 50 yards for touchdowns in the first and second periods today and defeated the scrappy Petersburg High School Vikings in a Potomac Valley Conference game by the score of 14 to 6.

The triumph was the seventh in eight starts for Coach Dick McElwee's Hampshire Countians and their third win against a single loss in the P.V.C. race.

Romney reeled off 24 first downs and piled up a total of 358 net yards via the air and overland.

Petersburg was directed by Clem Clower in the absence of Coach Walt Owens whose twin brother's body has arrived from overseas for reburial at Clarksburg, W. Va. The latter was killed during the war.

Fullback Sid Roach accounted for both of Romney's touchdowns. In the first period a series of line plays advanced the ball 65 yards to the two from where Roach scampered over on an off tackle thrust. Payne plunged the point. The Pioneers drove from midfield for their second score with Roach going over from the two. Bill Sirk's pass to Roach for the point was good.

Jim Bailey recovered a Romney fumble on the visitors' 45 to start Petersburg's offensive rolling in the second period. Two line plays carried to the 40 from where Joe Crites cut back from off tackle and sprinted over the goal line. Gus Smith's plunge for the point failed.

The second half was a see-saw affair during which Romney's offensive bogged down thrice after advancing to the Vikings' 20. Lineups:

Toney Penna Cops North-South Title

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 5 (AP)—Toney Penna, smiling, happy-go-lucky little Cincinnati professional came from nowhere to win the $1,500 top prize money in the 46th North and South Open Golf Tournament today.

Overlooked while the big-guns of golf tried to tear the long No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club apart, Toney played steady and improving golf to card a 72-hole total of 285, three strokes under par for the distance.

Slamming Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the favorite of the galleries, and Julius Boros, husky Bridgeport, Conn., amateur, tied for second place at 287 after each had blown a chance to take the undisputed lead. The leaders at the halfway point, Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., finished in a three-way tie for the next spot with amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo.

It wasn't until the last threesome, finished in a day marked by a couple of sensational rounds and several equally surprising slips, that the winner was decided.

George Ruppert Dies

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (INS) — George Ruppert, president and chairman of the board of the Ruppert Brewing Co., and a noted sportsman, died tonight in New York. He was 73.

Ruppert was associated with the New York Yankees for thirty years from 1915 when his brother, Jacob Ruppert, purchased the club, until it was sold in 1945 to Larry MacPhail, Del Webb and Dan Topping.

TWO HORSEMEN GIVEN LIFE SUSPENSIONS IN CANADA 'RINGER' CASE

MONTREAL, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Quebec Racing Association announced today the suspension for life of Robert A. Edwards of Smithfield, Va., and Earl L. Ferris, Jr., of Danbury, Conn., in connection with the "Ringer Case" at Blue Bonnets Race Track, Montreal, last Aug. 28.

The life-suspensions grew out of disclosure by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau in New York two weeks ago that it had "photographic proof" the horse Don't Delay ran under the name of Lid at Blue Bonnets.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 5—Roosevelt-Wilson High School turned back a hard-fighting eleven from Keyser High School here tonight after the visitors from Mineral county had scored the first touchdown of the game. The final score was 27 to 6.

Keyser marked up its only score early in the opening period when Carroll Nelson skirted end for final 14 yards. Nelson put Keyser in a good position before scoring when he returned a Clarksburg punt 33 yards to the R-W 27 and then passed to Halfback Tom Kimble for a gain of 13 yards.

Late in the first quarter R-W took the ball on its own 20 and after Ayoob and Seti moved it to the 5 the latter went over from there. Signorelli drop-kicked the extra point to give the home team a 7-6 edge.

Starting on their own 30 the Prexies drove to another touchdown in the second period. The march was highlighted by Minard's off tackle run for 42 yards and was climaxed by Minard's pass to Fred Krivosky. Signorelli drop kicked the point to make the count 14-6 at the halfway mark.

Taking the ball on downs in the Keyser 48 R-W battled its way to the 5 and from there Seti scampered for the score. Ayoob's end run netted the extra point.

After taking a punt on its own ten, Clarksburg went 90 yards for its final six-pointer. With Seti and Minard alternating the locals advanced to Keyser 18 and then Seti raced off tackle for the remaining distance. Signorelli's drop kick for the point was wide.

Keyser advanced deep into R-W territory but on both occasions lost the ball on downs. The Golden Tornado reached the 17 in the second period and the 10 in the third quarter. Bernard Elbon made a touchdown bid but was tackled on the one-yard line as the game ended.

Keyser lost the services of Tom Conroy, regular fullback, when he suffered a shoulder separation midway in the second quarter.

Harrison, Fred Krivosky, Ayoob and Seti played best for the winners while Neil Wensell, Nelson, Elbon and Conroy were outstanding for Keyser. Lineups:

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 5—Fort Hill High School of Cumberland extended its two-year winning streak to 18 games tonight by rolling over the Maroon and Gray of Hagerstown High School at the Municipal Stadium by the score of 35 to 6 before 3,000 persons, a large percentage of whom were from the Queen City.

The Sentinels in notching their ninth straight triumph of 1948 scored at least once in every period. Larry McKenzie accounted for two touchdowns while Edgar Tucker, Marvin Luttrell and John Alderton garnered one each.

Burke Hangs Up Record

Glenn Burke, place-kicking specialist, set a new record for Cumberland scholastic players to shoot at when he boosted his point-after-touchdown total to 34 for the season by converting five times tonight. The previous mark of 32 points was established last year by Jimmie Mangus, also of Fort Hill.

Coach Bill Hahn's warriors crashed the scoring column three minutes after the opening kickoff when Larry McKenzie galloped over from the 35 yard mark. Fort Hill drove from its own 32 to the Hubs' 35 after the opening kickoff to set the stage of McKenzie's romp.

In the second quarter it was McKenzie again on a smash from the 4-yard line and before the period was concluded the Hilltoppers marched fro mtheir own 42 to the one-yard line, lost five yards on a penalty, then Ronnie Cage passed to Alderton who reached paydirt. Burke's third straight point-after-touchdown made the score 21-0 at half time.

With four minutes gone in the third quarter Fort Hill recovered Rudisill's fumble on the Hagerstown 28. McKenzie, Luttrell and Tucker lugged the pigskin to the 2 from where the latter scampered across.

Hagerstown Makes Score

Taking the following kickoff Hagerstown drove from its own 27 to the Fort Hill 16 as the quarter ended. In the final stanza Eddie Semler, Jr., son of the Hagerstown coach, toted the ball to the 10, "Bud" Byers went to the 2 and Bruce Rudisill, 200-pound fullback scored. Byers' kick for the point was blocked.

With eight minutes remaining in the last quarter Fort Hill marked up its fifth and final touchdown. With Tucker and McKenzie spearheading the attack the Sentinels advanced from their own 43 to the home team's 6 with Luttrell circling left end for the necessary yardage for six points more.

It was Fort Hill's final game before its annual Thanksgiving Day contest with Allegany in Cumberland. Lineups:

FRENCH HORSE GOES MAD, KILLS HIMSELF ON AIR TRIP TO U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Djelal, a high strung French stallion went mad with fright on the first leg of an air trip to the United States today and killed himself in frantic efforts to kick his way out of the plane.

The four year old horse, winner of races in both France and England, was sold recently to an American syndiacte of breeders for $225,000.

Seventeen dogs, all barking frantically, were cooped in the plane with the frenzied Djelal and were still yapping when the pilot took off again after making an emergency stop to get rid of the body.

Officials at Bovingdon Airport said "from the pilot's account it is a wonder the horse did not kick itself out into the air."

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Spotting the LaSalle High gridders a touchdown in the early moments of play the Allegany High Campers rallied behind the brilliant running of Earl "Lefty" Bruce who scored three six-pointers and trounced the Explorers 36-6 last night at Fort Hill stadium. Two other Allegany scores were called back because of infractions of the rules.

Approximately 5,500 fans saw the inspired LaSalle eleven stop the Alco team cold after the opening kickoff and then punch over a touchdown in just four plays before the bewildered Campers could marshall their defenses.

Allegany took the opening kickoff but two running plays were stopped for no gain and then Mickey Clark, Explorer quarterback, intercepted Johnny Vernall's long aerial intended for Wes Abrams on the LaSalle 24.

Clark Scores Early

After a five-yard offside penalty against LaSalle placed the ball on the Explorer 19 Clark faded back and hit Bill Hudson with a short pass over the center of the line and the speedy LaSalle halfback took off downfield behind beautiful blocking to race 64 yards to the Allegany 16 before he was hauled down from behind by Bruce and Abrams.

Hudson then picked up five yards through the center of the Allegany line after LaSalle had again been penalized five yards for being offsides. The penalty had nullified a Hudson run from the 16 to the Alco four.

Clark faded back as if to pass but picked his way around left end and romped 16 yards into the end zone for the first score of the game. It marked the initial time this season that Allegany trailed in a contest.

Bouncing back with a vengeance Coach Bob Pence's unbeaten and untied eleven then took the resulting kickoff on the LaSalle 49 as Abrams returned the kick from his own 19 to the Explorer 49. Abrams almost broke into the clear but was brought down by the LaSalle's Dick Leo.

Bruce and Abrams then hammered the Explorer line into submission with short driving plunges and end runs to pick up two first downs, the second coming on Bruce's 17-yard romp around left end to the LaSalle 12. Abrams hit the line twice the second time going the final nine yards for the tying six-pointer. Bob Schramm's placement put Allegany ahead 7-6 at the end of the quarter.

Bruce Scores Again

Bruce put the Campers on the long end of a 14-6 count with a sparkling runback of a LaSalle punt in the early minutes of the second period, taking the ball on the LaSalle 44 and racing down the west sidelines behind nice blocking by Abrams and Tom Oglebay for the score. Schramm's kick was good.

With their running attack bottled up by the hard-charging Alco line LaSalle took to the air but Clark's pass was intercepted by Oglebay on the Explorer 41 and ran to the 34.

Allegany then went 23 yards to the LaSalle 11, the drive sparked by a Vernall to Bruce pass good for 12 yards. LaSalle stopped the march at this point taking the ball over on downs — the first of five times that Allegany was stopped deep in LaSalle territory by a determined Explorer defense.

Another brilliant 25-yard punt return by Bruce set up the third Alco score late in the quarter putting the oval on the Explorer 20. After Abrams picked up one yard through the center Bruce broke off around left end and raced the remainder of the way for the score. Allegany led 20-6 at halftime.

Get Two Safeties

An unprecedented occurrance in local football games gave the Campers two safeties in the second half when Mickey Clark was twice caught behind the double stripe attempting to pass after LaSalle had held the Alcomen on the LaSalle one.

A 31-yard overhead heave from Vernall to Gordon Swan gave Allegany a first on the LaSalle 32 early in the third stanza. Bruce then got away again for 32 yards and his third touchdown taking two men over with him.

Allegany's final score came on a 53-yard drive by the Camper second and third stringers. Ronnie Sisk, freshman quarterback, passed nine yards to Jack Barham in the end zone for the touchdown.

Bruce, in racking up three scores, broke a touchdown record by city scorers held by Don "Bubbles" Whiteman of Fort Hill. The three scores gave "Lefty" a total on 19 six-pointers for the season, edging the former mark of 18.

Bob Herstine and Dick Leo of LaSalle were outstanding as were Vernall, Swan, Abrams, Bruce, Buehl and Oglebay for the Campers. The lineups:

BOONE IS INJURED, PITTSBURGH BOXER TO FIGHT STARKEY

Omar Dart, 158-pounder of the Liberty Athletic Club, Pittsburgh, has been substituted for Homer Boone, of Lewistown, Pa., as Randall "Skeets" Starkey's opponent in the feature five-round bout of St. Mary's Athletic Club amateur boxing show Monday night at the State Armory, Matchmaker Albert "Bobby" Green announced last night.

Boone was unable to meet Starkey here for the third time because he suffered an injury in a hunting accident, Ed Knepp, Lewsitown heavyweight, advised Green last night.

Green says he has been informed by the LAC that Dart has won 23 matches and lost 6. Starkey has won 24 of 34 bouts.

Bob Baker, heavy; Bob Peterson, lightweight; Homer Dance, welterweight, and Albie Harp, bantam, all of the Liberty AC will fight Knepp, Jimmie Brown, Bill Lafferty and Earl Smith.

Terrors Bag 4th M-D Conference Win Over Mounts

Fumbles Play Big Part In 20-14 Grid Battle

FREDERICK, Md., Nov. 5 (AP)—Western Maryland overcame a 7-0 first quarter deficit here tonight and rolled on to a 20-14 football victory over scrappy Mt. St. Mary's.

The victory was the fourth without a loss in the Mason Dixon Conference for the Green Terrors and placed them well ahead of the pack in the loop standings.

Two costly fumbles by the Mounts played an important role in their first conference defeat of the season. Both came within their own 25-yard line. The first enabled Western Maryland to break a 7-7 first quarter deadlock and the second made it possible for the Terrors to score in the final period and put the game on ice.

For the Mounts it was their first conference loss in three games. Despite their crafty, high-scoring halfback, Walter Bellardinelli, they never could mass a defense against the solid running game of the heavier Western Marylanders.

Bellardinelli added another touchdown to his string, giving him 60 points in five games to top all state scorers. He also passed 34 yards to set up the other mount score and amassed 123 yards in 23 carries to pace the contest's ball carriers.

Western Maryland went ahead midway in the first quarter, marching 65 yards to its first touchdown, tallying another after recovering a mount fumble on the 20 and never relinquished the lead.

Both teams added touchdowns in the final period, the Mounts on a two-yard end run by Bellardinelli and Western Maryland on Joe Gianelli's 17-yard scamper.

Hank Corrado, big Terror fullback scored the first touchdown for the victors and added two conversions to lead the scoring.

Change In Bonus Rule Approved By Majors

CINCINNATI, Nov. 5 (AP) — The executive council of the major baseball league today approved a change in the rules to permit the option of first year bonus players if waivers are obtained. They cannot be optioned now.

The council will recommend the change to the annual meeting of the major and minor league clubs in Chicago Dec. 15.

The plan advocated by the council would permit waivers to be asked twice for such athletes and withdrawn twice in the first year. Waivers could be asked only once before a bonus player's option in his second season, however.

The 1948 drafting of ball players will take place in Cincinnati next Wednesday.

Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks went on their biggest scoring spree of the season yesterday to smother Berkeley Springs High School on the Ridgeley field by the score of 60 to 6.

Coach Jesse Riggleman's eleven, playing its final game at home, racked up nine touchdowns and six extra points in routing the Morgan countians. Roy Comer and Bob Starkey registered two touchdowns each, while Paul Lindsay, Leo Day, Don Murray, Oscar Carter and Chris Lockard each reached the payoff stripe once.

The victory was the tenth straight at home for the Hawks over a span of three seasons.

Lindsay passed from the 30 to Comer on the 20 for the Mineral Countians' initial score. Leo Day set the stage for the second six-pointer when he blocked a punt and Bill Brinkman recovered on the Berkeley 26. On the first play Lindsay sprinted the remaining yardage for the touchdown.

A 20-yards dash by Comer took the ball to the one from where Day plunged over for the third six-pointer in the second period.

The Hawks collected 40 points in the second half, getting 20 in each period. On the second play of the third quarter Comer galloped off tackle for 46 yards, Don Murray scored from 11 yards out and Starkey smashed over from the one-yard mark. In the final stanza Bob Starkey lugged the leather over from the 10, Oscar Carter raced 58 yards to pay dirt and Lockard intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards for the final score.

Day scored two extra points on plunges, Dick Dorsey went over on an end run, Carter and Rizer converted on plunges and Bill Phillips counted on a quarterback sneak.

Berkeley Springs' touchdown came in the third period. Johnson faded back to pass and with no receivers available he raced 39 yards to the one yard mark. On the next play he bucked over the goal line.

Ridgeley rolled up 344 net yards rushing and passing. The visitors gathered 64 yards on the ground and 36 in the air. The lineups:

Penn, Penn State Game Is Toss-Up

Georgia Tech, Army Rated As Favorites

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—(INS)—The titanic clash at Philadelphia between Penn and Penn State, both unbeaten, is the standout game on tomorrow's college football card.

The result is considered a toss-up. Penn will have a slight advantage because it will be playing at home, but on the other hand may be pointing more for next week's game with Army than for the Nittany Lions.

The tradition-coated classic between Princeton and Harvard for big three honors also looks like a close affair, with Princeton given a slight edge.

Georgia Tech, one of the big leaders on the national scene, has been installed a 12-point choice over tough Tennessee, but may have a difficult time living up to that rating.

Here's the outlook on other important games;

Michigan is rated 28 points over Navy, Notre Dame 27 over Indiana, Army 20 over Stanford, California 26 over USLA, North Carolina 25 over William and Mary, Texas eight over Baylor, Oregon 7½ over Washington, Missouri six over Oklahoma.

Northwestern is a 13-point favorite over Wisconsin, Illinois 10 over Iowa, Arkansas 6½ over Rice, Cornell 19 over Colgate, Dartmouth 7 over Columbia, Duke 1½ over Wake Forest, Georgia 26 over Florida, Kentucky 6½ over Villanova.

Minnesota is rated 14 points better than Purdue, Ohio State 13½ over Pittsburgh, SMU 26 over Texas A&M, Vanderbilt 20 over LSU, and Washington State three over Oregon State.

Champ Gets Bout

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (INS) — Sandy Saddler, new featherweight champion of the world, signed with the 20th Century Sporting Club today for a 10-round bout with Terry Young at Madison Square Garden Dec. 17.

Young, a lightweight, agreed to make 135 pounds for the bout. Both fighters are New Yorkers.

Walter Mulbry Says No When Yutzy Connected

Writers Honor Johnson Maybe He's Shine's Boy

By C. V. BURNS

A suggestion made by G. Kear Hosken, Frostburg sportsman, that the members of Baseball Hall of Fame be given box seats at World Series games each year, is a meritorious one, according to a letter we have at hand from Walter W. Mulbry, secretary-treasurer of baseball, but he adds that it is impossible due to the fact that the list of free seats for the series each year is limited to the active working press.

Mr. Mulbry, who handles such correspondence addressed to Baseball Commissioner Albert B. "Happy" Chandler at Cincinnati, states that the commissioner and all club officials pay for their own seats.

"I am, however, glad to have your views and appreciate your writing me," concludes the secretary-treasurer.

• — • — •

Mr. Mulbry apparently has something there because at the recent World Series in Cleveland approximately 850 members of the Fourth Estate received complimentary tickets. And Bill Veeck saw to it that the newsmen were royally entertained during their three days visit.

• — • — •

Many baseball fans are under the impression that that baseball commissioner's job is a permanent one but it's not. Chandler, former State Senator, Lieut. Governor and Governor of Kentucky who later served six years in the United States Senate, was elected April 24, 1945 for a seven-year period at an annual salary of $50,000. His term expires in 1952.

There are quite a number of newspapermen who believed that George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues, has a good chance of becoming the next commissioner.

• — • — •

Pershing Rohrer, former Cumberland sports scribe, who is now pounding a mill for the Athens (Ohio) Messenger, tells us that reporters who cover college football games at Cincinnati should back up to the pay window.

He went there recently to "cover" the Ohio U.-Cincinnati game and he was instructed to sit down — everything was in hand.

At the close of each quarter a mimeographed play-by-play account is handed each member in the press box. Lineups, substitutes and game statistics are rushed to the reporters within two or three minutes after the game.

So life isn't so tedious (apologies to Carson Robinson) after all, according to Rohrer.

Efforts to place an All-American Professional Basketball League franchise in Johnstown, Pa., have failed but the Floodless City hopes to have the Pittsburgh team transfer some of its league contests there.

"Vic" Ricker, local tonsorial artist and matchmaker for professional boxing shows, was in a story telling mood the other day and revived an incident which occurred while Henry (K.O.) Yutzy was training for a fight back in the local welterweight's heyday.

According to "Vic," Kayo was training with a local boy he knew he could whip but he refrained from using his Sunday punch in the workouts because sparring partners were scare.

But this fellow seemed to be bent on trying to belt out Kayo and the latter exasperated by his rough sparmate vowed to Ricker that if this kept up he was going to flatten him like a rug.

"Vic" relates that there was a lot of excitement at training quarters the next day. Yutzy hit his sparmate so hard that the later became wedged back of a radiator pipe and the dazed lad was extricated by friends. The blow put the heating system out of whack and the pipefitters had to go to work.

Remember, this is Ricker's story.

Allegany High School's next gridiron foe — Johnstown Catholic High School — is scheduled to play St. Mary's High in Akron, Ohio, on Sunday.

It will be the 9th game of the season for the Johnnies. They've won three, including a 19-0 decision over LaSalle, and lost five games to date.

Some of our poorly conditioned amateur boxers start fading in the second round but that's not so with Frankie Taranto, the Roxbury, Pa., lad who has appeared in several shows here.

Frankie won three fights within 24 hours, boxing two opponents in one show at Huntingdon after appearing in a show at Johnstown the previous night.

"Remember Shine Cortazzo who used to play short for the Colts?" Sellers writes. "This is probably one of his offspring as I am sure Shine is t o old for high school football. However, that's his home town.

"The name brings back fond memories when Cumberland was in the Mid-Atlantic League."

Cortazzo was a sweet ballplayer and an infield combination like Johnny Byrnes, Dave Black, Cortazzo and Joe Conti comes along once in a lifetime. In 1927 when the Colts won their first pennant this quartet led all players at their respective positions in fielding. And the following year Byrnes, Black and Cortazzo repeated.

ACCIDENT HIGH TOPS BARTON IN CLASS "D" SOCCER TOURNEY, 3-1

Accident High School's well coached soccer team, champions of Garrett county, hurdled its first obstacle in the Maryland tournament for Class "D" schools by trimming Barton High Schoo lof Allegany yesterday at State Teachers' College Field, Frostburg, by the score of 3-1.

GARRETT, ALLEGANY STREAMS GET 8,000 BASS FINGERLINGS

Eight thousand small mouth bass fingerlings were planted in three Garrett and Allegany county streams yesterday, Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, announced last night.

Five thousand were distributed in Deep Creek Lake, Garrett county; 2,000 in Town Creek, Allegany county, and 1,000 in Evitts Creek, below Route 40, Allegany county, Minke said.

Ernest A. Vaughn Says:

Conservation Groups Must Apply For Rabbit Allocations By Dec. 1

Orders Must Be Filed With State Commission

Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, has been asked by Ernest A. Vaughn, director of the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, to notify all bonafide conservation clubs in Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties that applications for allocations of rabbits to said clubs must reach the Baltimore office on or before December 1, 1948.

The correct name of the club, name of person to receive the shipment and the express and postoffice address must be given.

Vaughn states that all orders will be placed with B. F. Tarman shortly thereafter for the total number of rabbits provided for in the state's restocking program. He adds that the state will not be responsible for any portion of orders placed directly by individuals or clubs as has been the policy in past years, due to the fact that last year's obligations far exceeded the amount of funds set up in the budget for the purchase of game.

Orders, not to exceed six dozen rabbits per club will be shipped directly to the club for distribution, and the club will be notified by the shipper when to expect arrival. Allocations made to clubs will become part of the total overall allocation of the county in which the club is located.

A comprehensive distribution program has been developed for the release of rabbits in all counties of the state by weighing the food and cover conditions against the license income and local hunting pressure.

The commission director further states that the distribution of a portion of each county allocation to conservation clubs will in no way change the past policy set up for release of rabbits by salaried wardens. However, each club receiving an allocation must submit a report to the state office (510-514 Munsey Building, Baltimore) immediately after completion, giving number of live rabbits received, and locations of release.

Romney Notches Seventh Triumph Over Petersburg

Two Long Marches Net Pioneers 14 To 6 Win

PETERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 5.—Romney High School's Pioneers marched 67 and 50 yards for touchdowns in the first and second periods today and defeated the scrappy Petersburg High School Vikings in a Potomac Valley Conference game by the score of 14 to 6.

The triumph was the seventh in eight starts for Coach Dick McElwee's Hampshire Countians and their third win against a single loss in the P.V.C. race.

Romney reeled off 24 first downs and piled up a total of 358 net yards via the air and overland.

Petersburg was directed by Clem Clower in the absence of Coach Walt Owens whose twin brother's body has arrived from overseas for reburial at Clarksburg, W. Va. The latter was killed during the war.

Fullback Sid Roach accounted for both of Romney's touchdowns. In the first period a series of line plays advanced the ball 65 yards to the two from where Roach scampered over on an off tackle thrust. Payne plunged the point. The Pioneers drove from midfield for their second score with Roach going over from the two. Bill Sirk's pass to Roach for the point was good.

Jim Bailey recovered a Romney fumble on the visitors' 45 to start Petersburg's offensive rolling in the second period. Two line plays carried to the 40 from where Joe Crites cut back from off tackle and sprinted over the goal line. Gus Smith's plunge for the point failed.

The second half was a see-saw affair during which Romney's offensive bogged down thrice after advancing to the Vikings' 20. Lineups:

PINEHURST, N. C., Nov. 5 (AP)—Toney Penna, smiling, happy-go-lucky little Cincinnati professional came from nowhere to win the $1,500 top prize money in the 46th North and South Open Golf Tournament today.

Overlooked while the big-guns of golf tried to tear the long No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club apart, Toney played steady and improving golf to card a 72-hole total of 285, three strokes under par for the distance.

Slamming Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the favorite of the galleries, and Julius Boros, husky Bridgeport, Conn., amateur, tied for second place at 287 after each had blown a chance to take the undisputed lead. The leaders at the halfway point, Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., and Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich., finished in a three-way tie for the next spot with amateur Frank Stranahan of Toledo.

It wasn't until the last threesome, finished in a day marked by a couple of sensational rounds and several equally surprising slips, that the winner was decided.

George Ruppert Dies

NEW YORK, Nov. 5 (INS) — George Ruppert, president and chairman of the board of the Ruppert Brewing Co., and a noted sportsman, died tonight in New York. He was 73.

Ruppert was associated with the New York Yankees for thirty years from 1915 when his brother, Jacob Ruppert, purchased the club, until it was sold in 1945 to Larry MacPhail, Del Webb and Dan Topping.

TWO HORSEMEN GIVEN LIFE SUSPENSIONS IN CANADA 'RINGER' CASE

MONTREAL, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Quebec Racing Association announced today the suspension for life of Robert A. Edwards of Smithfield, Va., and Earl L. Ferris, Jr., of Danbury, Conn., in connection with the "Ringer Case" at Blue Bonnets Race Track, Montreal, last Aug. 28.

The life-suspensions grew out of disclosure by the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau in New York two weeks ago that it had "photographic proof" the horse Don't Delay ran under the name of Lid at Blue Bonnets.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 5—Roosevelt-Wilson High School turned back a hard-fighting eleven from Keyser High School here tonight after the visitors from Mineral county had scored the first touchdown of the game. The final score was 27 to 6.

Keyser marked up its only score early in the opening period when Carroll Nelson skirted end for final 14 yards. Nelson put Keyser in a good position before scoring when he returned a Clarksburg punt 33 yards to the R-W 27 and then passed to Halfback Tom Kimble for a gain of 13 yards.

Late in the first quarter R-W took the ball on its own 20 and after Ayoob and Seti moved it to the 5 the latter went over from there. Signorelli drop-kicked the extra point to give the home team a 7-6 edge.

Starting on their own 30 the Prexies drove to another touchdown in the second period. The march was highlighted by Minard's off tackle run for 42 yards and was climaxed by Minard's pass to Fred Krivosky. Signorelli drop kicked the point to make the count 14-6 at the halfway mark.

Taking the ball on downs in the Keyser 48 R-W battled its way to the 5 and from there Seti scampered for the score, Ayoob's end run netted the extra point.

After taking a punt on its own ten, Clarksburg went 90 yards for its final six-pointer. With Seti and Minard alternating the locals advanced to Keyser 18 and then Seti raced off tackle for the remaining distance. Signorelli's drop kick for the point was wide.

Keyser advanced deep into R-W territory but on both occasions lost the ball on downs. The Golden Tornado reached the 17 in the second period and the 10 in the third quarter. Bernard Elbon made a touchdown bid but was tackled on the one-yard line as the game ended.

Keyser lost the services of Tom Conroy, regular fullback, when he suffered a shoulder separation midway in the second quarter.

Harrison, Fred Krivosky, Ayoob and Seti played best for the winners while Neil Wensell, Nelson, Elbon and Conroy were outstanding for Keyser. Lineups:

Colts Sign Pair

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5. (AP) — The Baltimore Colts picked up two players released by the Chicago Rockets to get back to full strength before shoving off tonight for its All-America Football Conference game with Cleveland.

The Colts signed up Herb Coleman, 200-pound center, and Sam Vacanti, 198 - pound quarterback. Coleman fills a spot made weak by the decision yesterday of Mule Corley to quit playing.

Miami Wins, 36-6

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 5 (AP) — The University of Miami Hurricanes grabbed a three touchdown lead in the first quarter and smashed the University of Cincinnati, 36 to 6 before 31,561 in the Orange Bowl here tonight.

Charley Zivic Loses

NEW YORK, Nov. 5. (AP)—Pete Mead, underdog Grand Rapids, Mich., middleweight closed the left eye of Charley (Affif) Zivic, Pittsburgh, tonight in winning a unanimous 10-round decision at St. Nicholas Arena.

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 5—Fort Hill High School of Cumberland extended its two-year winning streak to 18 games tonight by rolling over the Maroon and Gray of Hagerstown High School at the Municipal Stadium by the score of 35 to 6 before 3,000 persons, a large percentage of whom were from the Queen City.

The Sentinels in notching their ninth straight triumph of 1948 scored at least once in every period. Larry McKenzie accounted for two touchdowns while Edgar Tucker, Marvin Luttrell and John Alderton garnered one each.

Burke Hangs Up Record

Glenn Burke, place-kicking specialist, set a new record for Cumberland scholastic players to shoot at when he boosted his point-after-touchdown total to 34 for the season by converting five times tonight. The previous mark of 32 points was established last year by Jimmie Mangus, also of Fort Hill.

Coach Bill Hahn's warriors crashed the scoring column three minutes after the opening kickoff when Larry McKenzie galloped over from the 35 yard mark. Fort Hill drove from its own 32 to the Hubs' 35 after the opening kickoff to set the stage of McKenzie's romp.

In the second quarter it was McKenzie again on a smash from the 4-yard line and before the period was concluded the Hilltoppers marched fro mtheir own 42 to the one-yard line, lost five yards on a penalty, then Ronnie Cage passed to Alderton who reached paydirt. Burke's third straight point-after-touchdown made the score 21-0 at half time.

With four minutes gone in the third quarter Fort Hill recovered Rudisill's fumble on the Hagerstown 28. McKenzie, Luttrell and Tucker lugged the pigskin to the 2 from where the latter scampered across.

Hagerstown Makes Score

Taking the following kickoff Hagerstown drove from its own 27 to the Fort Hill 16 as the quarter ended. In the final stanza Eddie Semler, Jr., son of the Hagerstown coach, toted the ball to the 10, "Bud" Byers went to the 2 and Bruce Rudisill, 200-pound fullback scored. Byers' kick for the point was blocked.

With eight minutes remaining in the last quarter Fort Hill marked up its fifth and final touchdown. With Tucker and McKenzie spearheading the attack the Sentinels advanced from their own 43 to the home team's 6 with Luttrell circling left end for the necessary yardage for six points more.

It was Fort Hill's final game before its annual Thanksgiving Day contest with Allegany in Cumberland. Lineups:

FRENCH HORSE GOES MAD, KILLS HIMSELF ON AIR TRIP TO U. S.

LONDON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Djelal, a high strung French stallion went mad with fright on the first leg of an air trip to the United States today and killed himself in frantic efforts to kick his way out of the plane.

The four year old horse, winner of races in both France and England, was sold recently to an American syndiacte of breeders for $225,000.

Seventeen dogs, all barking frantically, were cooped in the plane with the frenzied Djelal and were still yapping when the pilot took off again after making an emergency stop to get rid of the body.

Officials at Bovingdon Airport said "from the pilot's account it is a wonder the horse did not kick itself out into the air."

Hoyas Top NYU

With only 45 seconds to go, Fogarty raced 93 yards, to the Georgetown two-yard line, to set up the lone NYU touchdown.

These are the SCRUBS!

They're warming the bench today. But next year most of these boys will be "regulars"—a few will become stars. They're waiting their chance.

And don't think that they spend most of their time on the sidelines. They see plenty of action at every practice — they come up against the "varsity" in every scrimmage. They're getting ready for their chance.

Have you ever thought of your youngster as one of today's "scrubs"? He has his dreams and hopes; he's waiting his chance to realize every childish ambition.

Are you helping him to get ready for tomorrow's opportunity? Are you giving him the advantage of religious training in the Church?

Now, while your youngster knows life only as a fascinating game, the Church can teach him the rules, can guide him toward the right goals, can develop his spiritual and moral strength.

Dr. Victor Abramson, Washington, D. C., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Abramson over the weekend.

James Lannon, Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Piedmont, W. Va., who is employed with the Western Union Telegraph Company, visited relatives here. He left for Pittsburgh yesterday enroute to Cleveland.

TRUCK DEMOLISHES HOUSE—Shown above is the large tractor-trailer truck which overturned and struck the house of D. W. Sharpless at Kitzmiller last Friday. The driver, Theodore Gaich, Irwin, Pa., was pinned in the cab for about an hour until the Kitzmiller Fire Department was able to release him. He suffered only minor injuries and was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., for treatment. The truck, which was carrying eight mine cars to Vindex Mine, went out of control on the hill when the brakes failed. The driver was unable to stay on the road at a 90-degree curve and struck the house, demolishing it. The house was still under construction. The truck was described as a total loss by State Trooper Jack Browning, who investigated.

Truman Waves To Crowd At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—In a five minute operation stop at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, President Harry S. Truman waved to spectators on the Keyser station platform of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The rear of his "Victory Special" was far back in the yards and the President did not make an appearance until it got underway.

A small group was on hand to extend a greeting. Democrats, who carried Republican Mineral county for the President, made no welcome program because of the earliness of the hour.

Railroad officials said police outnumbered the spectators.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va.—(AP)—President Truman stood on the rear platform of his special train and waved to about 300 persons who had gathered to greet him this morning but the train did not stop.

Martinsburg gave the President a majority in Tuesday's voting, despite the fact that his campaign special four times passed through without the populace getting as much as a glimpse of the candidate.

Kempton School Marks Halloween

Dorothy Tasker crowned the royal couple.

A program of poems, plays, choral speaking and songs preceded a party at which games were played and stunt exhibitions took place. Refreshments were served.

Mineral County Plans Campaign To Wipe Out Rats

Prettyman Says Fall Best Time

KEYSER, W. Va., — Thursday, November 11, has been designed as "R" Day for rats in West Virginia, Joseph E. Prettyman, Mineral county argicultural agent, announced yesterday.

"There is no better time than mid-fall to wage a campaign against rats," Prettyman said, "as this is the season of the year when they start looking for warm winter quarters. All residents of the county, those living in urban as well as rural communities, should participate, in the campaign."

Prettyman said all farmers should clean up places where the rodents are likely to seek shelter in order to prevent farms from becoming "rat hotels."

Nearly all farms harbor some rats,

The Eckhart Square Circle Sportsmen's Association will meet Sunday at 7:30 p. m. at the club house in Eckhart. James Porter, president, urges the attendance of all members.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Glenn, Winchester Road, announce the birth of twins, a son and a daughter, Wednesday in Miners Hospital.

The Allegany-Garrett County Sportsmen's Association will meet Tuesday, 8 p. m., in the rear dining hall of the Gunter Hotel. Henry R. Yates, president, will preside.

Frostburg Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cook, Detroit, Mich., returned after visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Horton, Borden Shaft. Mrs. Cook is the former Miss Edella Sweene.

Charles F. Engle, 35 Steyer Street, was in Akron this week attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, William Moris. Mrs. Moris is the former Miss Marie Engle, this city.

Miss Charlotte McAlpine, Midland, an employe of the Frostburg Department store, underwent a major operation in Miners Hospital Wednesday.

William Eberly, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Eberly, has returned home from Childrens Hospital, Baltimore, where he was a patient for three months.

Miss Helen Rairick Will Be Wed Today

FROSTBURG—Miss Helen Rairick, daughter of Mrs. Mary Rairick and the late Harry Rairick, Consol Village, will become the bride of George Riley Lichliter, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Reese Lichliter, Salisbury, Pa., today, at 3 p. m., in St. Michael's Catholic Church. The ceremony will be solemnized by Rev. Regis T. Larkin, assistant pastor.

Miss Rairick is a graduate of Beall High School, Class of 1943, and until recently was employed in the office of Allegany Hospital, Cumberland.

Lichliter, a graduate of Elk Lick High School, Class of 1943, served four years in the Navy during World War II. He is employed in the grocery business with his father in Salisbury.

After a wedding trip to southern states, the couple will reside in Salisbury.

Mikado Cast Will Rehearse Sunday

FROSTBURG—Local singers selected to take the leading parts in the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, "The Mikado," will hold a rehearsal Sunday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Edith Bender, Frost Avenue.

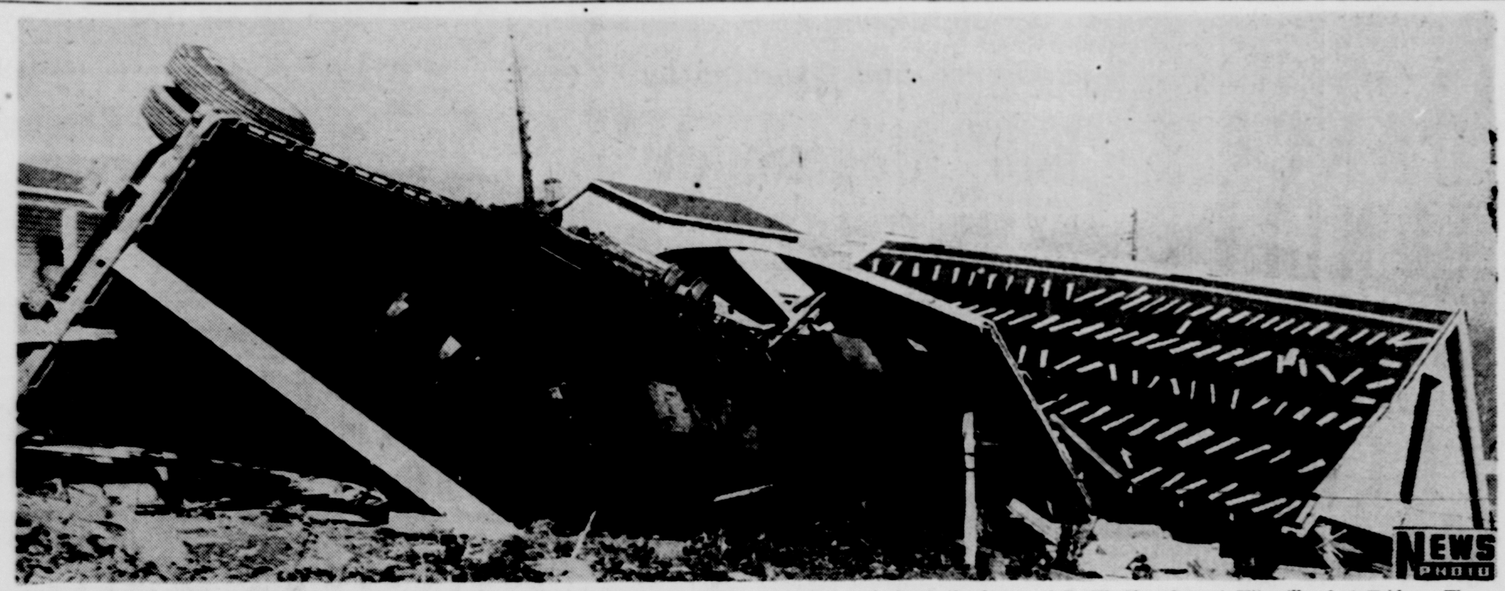
Members of the cast, who appear under direction of the principal of Beall High School, are, Mrs. Mabel Kemp Durst, soprano, "Yum-Yum"; Donald Llewellyn, bass, "Ko Ko"; Joseph Footen, bass, "Mikado"; Mrs. Edith Bender, soprano, "Peep Bo"; Mrs. Joseph Lee Linn, alto, "Pitti Sing"; Mr. Taylor, tenor, "Pooh Bah" and Miss Margaret Jones, soprano, "Katisha." In addition choruses of school girls, nobles, guards and coolies will be selected.

Hugh Watson has been selected pianist for the production. Two male roles are still open, one a tenor part and the other a light baritone role.

Tri-Towns Briefs

Dr. Victor Abramson, Washington, D. C., visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Abramson over the weekend.

James Lannon, Cleveland, Ohio, formerly of Piedmont, W. Va., who is employed with the Western Union Telegraph Company, visited relatives here. He left for Pittsburgh yesterday enroute to Cleveland.



TRUCK DEMOLISHES HOUSE—Shown above is the large tractor-trailer truck which overturned and struck the house of D. W. Sharpless at Kitzmiller last Friday. The driver, Theodore Gaich, Irwin, Pa., was pinned in the cab for about an hour until the Kitzmiller Fire Department was able to release him. He suffered only minor injuries and was taken to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, W. Va., for treatment. The truck, which was carrying eight mine cars to Vindex Mine, went out of control on the hill when the brakes failed. The driver was unable to stay on the road at a 90-degree curve and struck the house, demolishing it. The house was still under construction. The truck was described as a total loss by State Trooper Jack Browning, who investigated.

Paw Paw Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Largent and daughter, Ypsilanti, Mich., are spending their vacation with the former's parents here.

Mrs. Wilbur Largent visited in Washington with her son, William Largent.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice, Cumberland, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kline, Romney, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Northcraft.

Mrs. W. W. Largent was called to Washington Thursday due to the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Betty Lee Moran, who underwent an appendectomy at Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder and sons Russell and Marvin, Cresaptown, Md., spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Snyder.

Herman Hott, Jr., who is teaching at Shenandoah, Va., spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hott.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knott, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knott, Jr., and son, Eugene, Hagerstown, were guests at a wild turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gross. The turkey was killed by the host's son, John E. Gross, Cumberland.

Truman Waves To Crowd At Keyser

KEYSER, W. Va.—In a five minute operation stop at 7:30 a. m. yesterday, President Harry S. Truman waved to spectators on the Keyser station platform of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The rear of his "Victory Special" was far back in the yards and the President did not make an appearance until it got underway.

A small group was on hand to extend a greeting. Democrats, who carried Republican Mineral county for the President, made no welcome program because of the earliness of the hour.

Railroad officials said police outnumbered the spectators.

MARTINSBURG, W. Va.—(AP)—President Truman stood on the rear platform of his special train and waved to about 300 persons who had gathered to greet him this morning but the train did not stop.

Martinsburg gave the President a majority in Tuesday's voting, despite the fact that his campaign special four times passed through without the populace getting as much as a glimpse of the candidate.

Kempton School Marks Halloween

Dorothy Tasker crowned the royal couple.

A program of poems, plays, choral speaking and songs preceded a party at which games were played and stunt exhibitions took place. Refreshments were served.

TRI-STATE DEATHS

LOU J. McNARY

CLARKSBURG, W. Va.—Lou J. McNary, 88, oldest annuitant of the Hope Natural Gas Company, died October 28 at his home, 437 Center Street, Weston, where he had lived since 1911.

Mr. McNary was born January 15, 1860, in Washington county, Pa., a son of the late Joseph D. and Mary Wallace Caldwell McNary. At the time of his retirement November 1, 1927, he was foreman of the Hope Gas Company's drilling department and had 20 years' service with the concern.

His first wife, the former Cora Barbour, died in 1886. In 1887 he married Miss Agnes Beard, Parkersburg, who died four years ago.

Surviving by his first wife is a daughter, Mary Beth Sprowls, Boswell, Pa.; a son by his second marriage, Charles Wilford McNary, Cumberland; one brother, John R. McNary, and two sisters, Mrs. Clara B. Cook and Miss Joseph McNary, all of Washington, Pa.

MILTON HODGES

FRANKLIN, W. Va. — Milton Stanley Hodges, former Clerk of the West Virginia State Senate and a prominent political figure, died in a hospital here yesterday after a long illness. He was 72.

Hodges was Clerk of the State Senate in 1929, 1930 and 1931, and also was Clerk of the House of Delegates during the sessions of 1921, 1925 and 1927. He was considered one of the state's outstanding authorities on parliamentary procedure.

Friends said he had been in failing health for several years, and was confined to his bed for the last several months.

A native of Piedmont, he was born September 28, 1876. He was admitted to the bar in Keyser in 1901, and moved to Franklin, where he had maintained his residence ever since, in 1902.

JOSEPH HOYE

MT. SAVAGE—Joseph Hoye, 68, died here yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Weimer, with whom he had been residing since May, after being stricken with paralysis last Saturday.

Mr. Hoye was born in Frostburg, a son of the late Patrick and Elizabeth Conroy Hoye, and until his retirement last May had worked at Notre Dame College, Baltimore, a number of years.

Mr. Hoye was a bachelor and the last member of his immediate family. He is survived by three nephews, Bernard Winner, Lonaconing, Joseph Winner, Frostburg, and Aloysius Winner, Mt. Savage, and three nieces, Mrs. James Weimer, Mrs. Stanley Weimer and Mrs. Clayton Robison, all of Mt. Savage.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

MRS. DOROTHY CRABTREE

PETERSBURG, W. Va.—A funeral service was conducted Thursday in Maysville for Mrs. Dorothy Secrist Crabtree, 36, who died in Washington, D. C. following a brief illness of some weeks. Burial was in Maysville Cemetery.

She was a daughter of Mrs. Charlotte Clause and the late Frank Clauze, former residents of Maysville and she is survived by her mother, who now lives in Washington, her husband, Washington; children: Misses Margaret and Patricia Secrist, Petersburg; Frank and Charles Secrist, Petersburg, and the following brothers and sisters: Robert Clauze stationed with the U.S. Air Force at Cheyenne, Wyoming; William Clauze, and Miss Ruth Clauze, Washington and Mrs. Mildred Moore, Ashland, N. C.

Mrs. Crabtree taught school in Grant County.

DAYTON GORDON HELMICK

PARSONS, W. Va.—Dayton Gordon Helmick, 56, Harman, died in an Elkins Hospital Friday after suffering injuries earlier in the day in a fall from a 20-foot cliff at the Sam Polina Stone quarry at Bowder.

He was born at Harman August 10,1892, and is survived by his wife, the former Alpha Pennington, five sons, Huey Helmick, Paw Paw; Carl, Ollie and Henver Helmick, all of Harman, and Gordon, at home; two daughters, Mrs. Vada Collins, Harman, and Beulah, home; two sisters, Mrs. Rose Coffman, Ridgeley, and Mrs. Stella Johnson, Cumberland, Md.

MRS. KALBAUGH SERVICE

FROSTBURG—A funeral service for Mrs. Amy Kalbaugh, who died Monday, was held Thursday, 2:30 p. m., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Cain, Broadway, with Rev. Donald Voessler, pastor of First English Baptist Church, officiating.

Pallbearers were Herbert Loar, Harold Cain, Noel Speir Cook, Olin Savage, Philip Jenkins and Philip Lehr. Burial was in Allegany Cemetery.

Parsons High Gets Heifer

PARSONS, W. Va.—Joe K. Gillis, Parsons business man, has presented the Vo-Ag department of Parsons High School with a purebred Dairy Heifer, according to Cecil M. Stalnaker, instructor of that department.

This is the third award presented to the department in the past few years. The boy who has an outstanding farming program and the proper facilities to care for the heifer will receive it. He in turn will return to the school the first heifer calf for another member to win.

The James H. English award of a purebred Hampshire Gilt was won the first year by Frank Smith who returned a gilt from the first farrow to the school and won this year by William Sturms, Porterwood.

Leon Kelly, Leadmine, won the Chamber of Commerce award of a purebred Hampshire Gilt, but in the first litter all were males but one. He was allowed to keep the pig but will return one to the school this year.

Mineral County Plans Campaign To Wipe Out Rats

Prettyman Says Fall Best Time

KEYSER, W. Va., — Thursday, November 11, has been designed as "R" Day for rats in West Virginia, Joseph E. Prettyman, Mineral county agricultural agent, announced yesterday.

"There is no better time than mid-fall to wage a campaign against rats," Prettyman said, "as this is the season of the year when they start looking for warm winter quarters. All residents of the county, those living in urban as well as rural communities, should participate, in the campaign."

Prettyman said all farmers should clean up places where the rodents are likely to seek shelter in order to prevent farms from becoming "rat hotels."

Nearly all farms harbor some rats,

Piedmont Women Will Seek Aid For Orphanage

PIEDMONT, W. Va.—The Piedmont Woman's Club are making their annual solicitations of donations for the Burlington Orphanage at Burlington, W. Va.

Donations of foodstuff, clothing or money may be left at the Piedmont Library Tuesdays and Thursdays between 3 and 5 p. m. and on Saturdays between 3-5 and 7-9 p. m. The closing date for receiving contributions will be Saturday November 20.

An appeal will also be made to students of the Piedmont grade and high schools.

The by-laws and constitution of the club which have been revised were read by the chairman of the committee, Mrs. George Dixon and adopted at the monthly meeting of the club Thursday evening at Piedmont Library.

The club made plans for a public card party to be held at the Piedmont Library, Wednesday, December 8 at 8 p. m.

The following committee was appointed to make arrangements for the card party Mrs. Larry Dimasi, Mrs. Carleton Bell, Mrs. George Nealis, Mrs. Elmo Clower, Mrs. Virgil Raines and Mrs. James Ott.

The year books were distributed by the president of the club, Mrs. Harry K. Drane. Refreshments were served.

Mt. Savage Man Heads Welfare Unit At Meade

MT. SAVAGE — Michael J. O'Rourke, son of Mrs. Rose V. O'Rourke, has been named president of a new Civilian Welfare Council set up by the Civilian Welfare Association, Headquarters, Second Army, and Post of Fort George G. Meade.

The association, composed of six elected representatives and two ex-officio members, is engaged in projects designed to improve the morale and efficiency of civilians at the Army headquarters and Post. All regularly employed civilians are members and the council is the governing body of the association.

Others elected to the council were Miss Hester Waters, Laurel; Miss Eleanor A. Quinn, Baltimore; Frederick T. Weinberger, Baltimore; Miss Helen E. Boyer, Baltimore, and Mrs. Frances C. Ackerman, Baltimore.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5 — (INS) — Gene Markey is taking a camera crew and leaving for Cairo, December 1, to film backgrounds for "Mrs. Kelly From Cairo,' an original which he has written for Myrna Loy.

Dianna Lynn

Myrna, meanwhile, will have to stay in London on "The Case of Lady Brooke" until January 15 because of a delay caused by mechanical trouble. Movie making is much slower in England and Rome than in Hollywood. It is taking much longer for this picture than Myrna had counted on.

Gene will film the rest of "Mrs. Kelly" in Hollywood, and it is planned as their first independent picture. If Gene and Myrna do as well as a husband and wife producer-star combination as Rosalind Russell and Freddie Brisson, they will be very successful.

Louis Hayward's automobile accident in Rome is holding up "Pirates Of Capri," according to Edgar Ulmer, who is directing it. Ulmer telephoned his wife from Rome that the picture can't start until December 2 but that no matter what happens, Linda Christian will co-star opposite Hayward.

What this delay will do to Sol Lesser's "Tarzan At the Olympics," I wouldn't be knowing. Sol also wants Miss Christian to co-star opposite Lex Barker in that one.

But one thing I do know, and that is for sure. The powers-that-be at 20th Century-Fox have been bombarding Tyrone Power with letters, urging him not to marry Linda today, their newest wedding date. Linda's mother, Senora Alvarez-Anezquita, who is expecting a baby in two months, insists the wedding will go through on schedule. Her reasoning is pretty wonderful: She says Linda's wedding dress is all ready and it would be out of style by winter.

Theda Bara, the original vamp of the screen, is $100,000 richer today. Buddy De Sylva, who has been negotiating with Theda for her life story, finally convinced her that $100,000 in the bank isn't a bad thing—of course, after income tax is taken out.

Betty Hutton, the blonde dynamo, who will play Theda in the movies, has never met the vamp of yesteryear, so Buddy has arranged for the two ladies to meet and have dinner together.

Betty is as unlike the Theda I knew as any girl in Hollywood, but this, of course, will be a comedy.

When Bob Hope made his entrance at Paramount in a wheelchair, after hurting a ligament in his leg which led to a blood clot, he found his cameraman, the grips, his director, and all the cast ready for him.

Everyone stood with crossed crutches and canes, after the fashion of crossed swords at a military wedding. Hope was wheeled through the crutch brigade and did his scenes from this chair.

Errol Flynn has engaged passage on the Queen Elizabeth, and sails from New York on the 24th for Paris to stay with friends. Then he will go on to Italy.

Meanwhile, Nora, who is in Palm Springs with her mother and daughter, plays tennis every day and sees all the Hollywood crowd there, but makes no move to come home.

Errol says he would certainly like to take her with him, and maybe, when she knows he actually has reservations for Europe, she will make up and go along.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Barbara Hutton, according to friends in Paris, is so improved that she was hostess at a large dinner in the French capital. She has put on just a little weight and looks, I'm told, better than she has in years.

Diana Lynn was in a big wedding scene playing the bride the day she and John Lindsay announced their engagement. John is a very promising young architect, and very well thought of.

The two little Stratton boys are in the movies. Monty, Jr., 11, and Dennis Lee, 8, have themselves jobs as bat boys in their pop's life story at MGM.

Oil heiress Mary Lewis has flown to Mexico to see Manuel De Sevilla, head of Cinecolor in Mexico City.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5 — (INS) — Gene Markey is taking a camera crew and leaving for Cairo, December 1, to film backgrounds for "Mrs. Kelly From Cairo," an original which he has written for Myrna Loy.

Dianna Lynn

Myrna, meanwhile, will have to stay in London on "The Case of Lady Brooke" until January 15 because of a delay caused by mechanical trouble. Movie making is much slower in England and Rome than in Hollywood. It is taking much longer for this picture than Myrna had counted on.

Gene will film the rest of "Mrs. Kelly" in Hollywood, and it is planned as their first independent picture. If Gene and Myrna do as well as a husband and wife producer-star combination as Rosalind Russell and Freddie Brisson, they will be very successful.

Louis Hayward's automobile accident in Rome is holding up "Pirates Of Capri," according to Edgar Ulmer, who is directing it. Ulmer telephoned his wife from Rome that the picture can't start until December 2 but that no matter what happens, Linda Christian will co-star opposite Hayward.

What this delay will do to Sol Lesser's "Tarzan At the Olympics," I wouldn't be knowing. Sol also wants Miss Christian to co-star opposite Lex Barker in that one.

But one thing I do know, and that is for sure. The powers-that-be at 20th Century-Fox have been bombarding Tyrone Power with letters, urging him not to marry Linda today, their newest wedding date. Linda's mother, Senora Alvarez-Anezquita, who is expecting a baby in two months, insists the wedding will go through on schedule. Her reasoning is pretty wonderful: She says Linda's wedding dress is all ready and it would be out of style by winter.

Theda Bara, the original vamp of the screen, is $100,000 richer today. Buddy De Sylva, who has been negotiating with Theda for her life story, finally convinced her that $100,000 in the bank isn't a bad thing—of course, after income tax is taken out.

Betty Hutton, the blonde dynamo, who will play Theda in the movies, has never met the vamp of yesteryear, so Buddy has arranged for the two ladies to meet and have dinner together.

Betty is as unlike the Theda I knew as any girl in Hollywood, but this, of course, will be a comedy.

When Bob Hope made his entrance at Paramount in a wheelchair, after hurting a ligament in his leg which led to a blood clot, he found his cameraman, the grips, his director, and all the cast ready for him.

Everyone stood with crossed crutches and canes, after the fashion of crossed swords at a military wedding. Hope was wheeled through the crutch brigade and did his scenes from this chair.

Errol Flynn has engaged passage on the Queen Elizabeth, and sails from New York on the 24th for Paris to stay with friends. Then he will go on to Italy.

Meanwhile, Nora, who is in Palm Springs with her mother and daughter, plays tennis every day and sees all the Hollywood crowd there, but makes no move to come home.

Errol says he would certainly like to take her with him, and maybe, when she knows he actually has reservations for Europe, she will make up and go along.

Barbara Hutton, according to friends in Paris, is so improved that she was hostess at a large dinner in the French capital. She has put on just a little weight and looks, I'm told, better than she has in years.

Diana Lynn was in a big wedding scene playing the bride the day she and John Lindsay announced their engagement. John is a very promising young architect, and very well thought of.

The two little Stratton boys are in the movies. Monty, Jr., 11, and Dennis Lee, 8, have themselves jobs as bat boys in their pop's life story at MGM.

Each Network To Carry Grid Game This Afternoon

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—Red Barber's going to see what can be done about putting variety into football broadcasting. So on CBS Saturday afternoon he's taking three hours to provide a rounup of something like 29 games.

It will be done through direct pickups from various gridirons, telephoned and station reports and news wires. Red himself will coordinate things, starting at 2:30 p. m.

Other games of the day: MBS 1:45 p. m. Stanford vs. Army, also to be televised by NBC.

NBC 2:15 Tennessee vs. Georgia Tech.

NBC 3:15 Missouri vs. Oklahoma.

Grand Central Station, CBS drama series, now has a decade to its credit. In other words, the program at 12:30 p. m. will be in observance of its tenth anniversary. This one uses what it describes as original dramas.

Brahms Symphony No. 2 in D Major will be the principal part of the Toscanini continuation of his six-week Brahms cycle with the NBC symphony at 6:30 on NBC. This will be the third in the series.

The operatic fantasy "The Magic Flute" will be put in radio version for the Chicago Theater of the Air on MBS at 10. Five soloists are to help out . . . Edward G. Robinson is guesting in Hollywood theater for NBC at 8.

If You Invite Boy To Dance. You Pay For The Tickets

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I am invited to a dance that is being given by a group of girls in my class. You are expected to ask a boy to go, and although I know whom I want to invite, I'm puzzled about the ticket expenses. Should I pay for them, should he, or should we both share the expense?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) If you do the inviting to a "girl - asks - boy" dance, you're expected to foot the bill. If it's a strictly formal affair, he might surprise you with a corsage, but as for the ticket money, that's all up to you. It's not cricket to suggest that he pay his own way. So if you're planning to go, buy the tickets beforehand and have them handy when you get there.

• — • — •

(Q) "Dear Nancy: During the summer, I dated one boy quite often and he wore my friendship ring. Now he's wearing another girl's ring and ever since school started, he has steadily ignored me. As long as everything seems to be over, I'd like my ring, but he has not offered to return it. What do you think I should do?"

(A) It could be that his favorite hobby is collecting friendship rings, but if you're not willing to add yours to the list, next time you see him, politely ask for it back. After a relationship has hit rock-bottom it's always hard to return the fraternity pins, class rings, or identification bracelets, and it's embarrassing for both of you. It's wiser to be sure of your feelings before you exchange jewelry to comment your feelings.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I am 13 years old and take dancing lessons every week. I am very interested in dancing, but I can't seem to make friends of the other girls. Most of them are two or three years older than I, and they never go out of their way to speak to me or walk home with me. I'm unhappy about this, and I'd like your advice.

(A) It's a problem of age. Being older than you, they find more companionship and things to talk about with girls in their age group, and don't realize they're being unfriendly when they pass you by. You'd be uncomfortable in the midst of their conversation, and you'd have a hard time trying to belong to their crowd. You'll be happier and have much more fun if you stay in a crowd of girls your own age.

Gas Overcomes City Visitor

Nellie Smith, 48, Wilmington, Del., was overcome yesterday by gas fumes from a hot water heater in the bathroom of the residence of Larry Hilton, 404 Seymour Street, where she was visiting. Police were summoned at about 9 a. m.

Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya and Sgt. R. R. Johnston arrived at the house shortly after the woman was found on the bathroom floor and had been carried to a bed. Windows in the home were opened to allow the fumes to escape.

Technical Sgt. John H. Newhouse took the Police Department's resuscitator to the scene but the woman had been revived by the time he reached Seymour Street. Passing employes of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company checked the heater.

When the territory of Idaho was formed, it contained 10 mining towns, 20,000 people and four counties.

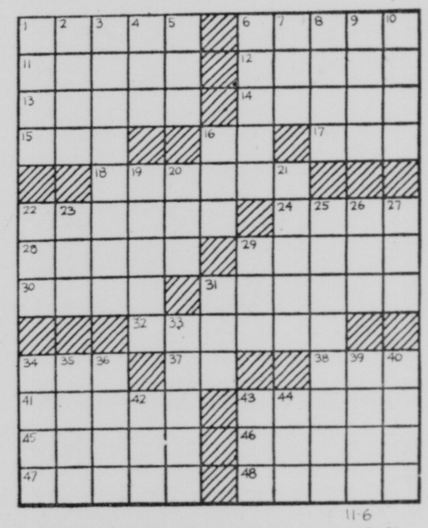
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: WE ARE LIKE THE MUSICIAN ON THE LAKE, WHOSE MELODY IS SWEETER THAN HE KNOWS—EMERSON.

If You Invite Boy To Dance. You Pay For The Tickets

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I am invited to a dance that is being given by a group of girls in my class. You are expected to ask a boy to go, and although I know whom I want to invite, I'm puzzled about the ticket expenses. Should I pay for them, should he, or should we both share the expense?"

Nancy Mottram

(A) If you do the inviting to a "girl - asks - boy" dance, you're expected to foot the bill. If it's a strictly formal affair, he might surprise you with a corsage, but as for the ticket money, that's all up to you. It's not cricket to suggest that he pay his own way. So if you're planning to go, buy the tickets beforehand and have them handy when you get there.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: During the summer, I dated one boy quite often and he wore my friendship ring. Now he's wearing another girl's ring and ever since school started, he has steadily ignored me. As long as everything seems to be over, I'd like my ring, but he has not offered to return it. What do you think I should do?"

(A) It could be that his favorite hobby is collecting friendship rings, but if you're not willing to add yours to the list, next time you see him, politely ask for it back. After a relationship has hit rock-bottom it's always hard to return the fraternity pins, class rings, or identification bracelets, and it's embarrassing for both of you. It's wiser to be sure of your feelings before you exchange jewelry to comment your feelings.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I am 13 years old and take dancing lessons every week. I am very interested in dancing, but I can't seem to make friends of the other girls. Most of them are two or three years older than I, and they never go out of their way to speak to me or walk home with me. I'm unhappy about this, and I'd like your advice.

(A) It's a problem of age. Being older than you, they find more companionship and things to talk about with girls in their age group and don't realize they're being unfriendly when they pass you by. You'd be uncomfortable in the midst of their conversation, and you'd have a hard time trying to belong to their crowd. You'll be happier and have much more fun if you stay in a crowd of girls your own age.

Gas Overcomes City Visitor

Nellie Smith, 48, Wilmington, Del., was overcome yesterday by gas fumes from a hot water heater in the bathroom of the residence of Larry Hilton, 404 Seymour Street, where she was visiting. Police were summoned at about 9 a. m.

Detective Lt. Edwin R. Lilya and Sgt. R. R. Johnston arrived at the house shortly after the woman was found on the bathroom floor and had been carried to a bed. Windows in the home were opened to allow the fumes to escape.

Technical Sgt. John H. Newhouse took the Police Department's resuscitator to the scene but the woman had been revived by the time he reached Seymour Street. Passing employes of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company checked the heater.

When the territory of Idaho was formed, it contained 10 mining towns, 20,000 people and four counties.

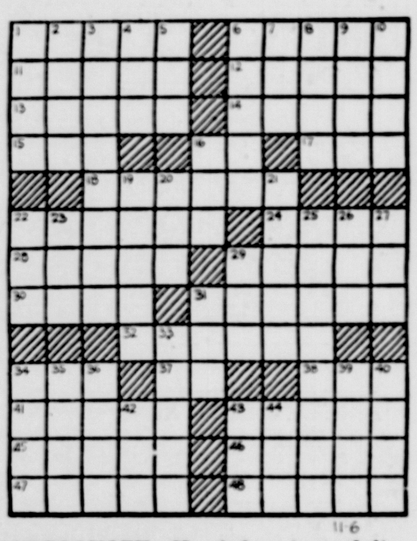
Yesterday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

A Cryptogram Quotation

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: WE ARE LIKE THE MUSICIAN ON THE LAKE, WHOSE MELODY IS SWEETER THAN HE KNOWS—EMERSON.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our bereavement in the re-burial of Pvt. Henry E. Weisenborne, our brother.

We also wish to thank those who furnished automobiles and the pallbearers and military organizations which participated.

The Weisenborne Family, Frostburg.

We desire to extend our sincere thanks to all of our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses to us at the time of the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Cora B. Puffinburger. We especially wish to thank Rev. Kenneth Hayes, Rev. E. S. Price of Romney, W. Va., those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars.

The Puffinburger Family.

Card of Thanks

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our bereavement in the re-burial of Pvt. Henry E. Weisenborne, our brother.

We also wish to thank those who furnished automobiles and the pallbearers and military organizations which participated.

The Weisenborne Family, Frostburg.

We desire to extend our sincere thanks to all of our friends and neighbors for their many kindnesses to us at the time of the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Cora B. Puffinburger. We especially wish to thank Rev. Kenneth Hayes, Rev. E. S. Price of Romney, W. Va., those who sent floral tributes and donated the use of their cars.

The Puffinburger Family.

The lower apartment has just been redecorated and floors varnished. When you consider this a 12 room dwelling with hardwood floors, two baths and dandy cellar and furnace, for the price asked for some single dwellings, it is a good buy.

Very well constructed and requires a minimum of fuel in heating because it is well insulated with an insul-bric covering. The exterior has just been painted two coats of good paint and the property is in A-1 condition throughout.

The lower apartment has just been redecorated and floors varnished. When you consider this a 12 room dwelling with hardwood floors, two baths and dandy cellar and furnace, for the price asked for some single dwellings, it is a good buy.

Very well constructed and requires a minimum of fuel in heating because it is well insulated with an insul-bric covering. The exterior has just been painted two coats of good paint and the property is in A-1 condition throughout.

Mass Funeral Planned For 4 Mining Victims

Probe Hearing To Open This Morning

A mass funeral for four of five miners who died Thursday in a Kitzmiller coal mine disaster was set for Sunday afternoon as State Mine Inspectors opened investigation hearings this morning. The fifth victim will be buried Sunday morning.

State Mine Inspector Clyde Rowe, Westernport, said initial probing of the fan house fire, that caused smoke to be pumped into the mine and asphyxiate the five, got underway yesterday with inspection of equipment at the George Nethken Mine.

Questioning of witnesses will begin this morning at the Garrett Coal Corporation office, Kitzmiller, Rowe explained. He did not say how many persons would be quizzed but indicated Fred Burrell, man in charge of the fan house, would be among the first.

A complete transcript of the hearing along with conditions found at the mine yesterday will be forwarded to headquarters in Annapolis as soon as they are prepared, Rowe explained. He said cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

Funerals Sunday

Meanwhile families of four of the five victims prepared for a mass funeral Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with services to be conducted at the Kitzmiller Methodist Church. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows Cemetery, Elk Garden, W. Va. The four are:

Martin Keller, 60; Clarence Keller, 56; and Herman Keller, 43, all brothers who resided in Kitzmiller, and Robert Jackson, 24, also of Kitzmiller. All but Martin Keller were married men.

A service for the fifth victim, Charles Franklin Keifer, 44, Mt. Storm, W. Va., will be held in Mt. Storm Methodist Church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock with interment in Locust Cemetery.

The three brothers and Keifer were working down in the mine when the fan house fire broke out but Jackson, who was on the outside died after entering the mine in an attempt to rescue the quartet. They were all found within two minutes walking distance of the exit, Rowe said yesterday.

Men Suffocated

Mine employes on the outside of the diggings at the time of the fire said fumes from burning gasoline and ignited lumber drifted down the air shaft and suffocated the men. Mine inspectors said the men were apparently attempting to escape when overcome.

The inspectors spent yesterday making sketches of the mine and outside working, as well as inspecting equipment near and in the fan house where the fatal fire originated. The findings were not divulged last night.

Working with the state inspector and representing the Federal Bureau of Mines are William Baldwin, Thomas McDonald and W. Donald Walker, Jr., all from the Federal office in Fairmont, W. Va. Walker is a former resident of Kitzmiller.

Lumberworker Cuts Hand In Joiner

Robert Hott, Valley Road, 21-year-old Buchanan Lumber Company employe, was admitted to Memorial Hospital at about 4:30 p. m. yesterday for treatment of his right hand, cut in a joiner while he was working. He was reported in good condition.

Georgianna Sanker, two-year-old daughter of James Henry Sanker, 55, of 226 Wallace Street, was slightly hurt Wednesday in an automobile-truck collision at the intersection of Greene and Fayette Streets. She suffered a bruised left eye.

According to an accident report submitted at Police Headquarters, Sanker's car collided with a truck driven by John Robinson, 64, of 322 Bond Street. No charges were preferred.

Church To Inspect Local Rotary Club

Ernest E. Church, district governor of District No. 178, Rotary International, will make his official inspection of the Cumberland Rotary Club at the weekly dinner-meeting of the local group Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

On Tuesday night at 6:30 Church will hold a club assembly at the Cumberland Country Club for all directors and comittee chairmen. Reservations may be made with Adolf Blunk or Ralph R. Webster.

Mrs. Deming's Will Admitted To Probate

The will of Mrs. Jane Taylor Deming, wife of Dr. Herbert V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, was admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court.

Dr. Deming was named sole beneficiary and executor. The will provided that in case Dr. Deming predeceased his wife, her estate would go to Margaret Louise Sizer, a foster-daughter.

Weather

The weather became decidedly hysterical yesterday. After threatening rain and even giving 0.03 inches, it changed its mind and gave Cumberland an unexpectedly sunshiny and warm day with a maximum temperature of 70 degrees. To complicate things, the thermometer went down to 66 degrees at 5:30 p. m. and back up to 68 late last night. The overnight low was a normal enough 52 though. Just to make the whole weird thing complete, the prediction is cloudy and windy with showers and thunderstorms today. Maybe that much hoped for Indian Summer is in sight.

Town Creek Area Residents Seek Aid On Bridge

Will Ask Help From Government

Two residents of the Town Creek section appeared before the Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday to request the board to attempt to secure a bridge from the federal government for Town Creek.

The Town Creek residents, Taylor W. McLaughlin and James E. Smith, read a letter from Rep. J. Glenn Beall indicating he would determine what type of bridge the government could provide for the creek.

The commissioners instructed the county engineer to take measurements to determine what size bridge would be needed. He is scheduled to report to the board Tuesday, according to Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., board president.

Wilkinson said residents of the Town Creek area have been trying to obtain a bridge to span the creek for several years, but the cost has been prohibitive.

He pointed out that recent estimates for the project were about $12,000 for a wooden bridge and $17,000 for a steel structure.

The high figures, he said put the matter "out of the question" for a county project.

Under the present plan, the county would be required to pay only the expenses of transporting the bridge to the site and of erecting it. Wilkinson said he could give no estimate of the probable cost, but indicated it would be much cheaper than if the county had to pay the whole bill.

Recently, a 70-ton Bailey bridge was placed at Locust Grove to span Wills Creek. The bridge was procured from the federal government under the same system.

Wilkinson explained that although the bridge is not given to the county, the county is not required to purchase it, because it is loaned for an indefinite period.

After the county engineer reports to the board, Rep. Beall will be notified of his findings, Wilkinson said. The procedure then is for the County Commissioners to apply for the bridge through Rep. Beall, he said.

Chest Leaders Pay Tribute To Loyal Workers

Term Community Job "Well Done"

"The good people of Cumberland have been very generous with us this year," Henry C. Swearingen, general chairman of the 1948-49 Cumberland Community Chest, declared in a final report on the campaign which closed Thursday after raising 98 per cent of the highest peacetime budget of the Chest here.

The personnel of the various agencies, he added, are strengthened in morale to carry on effectively the good work they have been doing for the welfare of the community.

"I cannot fully express my deep appreciation to those loyal colleagues who so generously gave their time an effort to make this campaign a success. The co-operative effort expressed by all of you in this undertaking is a high example of inspiration in civic responsibility," he concluded.

Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, who headed the Residential Division, said the way women approached the task showed they were "tops" for being public spirited and community minded.

Clarence Lippel, Advance Gifts chairman, paid high tribute to "the spirit and enthusiasm" of those who took part saying it was "this spirit, and this alone," which dominated the raising of the largest amount ever obtained in a peacetime Chest campaign in Cumberland.

James W. Bishop, Classified chairman, said the entire section "did a grand piece of work" and that the securing of 7,584 subscriptions represented "sincere, earnest work from all workers of the division."

Frederick W. Eiler, Chest president, thanked the workers and contributors saying that "every day in the coming year our Chest agencies will be able to do good deeds and render much needed service because of your magnificent efforts these past weeks. $82,406 is a lot of money, and you've all worked hard to get it. I hope you will feel the satisfaction of an important job well done."

11 Out Of 12 Fail Army Physical

Eleven of the 12 men from Cumberland Board 28 sent for pre-induction examinations at the Army and Air Force recruiting and processing station definitely failed the physical examination yesterday First Lt. George J. Gocke, commanding officer, announced. One man's report was not finished.

Four also failed the mental examination.

Enlists In Navy

Wallace H. Shifflett, husband of Mrs. Veronica Shifflett, Paw Paw, W. Va., has enlisted in the Navy for three years as a seaman recruit according to Torpedoman Chief Edgar L. Schrader of the Cumberland recruiting office.

DISCUSS NUTRITION-- A two-day conference on nutrition aimed at improving the county schools' hot lunch program ended yesterday with a panel discussion. Taking part in the discussion were (left to right) Dr. E. B. McCollum, assistant professor of bio-chemistry at Johns Hopkins University; Dr. Clarence A. Velat, Nutrition Unit, U. S. Public Health Service; Miss Grace Alder, State Superintendent of Elementary Education; Dr. Betty Lockwood, Department of Nutrition, Harvard University and Miss Janet McFadden, School Lunch specialist, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Miner Injured In 1945 Dies At Vindex Home

T. H. Greaser Hurt When Coal Caved In

Theador Harmon Greaser, 27, World War II veteran, who was injured in a mining accident three days after returning to work at the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company, Vindex, after being discharged from the Army in October, 1945, died at his home in Vindex yesterday.

A son of Thomas and Anna Evans Greaser, the youthful Garrett County miner had been confined to his bed since suffering the injury. Medical officials said he received a broken back in a coal fall.

Greaser who was employed in Garrett County coal mines prior to the war, enlisted in the United States Army on May 12, 1942, and served overseas for three years. He held campaign ribbons for Normandy, France, Rhineland and Central Europe. He also received the bronze star for bravery.

Friends said yesterday that the Army veteran returned to work in the Johnstown mine shortly after being discharged at Fort George G. Meade, and three days after accepting the job was injured by a fall of coal.

Surviving besides his parents, are his widow, the former Ula Burrell, whom he married October 12, 1947, and six brothers and two sisters. They are:

Elmer Greaser and Joseph Greaser, Elk Garden, W. Va.; Raymond Greaser and George Greaser, both serving in the United States Army; Mrs. Agnes Lemaster, Star City, W. Va., and Helen Greaser, Harrison Greaser and Garland Greaser, all at home.

A funeral service will be conducted Monday afternoon.

Tenants To Hear Of Rent Petition

Even when the landlord's petition for rent increase is on the basis of hardship, all tenants affected will be given advance notice according to Walter R. Heath, area rent director of the Baltimore office.

"This procedure is to correct the impression that tenants know nothing about requests for rent increases until they are granted to their landlords," Heath said.

"Your landlord has filed a petition requesting the rent director to increase the maximum rent, alleging he has sustained a substantial hardship in the operation of the property. A preliminary review of your landlord's petition indicates that for the period covered more than his income from the property has increased. You have 10 days to present evidence or facts which you wish to have considered in this matter. Use the space below for any comments you may wish to make. Unless this form is returned with your statement within 10 days we will assume that you have no comments. If an order is issued increasing your maximum rent a copy will be mailed to you."

Heath said a similar notice, or a copy of the landlord's petition, is sent to the tenant by the rent office when the increase asked is because of an inequity, increased services, major capital improvements, or other grounds.

School Authorities Instructed In Nutrition Needs For Balanced Menu

With reports completed on what Allegany County students are getting in the way of vitamins from the Hot Lunch Program, Dr. E. B. McCollum, Johns Hopkins University, yesterday outlined the seven daily requirement for a balanced diet.

Dr. McCollum, who is assistant professor of bio-chemistery at the University, addressed Allegany County educators, at the second day of a nutrition conference aimed at improving the school cafeteria menu. Report of a two-year survey made here was given Thursday.

Forty different elements are required to build up the body, but many of the elements are needed only in small quantities, Dr. McCollum. The seven that are needed daily, she declared, are:

Caliories, protines, calcium and iron, and Vitamins A. B1 and C. These, Dr. McCollum said, form the essential requirements that must be included in the daily diet to keep children and adults up to par. A series of the foods that contain these elements was outlined by Dr. McCollum.

Other speakers at the morning session of second day of the conference were Miss Grace Alder, state supervisor of elementary education in Maryland and Mrs. Gertrude Bowie, supervisor of the Maryland school lunch program.

Both state education officials stressed the fact that the School lunch program is an essential part of education and Miss Alder declared that six things are necessary to develop a proper nutrition program in the state. They are:

1—Persons concerned with the nutrition program must know the needs of children, and the way to meet such needs.

2—Parents must co-operate with the school in developing the nutrition program.

3—Development of such a program must grow out of specific needs and interests of children.

5—Teachers and organizers must know value of food and contributions that food makes to physical well being.

6—The nutrition program must be interwoven with the entire school program and community nutrition plans.

Mrs. Bowie declared that a well planned school lunch program should contribute greatly to good food habits of the children, and would provide for desirable social habits, as well as give instruction in good sanitation habits.

A pannel discussion was held during the afternoon session with local and state educators discussin ways of incorporating the knowledge gained from the conference into practical use for the school lunch program.

Detailed planning will be undertake, here shortly with interested groups being called to meet and include the facts of the two-year survey into use for the lunch program.

Laundry Workers Reach Agreement

Local 40, United Laundry Workers, CIO, announced yesterday it has negotiated a contract covering 18 employes of the Union Laundry here and that employes of the Cumberland and Crystal Laundries have received 3 cent an hour wage increases.

The Union Laundry contract, which will be effective until August, 1949, includes a union shop clause, a four months wage reopening clause and time and one half pay after eight hours a day or 44 hours a week.

The agreement also provides five-minute wash up periods at noon and in the afternoon. Wages will range from 58 to 88 cents an hour. The contract was negotiated by Katherine Robinette, Alberta Brotemarkle and Helen Jones.

The three-cent hour wage increase was placed into effect at the Cumberland and Crystal Laundries last month under a wage reopening clause in the contract, Mrs. Bernadette Trost, president of the union, said. The increases bring the minimum wage to 66 cents an hour, she added.

Theater Leases Are Filed Here

Leases for two local theater buildings were filed for record yesterday at the clerk's office at the Court House. The leases were for the Embassy and Maryland Theaters.

The Embassy lease was made by Lena Kauffman, owner, to the Allegany Theater Company for $65,000. The lease becomes effective December 1, 1951 and expires April 30, 1958.

The Maryland lease was made by Grace M. Fisher and Frank L. Fisher, her husband, owners, to the theater company for $650,000. It became effective May 5 and will extend to May 4, 1968.

5-Month-Old Baby Has Six Teeth

John Vereco, Jr., five-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Vereco, Columbia, Pa., has an average of better than a tooth a month, his parents report.

John has an even half-dozen teeth, although he is still younger than most children are when they begin cutting teeth.

Mrs. Longwell Is Named To TB Post

The appointment of Mrs. Teresa Longwell, 203 Greene Street, as salaried executive secretary of the Allegany County Tuberculosis Association was announced yesterday by William J. Edwards, association chairman.

Mrs. Longwell will be the first person to hold the executive secretary position, which was created this year. Her appointment is retroactive to October 1.

Edwards said the duties of the executive secretary will include clerical work as well as organizational planning for the annual Christmas Seal Drive which will get underway November 22.

Mrs. Longwell is a former school teacher in Allegany County.

Radford, Va., Man Killed In Crash

HANCOCK, Md., Nov. 5 (AP)—Amos Earl Phillips, 28, Radford, Va., was killed today in an automobile accident on the bridge across the Potomac River here.

His wife, Lera C. Phillips, 21, was critically injured. She was taken to Washington County Hospital at Hagerstown, for treatment.

"Mike" Bedene Was A Retired Miner

Michael J. Bedene, 66, retired Kitzmiller coal miner, was found dead in the back yard of his home, Main Street, Kitzmiller, at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Popularly known as "Mike" Bedene, he had been a resident of Kitzmiller for a number of years, was unmarried and had no known relatives in this section. Authorities attributed death to a heart ailment.

According to residents of the community, the body was discovered by George Pugh, a next door neighbor. Mrs. Pugh said she heard Mr. Bedene leave his house, where he lived alone, at about 7:30 p. m. Thursday, but did not hear him return.

Bedene was an Austrian, born in Austria September 17, 1882. He became a naturalized American citizen September 14, 1931, was a member of Mt. Bethel Methodist Church, Kitzmiller, and Lovene National Benefit Society No. 243, Frostburg.

Sheriff Juniper Teats and Deputy Sheriff Fisher, Oakland, were notified and along with Dr. Thomas Lusby, Oakland, deputy county medical examiner, conducted an inquiry.

Dr. Lusby said the man had been dead several hours and attributed death due to a heart attack or heart ailmnet.

The body was removed to the Sharpless Funeral Home, pending funeral services which probably will be held Monday.

Local authorities believe Bedene may have been a relative of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Straw, formerly of Kitzmiller. The Straw family now resides in Spokane, Wash., and have been notified.

Third Youth Joins Marines For Year

Robert D. Cunningham, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Cunningham, 413 Race Street, became the third youth to join the Marine Corps for one year at the local recruiting station, when he entered the service Tuesday, it was reported by T-Sgt. Vernon B. Debnam, local recruiter.

Debnam said one-year enlistments can still be accepted. The applicants, he said, can not always be enlisted immediately, but may have to be placed on a waiting list due to the monthly quota system for enlistments.

Cunningham, Debnam said, has been sent to Parris Island, S. C., for recruit training.

Local Briefs

Frank Orbello, this city, received a favorable verdict yesterday from a jury in Circuit Court in his suit against the William Paca Lodge over payment for a beer cooler. The jury found for Orbello in the sum of $450.

The official board meeting of Davis Memorial Methodist Church, Uhl Highway, will be held next Thursday at 7:30 p. m., according to Rev. Charles S. Reckley, pastor.

A regular membership meeting of Kelly Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, CIO, will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the union hall.

East Side Fire Company answered a false alarm at Shawnee Avenue and Holland Streets last night at 9:49 o'clock.

Noted Obstetricians Will Address Allegany-Garrett Medical Society

Cancer Detection Expert To Speak

Dr. Andrew A. Marchetti and Dr. John W. Walsh, members of the faculty of Georgetown University School of Medicine, will discuss the pre and post natal care of the young woman having her first baby at a dinner meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Association, November 18 at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mr. Marchetti, professor of obstetrics and gynecology and head of the department at Georgetown University School of Medicine, was instrumental in developing the latest technique for the detection of cancer in its earlier stage.

A native of Richmond, Va., he graduated from University of Richmond before obtaining his medical degree from Johns Hopkins. During the course of his training, he interned at Hopkins and held residencies at University of Rochester, University of Cincinnati and ultimately became Dr. H. J. Stander's first resident on obstetrics and gynecology at Cornell Medical School in 1932.

DR. JOHN W. WALSH

DR. ANDREW A. MARCHETTI

From 1932 to 1947, Dr. Marchetti advanced to the post of associate professor in his field at Cornell and on July 1, 1947, was called to Washington to assume his present post at Georgetown.

Dr. Walsh is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. He obtained his medical degree from Long Island College of Medicine in Brooklyn following training in St. Johns University in that city. His residency in obstetrics and gynecology was completed at New York Lying-In Hospital of Cornell University Medical School under Dr. Stander in 1943.

He then entered the armed services of his country as a general surgeon with the 56th General Hospital.

Dr. Walsh saw action in the European Theater of Operations and was honorably discharged with the rank of major in 1946. He is now practicing his specialty in Washington and is on the faculty of Georgetown University School of Medicine.

Gallup Not Only Man Who Missed

The 1948 Presidential election is over even down to the official counting of ballots. With the standings still showing President Truman the winner it's time to pay off those election bets.

That is what E. T. Hartsock, Oldtown Road, was doing last night when he pushed Wilbur Nixon, Oldtown, down Baltimore Street from the Baltimore and Ohio crossing to the Western Maryland crossing.

"We made the bet way back in April, even before the party candidates were chosen," Nixon said, as he puffed on a cigar and rode leisurely on the hand truck that Hartsock "manpowered" down street. Nixon of course waged his bet on the Democratic Party.

What did Mr. Hartsock think? "Lt. Lilya of the Traffic Division is doing a swell job. There wasn't a bit of congestion from one end of Baltimore Street to the other."

Jay Bechtol To Address Boys' 4-H Federation

Banquet Will Be Held November 23

Jay Bechtol, WTBO sportscaster, will be guest speaker at the annual banquet of the 4-H Boys' Clubs Federation November 23 at St. Luke's Lutheran Church, it was announced last night at a meeting of the federation at the home of Joseph M. Steger, assistant county agent.

Fred Miltenberg, a member of the Dairy Calf Club, will give the invocation and Floyd Ryan, of the Union Grove Club, will be songleader.

It was also decided last night that nomination of club officers would be assigned to a nominating committee composed of club leaders. The leaders are Dr. C. N. Foose, leader of the LaVale club; William Shumaker, leader of the Rawlings club and Roy Shryock, Oldtown leader. Steger will work with the committee.

Steger also reported last night that the Flintstone senior and junior club members will meet Tuesday. The junior meeting is scheduled for 3:45 p. m. at Flintstone School and the seniors will meet at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland, school principal and 4-H leader.

Voters Approve Annexation Law

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5. — (AP) — A Maryland constitutional amendment designed to make it harder for cities and counties to expand apparently was passed instead of defeated as indicated in first unofficial returns of Tuesday's voting.

Official complete returns today from Baltimore County reversed sharply the trend on the annexation amendment. The home county of the amendment's sponsor, Sen. William P. Bolton, gave the proposal a 5 to 1 margin.

The official Baltimore County vote was 51,889 for the measure and 9,722 against it. Before that the state count was 85,791 to 79,024 against passage.

The incomplete state-wide count now is 130,913 for the amendment and 95,513 against. It had been the only negative vote recorded for seven amendments balloted on Tuesday.

The amendment changes the procedure for annexation of territory by requiring approval of a majority of all registered voters instead of a simple plurality of the ballots cast.

Sister Angela Is Acting Head At Allegany Hospital

While at the Buffalo Hospital, Sister Angela was personnel director for several months having been administrator of Troy Hospital, Troy, N. Y., for six years. Prior to that, she was adminisrtator of St. Vincent's Hospital, Jacksonville, Fla., where she received her training.

Sister Vincent Marie had been superintendent since 1945. She had been on the hospital staff for about a year six years ago also, and had served in Sisters of Charity Hospitals in Jacksonville, Fla.; Pensacola, Fla.; Baltimore and Buffalo, N. Y.

Divorce Granted

Frank W. Goodrich received an absolute divorce from Virginia M. Goodrich in Curcuit Court yesterday.

Clerk Identifies James Oliver Kent

The missing half of a bandit team that engaged two Baltimore policemen in a gunfight Wednesday is being sought here in connection with the armed holdup Monday of Martins' Liquor Store, 15 Baltimore Street.

The liquor store clerk, Philip Becker, yesterday identified a photograph of James Oliver Kent, 22, former resident, as the man who took $115 from a cash register at gun point. Kent's accomplice has not been positively identified, police said.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said pictures of Kent were forwarded here from the Baltimore Police Department, which is seeking Kent in connection with two armed holdups in Baltimore.

Local police later identified Kent as a former prisoner but said he was known by the alias of Calvin Jacob Ashburgh. He is a native of Montua, Ohio.

The gunfight with Baltimore police occurred as officers there sought

a pair of bandits who held up two drug stores within an hour. Kent's accomplice later identified as William J. Rinker, address unknown, was wounded twice by police in the fight. He is now under police guard in Baltimore.

Chief Flynn said Rinker has not been identified as the man who accompanied Kent when he stuckup the liquor store here Monday. Baltimore police reported, however, that Rinker admitted being in Cumberland with Kent. He was not quizzed about the local holdup.

Detective Thomas J. See said Kent was first arrested here in May, 1943, but declared his police record goes back to January, 1942. He was arrested on a delinquency charge at that time in Ohio.

The fugitive, according to police records, has served time on a Georgia chain gang, in Maryland Penitentiary and in Ohio industrial schools. He escaped twice from Ohio institutions, according to his record.

Kent fled from the scene of the gunfight in Baltimore after Rinker was wounded. Baltimore authorities reported that Rinker was clutching a $100 bill in his hand as he was shot down.

Kent and his accomplice were last seen here as they fled down Canal Street after the holdup in Martin's Liquor Store. The fugitive is being sought in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and this state, with descriptions of him being broadcasted by Maryland State Police.

Chief Flynn said photographs of Rinker are expected here from Baltimore to determine if Rinker is the other man involved in the local stickup.

"Meanest Thief" Steals Tub And Wash

Rubbing a tough break in is considered discourtious, but stealing the tub to do it with is an act that is yet to be defined by etiquette authorities.

Police received a report yesterday from Edwin Gelletly, 1041 Myrtle Street, that a complete wash had been stolen from the line between 7 p. m. Thursday and 7 a. m. yesterday.

Investigating authorities opened the case in the usual manner of listing the missing items: "2 bed sheets, several shirts, and sport shirts, four pair of men' socks, and considerable children's underware.

The last item listed was the "tub in which the washing was done." It's a dirty trick stealing a clean wash and then taking the tub too, an investigator said.

Ridgeley Legion Will March In Parade

Knobley Mountain Post No. 126, American Legion, Ridgeley, will participate in the seven-division Armistice Day parade planned here November 11.

Officials said the parade will form at the Maryland State Armory area at 7 p. m. and will march off at 7:30 p. m.

S. A. Board To Meet

The Salvation Army Advisory Board will meet next Wednesday at 12:15 p. m. in the Salvation Army Citadel, it was announced yesterday.

Memorial Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brenneman, Cresaptown, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wright, 116 North Smallwood Street, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Monahan, 226 Valley Street, a son.

Allegany Hospital announced the following births yesterday:

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Boor, Yost Avenue, a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Zembower, Route 3, this city, a daughter Thursday.

Mass Funeral Planned For 4 Mining Victims

Probe Hearing To Open This Morning

A mass funeral for four of five miners who died Thursday in a Kitzmiller coal mine disaster was set for Sunday afternoon as State Mine Inspectors opened investigation hearings this morning. The fifth victim will be buried Sunday morning.

State Mine Inspector Clyde Rowe, Westernport, said initial probing of the fan house fire, that caused smoke to be pumped into the mine and asphyxiate the five, got underway yesterday with inspection of equipment at the George Nethken Mine.

Questioning of witnesses will begin this morning at the Garrett Coal Corporation office, Kitzmiller, Rowe explained. He did not say how many persons would be quizzed but indicated Fred Burrell, man in charge of the fan house, would be among the first.

A complete transcript of the hearing along with conditions found at the mine yesterday will be forwarded to headquarters in Annapolis as soon as they are prepared, Rowe explained. He said cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

Funerals Sunday

Meanwhile families of four of the five victims prepared for a mass funeral Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with services to be conducted at the Kitzmiller Methodist Church. Interment will be in the Odd Fellows Cemetery, Elk Garden, W. Va. The four are:

Martin Keller, 60; Clarence Keller, 56; and Herman Keller, 43, all brothers who resided in Kitzmiller, and Robert Jackson, 24, also of Kitzmiller. All but Martin Keller were married men.

A service for the fifth victim, Charles Franklin Keifer, 44, Mt. Storm, W. Va., will be held in Mt. Storm Methodist Church Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock with interment in Locust Cemetery.

The three brothers and Keifer were working down in the mine when the fan house fire broke out but Jackson, who was on the outside died after entering the mine in an attempt to rescue the quartet. They were all found within two minutes walking distance of the exit, Rowe said yesterday.

Men Suffocated

Mine employes on the outside of the diggings at the time of the fire said fumes from burning gasoline and ignited lumber drifted down the air shaft and suffocated the men. Mine inspectors said the men were apparently attempting to escape when overcome.

The inspectors spent yesterday making sketches of the mine and outside working, as well as inspecting equipment near and in the fan house where the fatal fire originated. The findings were not divulged last night.

Working with the state inspector and representing the Federal Bureau of Mines are William Baldwin, Thomas McDonald and W. Donald Walker, Jr., all from the Federal office in Fairmont, W. Va. Walker is a former resident of Kitzmiller.

Lumberworker Cuts Hand In Joiner

Robert Hott, Valley Road, 21-year-old Buchanan Lumber Company employe, was admitted to Memorial Hospital at about 4:30 p. m. yesterday for treatment of his right hand, cut in a joiner while he was working. He was reported in good condition.

Georgianna Sanker, two-year-old daughter of James Henry Sanker, 55, of 226 Wallace Street, was slightly hurt Wednesday in an automobile-truck collision at the intersection of Greene and Fayette Streets. She suffered a bruised left eye.

According to an accident report submitted at Police Headquarters, Sanker's car collided with a truck driven by John Robinson, 64, of 322 Bond Street. No charges were preferred.

Church To Inspect Local Rotary Club

Ernest E. Church, district governor of District No. 178, Rotary International, will make his official inspection of the Cumberland Rotary Club at the weekly dinner-meeting of the local group Tuesday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

On Tuesday night at 6:30 Church will hold a club assembly at the Cumberland Country Club for all directors and comittee chairmen. Reservations may be made with Adolf Blunk or Ralph R. Webster.

Mrs. Deming's Will Admitted To Probate

The will of Mrs. Jane Taylor Deming, wife of Dr. Herbert V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, was admitted to probate yesterday in Orphans Court.

Dr. Deming was named sole beneficiary and executor. The will provided that in case Dr. Deming predeceased his wife, her estate would go to Margaret Louise Sizer, a foster-daughter.

Weather

The weather became decidedly hysterical yesterday. After threatening rain and even giving 0.03 inches, it changed its mind and gave Cumberland an unexpectedly sunshiny and warm day with a maximum temperature of 70 degrees. To complicate things, the thermometer went down to 66 degrees at 5:30 p. m. and back up to 68 late last night. The overnight low was a normal enough 52 though. Just to make the whole weird thing complete, the prediction is cloudy and windy with showers and thunderstorms today. Maybe that much hoped for Indian Summer is in sight.

Town Creek Area Residents Seek Aid On Bridge

Will Ask Help From Government

Two residents of the Town Creek section appeared before the Board of Allegany County Commissioners yesterday to request the board to attempt to secure a bridge from the federal government for Town Creek.

The Town Creek residents, Taylor W. McLaughlin and James E. Smith, read a letter from Rep. J. Glenn Beall indicating he would determine what type of bridge the government could provide for the creek.

The commissioners instructed the county engineer to take measurements to determine what size bridge would be needed. He is scheduled to report to the board Tuesday, according to Charles N. Wilkinson, Jr., board president.

Wilkinson said residents of the Town Creek area have been trying to obtain a bridge to span the creek for several years, but the cost has been prohibitive.

He pointed out that recent estimates for the project were about $12,000 for a wooden bridge and $17,000 for a steel structure.

The high figures, he said put the matter "out of the question" for a county project.

Under the present plan, the county would be required to pay only the expenses of transporting the bridge to the site and of erecting it. Wilkinson said he could give no estimate of the probable cost, but indicated it would be much cheaper than if the county had to pay the whole bill.

Recently, a 70-ton Bailey bridge was placed at Locust Grove to span Wills Creek. The bridge was procured from the federal government under the same system.

Wilkinson explained that although the bridge is not given to the county, the county is not required to purchase it, because it is loaned for an indefinite period.

After the county engineer reports to the board, Rep. Beall will be notified of his findings, Wilkinson said. The procedure then is for the County Commissioners to apply for the bridge through Rep. Beall, he said.

Chest Leaders Pay Tribute To Loyal Workers

Term Community Job "Well Done"

"The good people of Cumberland have been very generous with us this year," Henry C. Swearingen, general chairman of the 1948-49 Cumberland Community Chest, declared in a final report on the campaign which closed Thursday after raising 98 per cent of the highest peacetime budget of the Chest here.

The personnel of the various agencies, he added, are strengthened in morale to carry on effectively the good work they have been doing for the welfare of the community.

"I cannot fully express my deep appreciation to those loyal colleagues who so generously gave their time an effort to make this campaign a success. The co-operative effort expressed by all of you in this undertaking is a high example of inspiration in civic responsibility," he concluded.

Division chairmen added their thanks to the hundreds of loyal workers who aided in the difficult campaign.

Mrs. Arthur C. Bright, who headed the Residential Division, said the way women approached the task showed they were "tops" for being public spirited and community minded.

Clarence Lippel, Advance Gifts chairman, paid high tribute to "the spirit and enthusiasm" of those who took part saying it was "this spirit, and this alone," which dominated the raising of the largest amount ever obtained in a peacetime Chest campaign in Cumberland.

James W. Bishop, Classified chairman, said the entire section "did a grand piece of work" and that the securing of 7,584 subscriptions represented "sincere, earnest work from all workers of the division."

Frederick W. Eiler, Chest president, thanked the workers and contributors saying that "every day in the coming year our Chest agencies will be able to do good deeds and render much needed service because of your magnificent efforts these past weeks. $82,406 is a lot of money, and you've all worked hard to get it. I hope you will feel the satisfaction of an important job well done."

11 Out Of 12 Fail Army Physical

Eleven of the 12 men from Cumberland Board 28 sent for pre-induction examinations at the Army and Air Force recruiting and processing station definitely failed the physical examination yesterday First Lt. George J. Gocke, commanding officer, announced. One man's report was not finished.

Four also failed the mental examination.

T. H. Greaser Hurt When Coal Caved In

Theador Harmon Greaser, 27, World War II veteran, who was injured in a mining accident three days after returning to work at the Johnstown Coal and Coke Company, Vindex, after being discharged from the Army in October, 1945, died at his home in Vindex yesterday.

A son of Thomas and Anna Evans Greaser, the youthful Garrett County miner had been confined to his bed since suffering the injury. Medical officials said he received a broken back in a coal fall.

Greaser who was employed in Garrett County coal mines prior to the war, enlisted in the United States Army on May 12, 1942, and served overseas for three years. He held campaign ribbons for Normandy, France, Rhineland and Central Europe. He also received the bronze star for bravery.

Friends said yesterday that the Army veteran returned to work in the Johnstown mine shortly after being discharged at Fort George G. Meade, and three days after accepting the job was injured by a fall of coal.

Surviving besides his parents, are his widow, the former Ula Burrell, whom he married October 12, 1947, and six brothers and two sisters. They are:

Elmer Greaser and Joseph Greaser, Elk Garden, W. Va.; Raymond Greaser and George Greaser, both serving in the United States Army; Mrs. Agnes Lemaster, Star City, W. Va., and Helen Greaser, Harrison Greaser and Garland Greaser, all at home.

A funeral service will be conducted Monday afternoon.

Tenants To Hear Of Rent Petition

Even when the landlord's petition for rent increase is on the basis of hardship, all tenants affected will be given advance notice according to Walter R. Heath, area rent director of the Baltimore office.

"This procedure is to correct the impression that tenants know nothing about requests for rent increases until they are granted to their landlords," Heath said.

Where the increase is sought on the grounds of hardship the tenant receives notice as follows:

"Your landlord has filed a petition requesting the rent director to increase the maximum rent, alleging he has sustained a substantial hardship in the operation of the property. A preliminary review of your landlord's petition indicates that for the period covered more than his income from the property has increased. You have 10 days to present evidence or facts which you wish to have considered in this matter. Use the space below for any comments you may wish to make. Unless this form is returned with your statement within 10 days we will assume that you have no comments. If an order is issued increasing your maximum rent a copy will be mailed to you."

Heath said a similar notice, or a copy of the landlord's petition, is sent to the tenant by the rent office when the increase asked is because of an inequity, increased services, major capital improvements, or other grounds.

School Authorities Instructed In Nutrition Needs For Balanced Menu

With reports completed on what Allegany County students are getting in the way of vitamins from the Hot Lunch Program, Dr. E. B. McCollum, Johns Hopkins University, yesterday outlined the seven daily requirement for a balanced diet.

Dr. McCollum, who is assistant professor of bio-chemistery at the University, addressed Allegany County educators, at the second day of a nutrition conference aimed at improving the school cafeteria menu. Report of a two-year survey made here was given Thursday.

Forty different elements are required to build up the body, but many of the elements are needed only in small quantities, Dr. McCollum. The seven that are needed daily, she declared, are:

Caliories, protines, calcium and iron, and Vitamins A. B1 and C. These, Dr. McCollum said, form the essential requirements that must be included in the daily diet to keep children and adults up to par. A series of the foods that contain these elements was outlined by Dr. McCollum.

Other speakers at the morning session of second day of the conference were Miss Grace Alder, state supervisor of elementary education in Maryland and Mrs. Gertrude Bowie, supervisor of the Maryland school lunch program.

Both state education officials stressed the fact that the School lunch program is an essential part of education and Miss Alder declared that six things are necessary to develop a proper nutrition program in the state. They are:

1—Persons concerned with the nutrition program must know the needs of children, and the way to meet such needs.

2—Parents must co-operate with the school in developing the nutrition program.

3—Development of such a program must grow out of specific needs and interests of children.

4—The organizers must know how children learn and are developed.

5—Teachers and organizers must know value of food and contributions that food makes to physical well beihg.

6—The nutrition program must be interwoven with the entire school program and community nutrition plans.

Mrs. Bowie declared that a well planned school lunch program should contribute greatly to good food habits of the children, and would provide for desirable social habits, as well as give instruction in good sanitation habits.

A pannel discussion was held during the afternoon session with local and state educators discussin ways of incorporating the knowledge gained from the conference into practical use for the school lunch program.

Detailed planning will be undertake, here shortly with interested groups being called to meet and include the facts of the two-year survey into use for the lunch program.

Laundry Workers Reach Agreement

Local 40, United Laundry Workers, CIO, announced yesterday it has negotiated a contract covering 18 employes of the Union Laundry here and that employes of the Cumberland and Crystal Laundries have received 3 cent an hour wage increases.

The Union Laundry contract, which will be effective until August, 1949, includes a union shop clause, a four months wage reopening clause and time and one half pay after eight hours a day or 44 hours a week.

The agreement also provides five-minute wash up periods at noon and in the afternoon. Wages will range from 58 to 88 cents an hour. The contract was negotiated by Katherine Robinette, Alberta Brotemarkle and Helen Jones.

The three-cent hour wage increase was placed into effect at the Cumberland and Crystal Laundries last month under a wage reopening clause in the contract, Mrs. Bernadette Trost, president of the union, said. The increases bring the minimum wage to 66 cents an hour, she added.

Theater Leases Are Filed Here

Leases for two local theater buildings were filed for record yesterday at the clerk's office at the Court House. The leases were for the Embassy and Maryland Theaters.

The Embassy lease was made by Lena Kauffman, owner, to the Allegany Theater Company for $65,000. The lease becomes effective December 1, 1951 and expires April 30, 1958.

The Maryland lease was made by Grace M. Fisher and Frank L. Fisher, her husband, owners, to the theater company for $650,000. It became effective May 5 and will extend to May 4, 1968.

Kitzmiller Man Found Dead In His Back Yard

"Mike" Bedene Was A Retired Miner

Michael J. Bedene, 66, retired Kitzmiller coal miner, was found dead in the back yard of his home, Main Street, Kitzmiller, at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Popularly known as "Mike" Bedene, he had been a resident of Kitzmiller for a number of years, was unmarried and had no known relatives in this section. Authorities attributed death to a heart ailment.

According to residents of the community, the body was discovered by George Pugh, a next door neighbor. Mrs. Pugh said she heard Mr. Bedene leave his house, where he lived alone, at about 7:30 p. m. Thursday, but did not hear him return.

Bedene was an Austrian, born in Austria September 17, 1882. He became a naturalized American citizen September 14, 1931, was a member of Mt. Bethel Methodist Church, Kitzmiller, and Lovene National Benefit Society No. 243, Frostburg.

Sheriff Juniper Teats and Deputy Sheriff Fisher, Oakland, were notified and along with Dr. Thomas Lusby, Oakland, deputy county medical examiner, conducted an inquiry.

Dr. Lusby said the man had been dead several hours and attributed death due to a heart attack or heart ailmnet.

The body was removed to the Sharpless Funeral Home, pending funeral services which probably will be held Monday.

Local authorities believe Bedene may have been a relative of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Straw, formerly of Kitzmiller. The Straw family now resides in Spokane, Wash., and have been notified.

Third Youth Joins Marines For Year

Robert D. Cunningham, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Cunningham, 413 Race Street, became the third youth to join the Marine Corps for one year at the local recruiting station, when he entered the service Tuesday, it was reported by T-Sgt. Vernon B. Debnam, local recruiter.

Debnam said one-year enlistments can still be accepted. The applicants, he said, can not always be enlisted immediately, but may have to be placed on a waiting list due to the monthly quota system for enlistments.

Cunningham, Debnam said, has been sent to Parris Island, S. C., for recruit training.

Noted Obstetricians Will Address Allegany-Garrett Medical Society

Cancer Detection Expert To Speak

Dr. Andrew A. Marchetti and Dr. John W. Walsh, members of the faculty of Georgetown University School of Medicine, will discuss the pre and post natal care of the young woman having her first baby at a dinner meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Association, November 18 at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Mr. Marchetti, professor of obstetrics and gynecology and head of the department at Georgetown University School of Medicine, was instrumental in developing the latest technique for the detection of cancer in its earlier stage.

A native of Richmond, Va., he graduated from University of Richmond before obtaining his medical degree from Johns Hopkins. During the course of his training, he interned at Hopkins and held residencies at University of Rochester, University of Cincinnati and ultimately became Dr. H. J. Stander's first resident on obstetrics and gynecology at Cornell Medical School in 1932.

From 1932 to 1947, Dr. Marchetti advanced to the post of associate professor in his field at Cornell and on July 1, 1947, was called to Washington to assume his present post at Georgetown.

Dr. Walsh is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. He obtained his medical degree from Long Island College of Medicine in Brooklyn following training in St. Johns University in that city. His residency in obstetrics and gynecology was completed at New York Lying-In Hospital of Cornell University Medical School under Dr. Stander in 1943.

He then entered the armed services of his country as a general surgeon with the 56th General Hospital.

Dr. Walsh saw action in the European Theater of Operations and was honorably discharged with the rank of major in 1946. He is now practicing his specialty in Washington and is on the faculty of Georgetown University School of Medicine.

Gallup Not Only Man Who Missed

The 1948 Presidential election is over even down to the official counting of ballots. With the standings still showing President Truman the winner it's time to pay off those election bets.

That is what E. T. Hartsock, Oldtown Road, was doing last night when he pushed Wilbur Nixon, Oldtown, down Baltimore Street from the Baltimore and Ohio crossing to the Western Maryland crossing.

"We made the bet way back in April, even before the party candidates were chosen," Nixon said, as he puffed on a cigar and rode leisurely on the hand truck that Hartsock "manpowered" down street. Nixon of course waged his bet on the Democratic Party.

What did Mr. Hartsock think? "Lt. Lilya of the Traffic Division is doing a swell job. There wasn't a bit of congestion from one end of Baltimore Street to the other."

Jay Bechtol To Address Boys' 4-H Federation

Banquet Will Be Held November 23

Jay Bechtol, WTBO sportscaster, will be guest speaker at the annual banquet of the 4-H Boys' Clubs Federation November 23 at St. Luke's Lutheran Church, it was announced last night at a meeting of the federation at the home of Joseph M. Steger, assistant county agent.

Fred Miltenberg, a member of the Dairy Calf Club, will give the invocation and Floyd Ryan, of the Union Grove Club, will be songleader.

James Smith and Ted Puffenberger of the Piney Plains club will give a demonstration on proper maintenance of air cleaners on farm tractors. They gave a similar demonstration at the State Fair at Timonium this year and won first prize in their class.

It was also decided last night that nomination of club officers would be assigned to a nominating committee composed of club leaders. The leaders are Dr. C. N. Foose, leader of the LaVale club; William Shumaker, leader of the Rawlings club and Roy Shryock, Oldtown leader. Steger will work with the committee.

Thirteen members attended the meeting.

Steger also reported last night that the Flintstone senior and junior club members will meet Tuesday. The junior meeting is scheduled for 3:45 p. m. at Flintstone School and the seniors will meet at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Elsie Hill Roland, school principal and 4-H leader.

Voters Approve Annexation Law

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5. — (AP) — A Maryland constitutional amendment designed to make it harder for cities and counties to expand apparently was passed instead of defeated as indicated in first unofficial returns of Tuesday's voting.

Official complete returns today from Baltimore County reversed sharply the trend on the annexation amendment. The home county of the amendment's sponsor, Sen. William P. Bolton, gave the proposal a 5 to 1 margin.

The official Baltimore County vote was 51,889 for the measure and 9,722 against it. Before that the state count was 85,791 to 79,024 against passage.

The incomplete state-wide count now is 130,913 for the amendment and 95,513 against. It had been the only negative vote recorded for seven amendments balloted on Tuesday.

The count includes official tabulations for Allegany, Anne Arundel, Carroll, Cecil, Frederick, Garrett, Kent, Somerset, Washington, Wicomic, Montgomery, and Prince George Counties.

The amendment changes the procedure for annexation of territory by requiring approval of a majority of all registered voters instead of a simple plurality of the ballots cast.

Sister Angela Is Acting Head At Allegany Hospital

While at the Buffalo Hospital, Sister Angela was personnel director for several months having been administrator of Troy Hospital, Troy, N. Y., for six years. Prior to that, she was adminisrtator of St. Vincent's Hospital, Jacksonville, Fla., where she received her training.

Sister Vincent Marie had been superintendent since 1945. She had been on the hospital staff for about a year six years ago also, and had served in Sisters of Charity Hospitals in Jacksonville, Fla.; Pensacola, Fla.; Baltimore and Buffalo, N. Y.

Frank W. Goodrich received an absolute divorce from Virginia M. Goodrich in Curcuit Court yesterday.

Clerk Identifies James Oliver Kent

The missing half of a bandit team that engaged two Baltimore policemen in a gunfight Wednesday is being sought here in connection with the armed holdup Monday of Martins' Liquor Store, 15 Baltimore Street.

The liquor store clerk, Philip Becker, yesterday identified a photograph of James Oliver Kent, 22, former resident, as the man who took $115 from a cash register at gun point. Kent's accomplice has not been positively identified, police said.

Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn said pictures of Kent were forwarded here from the Baltimore Police Department, which is seeking Kent in connection with two armed holdups in Baltimore.

Local police later identified Kent as a former prisoner but said he was known by the alias of Calvin Jacob Ashburgh. He is a native of Montua, Ohio.

The gunfight with Baltimore police occurred as officers there sought

a pair of bandits who held up two drug stores within an hour. Kent's accomplice later identified as William J. Rinker, address unknown, was wounded twice by police in the fight. He is now under police guard in Baltimore.

Chief Flynn said Rinker has not been identified as the man who accompanied Kent when he stuckup the liquor store here Monday. Baltimore police reported, however, that Rinker admitted being in Cumberland with Kent. He was not quizzed about the local holdup.

Detective Thomas J. See said Kent was first arrested here in May, 1943, but declared his police record goes back to January, 1942. He was arrested on a delinquency charge at that time in Ohio.

The fugitive, according to police records, has served time on a Georgia chain gang, in Maryland Penitentiary and in Ohio industrial schools. He escaped twice from Ohio institutions, according to his record.

Kent fled from the scene of the gunfight in Baltimore after Rinker was wounded. Baltimore authorities reported that Rinker was clutching a $100 bill in his hand as he was shot down.

Kent and his accomplice were last seen here as they fled down Canal Street after the holdup in Martin's Liquor Store. The fugitive is being sought in West Virginia, Pennsylvania and this state, with descriptions of him being broadcasted by Maryland State Police.

Chief Flynn said photographs of Rinker are expected here from Baltimore to determine if Rinker is the other man involved in the local stickup.

"Meanest Thief" Steals Tub And Wash

Rubbing a tough break in is considered discourtious, but stealing the tub to do it with is an act that is yet to be defined by etiquette authorities.

Police received a report yesterday from Edwin Gelletly, 1041 Myrtle Street, that a complete wash had been stolen from the line between 7 p. m. Thursday and 7 a. m. yesterday.

Investigating authorities opened the case in the usual manner of listing the missing items: "2 bed sheets, several shirts, and sport shirts, four pair of men' socks, and considerable children's underware.

The last item listed was the "tub in which the washing was done." It's a dirty trick stealing a clean wash and then taking the tub too, an investigator said.
